AMUSEMENTS. MAJESTIC. This evening—Al. G. Field Minstrels. Friday afternoon and evening—'French Models.' (Burlesque). ORPHEUM. Every afternoon and evening—High-Class Vaudeville. COLONIAL. Every afternoon and evening—Vaudeville and Pictures. MOTION PICTURES. AL. G. FIELD AS AN AUTHOR. The understanding of what will cause a laugh or bring a touch of sentiment, which has made Al. G. Field the foremost minstrel manager of his day, is serving him equally as well in the field of authorship. This is attested by the fact that many publishers are now competing for his manuscripts to a third volume he has in preparation—"The Days of '61.'" "The Days of '61.'" will deal with the people and events of the early part of the Civil War—not a story of march and camp and military alarms, but of the idyllic home life, the simple and yet practical in the best sense. Much of this will be pictured by means of character sketches, delineating many who were prominent and active in those eventful times and also by a compilation of the folk lore that arose from the loves and hates and loyalties of those days. The field understands so well, will thread it all!—Advertisement.

What We Say It Is IT IS Here's the Way You Can Grow A Diamond. You would like to have a Diamond worth $100 or more, but you feel you are not able right now to invest that amount. You can save up to buy a large stone and while you are saving have the pleasure of wearing a Diamond as fine as your own, fully paid for as little as $10.00 you can buy Diener's a fine quality, perfectly cut Diamond. When you are ready to secure a larger stone, we will allow you the full amount paid for the small jewel. In a surprisingly short time you will be the owner of the size Diamond you desire, without having taxed your pocketbook in the least. Now is a most advantageous time to invest in Diamonds as the war has stopped production and values are sure to increase for many years after peace is declared.
