

Music at Yuletide

What could be conducive of more genuine merriment at the joyous season of Christmas than the choice of all the best instrumental music of the world? Music! The one thing inseparable from the informal jollity of the Yuletide gathering—the one thing which promotes the spirit of the occasion.

The Pianola Confers the Gift of Music

With the expression devices of the Pianola, the most inexperienced can artistically play any of the music of the world's greatest artists.

The technique of a Liszt, of a Rosenthal is yours, scarcely without knowledge of the music.

Exclusive Pianola expression devices, provide the means for securing every variation, expression and effect made possible by hand playing.

The wonderful Metrostyle, the carefully prepared rolls, lead the way to a correct, satisfactory interpretation of any selection.

Can a more gratifying gift to the family be imagined than that which will place within the reach of every member of the household, the gift without price, without limit of enjoyment—the gift of music?

Upon any of these instruments we will grant you the privilege of convenient terms of payment. Hear any or all of them in our warehouses.

Player-pianos, so-called, are not Pianolas. There is but one Pianola. It is made exclusively by The Aeolian Company, and is obtainable in the following models only:

- The Steinway Pianola
- The Steck Pianola
- The Wheelock Pianola
- The Stuyvesant Pianola
- The Stroud Pianola
- The Famous Weber Pianola

CAROL SINGERS TO VISIT SICK FOLKS

Derry Street U. B. Organization Will Go About Allison Hill Early Christmas Morning

The Christmas Carol Singers of Derry Street United Brethren Church will sing the old favorites again this year throughout the Hill district. Announcement was made yesterday in the Derry Street Sunday school services that the carol singers will pay particular attention to the sick this year, visiting all homes where people are lying ill.

The singers will go about the Hill this year in three automobiles. In years past the scores or more men who belong to the organization have tramped the streets singing "Joy to the World," "Hark, Hark, the Angels Sing," and "Crown Him Lord of All," but the number of requests for visitations are so many this year that it was decided machines would have to be used to get around.

The carol singers will practice tomorrow evening in the Men's Bible Class rooms.

The Derry Street Church is planning a morning Christmas service to begin promptly at 10 and to last one hour. The Rev. J. A. Lyter, pastor, will speak and the choir will sing.

Next Sunday the Derry Street Church services will be as usual, with preaching in the morning and evening at 10.30 and 7.30; Sunday school in the afternoon at 2; and Christian Endeavor services in the evening at 6.30. Special efforts will be made by the Sunday school next week to bring in new members. The event will be called a "Home-coming Sunday" and all old members who have been absent will be visited by the various class membership committees.

The Men's Bible Class, taught by H. O. Cams and F. Beckley, will make efforts to have every one of its 300 members at the service.

Surprise the Rev. Mr. Bullitt. Many members of the Alricks Association attended services yesterday morning at St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal Church to welcome the Rev. James F. Bullitt back to his duties as rector of the parish and to give thanks for his recovery from his recent illness.

The Rev. Mr. Bullitt is one of the clergymen and his fellow-members surprised him by being present at his services. Mr. Bullitt was able to take only a small part in the service and last evening was not present at all, evening prayer being conducted by the Rev. Rollin A. Sawyer. Mr. Bullitt expects, however, to take full part in all of the Christmas activities in the parish and to resume his general pastoral work during Christmas.

Christmas at St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal parish for its busy pre-Christmas season, and celebrations will be held in the parish house at Nineteenth and Market streets to-morrow and Wednesday, in addition to the church services on the Feast of the Nativity itself. St. Andrew's school and kindergarten under the supervision of Mrs. Bullitt will hold sessions in the parish house to-morrow at 9.30 o'clock in the morning and the pupils all have asked their parents and friends to be present. It will be the third annual program of this kind. The school pupils will be in charge of their teacher, Mrs. Marie Getter.

The parish Christmas festival will be held Wednesday evening, starting at 5.20 o'clock; at this hour all those present will be guests of the Rev. Mr. Bullitt in the assembly room. At 7 o'clock the Christmas service will be held in the chapel, the Sunday school marching in behind the church choir. After the service supper will be served to all those who could not be present before the service.

FOUR MORE DAYS OF RED CROSS CRUSADE

Merchants' Day Series Will Close Thursday—Final List Announced

From 16,000 to 18,000 Red Cross Christmas seals will be disposed of by the merchants and dairymen of the city alone, it is expected, as a result of the "Merchants' Day" end of the crusade.

To-day letters will be sent out to every milk dealer asking co-operation in the plan to have each one paste a seal or two on every bottle of milk he delivers on Christmas morning.

The city merchants who will participate in the last of the series of "merchant days" were announced to-day by Scoutmaster Edward Manser. The shoe dealers, hardware and sporting goods stores pasted up the seals to-day, the cigar dealers will do business to-morrow, the confectioners and bakers Wednesday, and the furniture dealers will close the campaign Thursday. Following are those who will take part:

Shoe Dealers—D. P. Jerauld, W. F. Paul, J. F. Shorb, C. J. Crego, Walker Boot Shop.

Bakers—J. H. Thorne's tea room. Confectioners—John S. Weaver, Oscar Creswell, Wilson Candy Company, Gangi Brothers, Mary E. Keil, J. L. Lampas, M. K. Umore.

Furniture Dealers—Charles F. Hoover, Brown & Co., Joseph Goldsmith and R. C. Clefs.

VICTORIA MONDAY SPECIAL.
A stirring story of barbaric cruelty showing life under the shadow of Siberia, is the exceptionally dramatic feature film, "The Nihilist's Daughter." In three reels, which leads the Monday special bill at the Victoria Theater, 225 Market street, to-day. It is the extraordinary tale of the struggles for freedom of a Russian serf, whose daughter becomes infatuated with a count, who returns her love. Her chauffeur also falls in love with her, but she turns him down. The father comes back after thirty years in exile to see his daughter's happiness when she marries the count and is made a prisoner. The climax of the exciting story is reached when the old man miraculously escapes through a secret chamber in his house, where he was nursed back to health.

Another headliner to-day at the Victoria is "The Fortunes of War," in two parts, and the Pathe comedy.—Advertisement.

"Sunshine and Shadow," a two-act Vitaphone drama, featuring Norma Talmadge and Van Dyke Brooke, is filled with adventure and anguish. Spitefulness on the part of an employer, John Gates, finds himself wrongfully accused and is discharged. After many shadows, sunshine at last comes to reward the boy and girl.—Advertisement.

"THE CHORUS GIRLS" THANKSGIVING.
"The Chorus Girls' Thanksgiving" is a rare, beautiful sentiment—one that will meet with a hearty response, coming at such time of the year. "Repentance, forgiveness, love," these are the potent virtues permeating almost every scene of this exciting, engrossing, highly dramatic production. There are moments of surprise, there are moments of suspense, but the keenest sense of pleasure comes when one witnesses this boy and girl, both purged by a baptism of suffering and remorse, join hands and start life anew—together. It is an episode that will live long in the memory.

Herbert Rawlinson enacts the role of the embezzler. Recognized as one of Universal's most sturdy, finished actors, Mr. Rawlinson gives an interpretation of the headliner class also. Other names of the Orpheum's Christmas bill include Dolly and Mack; Lewis and Norton, and Nolan and Nolan.—Advertisement.

COLONIAL
The Colonial inaugurates a bill to-day that looks to be of unusual caliber. Walter D. Neland and company, who were members of the "Detective Keen" playlet, seen in Harrisburg before, will present a surprise comedy sketch as one of the most important attractions. Norman and Clare, declared to be vaudeville's cleverest children, appear on this bill also. The Nikko Troupe, famous exponents of Oriental skill, and Von Dell, in impersonations of famous composers and musicians, complete the vaudeville bill. Patrons of the Busy Corner must bear in mind that a Christmas Corner Store will be a part of the Wednesday evening performances. The management is warning patrons to get vehicles early, for the shopping promises to be heavy, and the presents very very ne.—Advertisement.

Chinese War Minister Thanks U. S. For Help in Reorganizing Army
Washington, D. C., Dec. 21.—Tuan Chi-Jin, the Chinese Minister of War, has a keen sense of appreciation of the value of the United States War Department reports, with which he has been supplied from time to time as a matter of courtesy and for his assistance in the reorganization of the Chinese army. In a letter to Secretary Garrison he expresses his thanks for these publications and incidentally his envy of the American nation "for the inexhaustible supply of her talented sons."

The letter was handed to Secretary Garrison by Major Albert J. Bowley, who was recently relieved as military attaché at Peking and ordered to Fort Sill.

The committee in charge of the flag transfer exercises, which were such an enjoyable feature of the State's observance of "Flag Day" last June, held its final meeting at the office of Governor Tener this afternoon and reported that after all bills were paid it had money in the bank.

The whole cost of the celebration was $3,327 and a balance of $2,672 will be returned to the State, less a few minor expenses. The transportation cost about $2,000, including veterans and National Guardsmen.

Senator Franklin Martin was chairman, Adjutant General Thomas J. Stewart was the executive officer and arranged all of the details, while E. W. Denning had charge of the finances. The report will be filed at the Auditor General's office.

Considering the great pleasure thousands of people found in the ceremonies the cost was very small.
