

AT ONCE! STOPS
SOMACH MISERY
AND INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" makes sick sour, gassy stomachs feel fine

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, get this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure.
"Pape's Diapepsin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

MESSAGE FROM THE
DEAD TELLS STORY

drafts have been found in the case of two of the men named by Binner, and that at least one of them is thoroughly able to make good. One of the men named is a prominent cattle dealer of Dauphin county.

Bank Examiner Working Examiner Logan spent most of Saturday night, and all of Sunday in the bank, but stated on Sunday night that he is still unable to give out any information as to the shortage. That it is $15,000 at least, is apparent, however, from the fact that Binner is known to have made a pitious appeal to one of the men he named in his letter, for that amount of money.
Whether this will cover all of the overdrafts is not known.

Bank Is Solid
On the door of the bank, just above a crepe, is a card with the following notice:
To the Public:
This bank is closed due to the sudden death of the cashier and pending an examination of its affairs by the National Bank Examiner, who is now in charge of the bank.

URIAH B. HORST,
President.
Feb. 6, 1915.
The suicide was the sole topic of conversation throughout the town and the county on Sunday. That nearly $15,000 in drafts are tied up in the bank does not seem to worry anybody, because the bank is solid and most people are assured that their money is safe.

Was High School Principal
Soon after completing high school, Alvin Binner took a course at West Chester State Normal school. When he came to securing a diploma when the Schaefferstown high school was opened, Binner was selected. He was then 25 years of age. During the Spring season he taught at Lebanon valley College, at Avonville, and studied hard in the meantime. About six years ago the First National Bank was opened and Binner was named as the cashier without opposition, though he was not yet thirty years of age. At first he was the only attendant at the place, and the entire responsibility of the institution rested upon him. Most of the directors live out of the town, and he "ran" the bank practically himself. He made good in every sense of the word. Just how he became involved in the overdrafts which led to his tragic end, is yet to be learned.

Wife Is Prostrated
His wife is prostrated with grief.
The oldest of her four children is ten years of age, and the youngest but three. Although the bank directors made an effort to keep the Binner letter a secret, Mrs. Binner showed the original to all who visited her. She maintains that her husband was not guilty of any dishonesty and states that she proposes to keep the original letter and to show it to all who may wish to know about it.

KANSAS CITY OUT OF LEAGUE
By Associated Press
Kansas City, Feb. 8.—A. Gilmore, president of the Federal League, confirmed the report that Kansas City would not be represented in his organization next year in a telegram received here to-day.

SENSE ABOUT FOOD
Facts Worth Knowing.

It is a serious question sometimes to know just what to eat when a person's stomach is out of order and most foods cause trouble.

Grape-Nuts food can be taken at any time with the certainty that it will digest. Actual experience of people is valuable to anyone interested.
A Terre Haute woman writes: I had suffered with indigestion for about four years, ever since an attack of typhoid fever, and at times could eat nothing but the very lightest food, and then suffer so with my stomach I could wish I never had to eat anything.

"I was urged to try Grape-Nuts and since using it I do not have to starve myself any more but I can eat it at any time and feel nourished and satisfied, dyspepsia is a thing of the past, and I am now strong and well.

"My husband also had an experience with Grape-Nuts. He was very weak and sickly one spring and could not attend to his work. He was put under the doctor's care but medicine did not seem to do him any good until he began to eat ordinary food and use Grape-Nuts. It was surprising to see the change in him. He grew better right off, and naturally he has none but words of praise for Grape-Nuts.

"Our boy thinks he cannot eat a meal without Grape-Nuts, and he earns to faint at school, and his teacher comments on it. I am satisfied that it is because of the great nourishing elements in Grape-Nuts."

"The mother writes: Grape-Nuts is a certain and remarkable builder of body, nerves and brain.
"There's a Reason."
"Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.—Advertisement.

PRAYER FOR PEACE
INTONED BY POPE

Services in St. Peter's Attended by 22 Cardinals and Congregation of 60,000

Special to The Telegraph Rome, Feb. 8.—There was an impressive scene in St. Peter's yesterday afternoon when Pope Benedict intoned his prayer for peace.

The great edifice was thronged with worshippers when the pontiff, surrounded by twenty-two cardinals, mounted to the papal altar. Standing between the richly gilded spiral columns of the Bernini canopy, Pope Benedict intoned the prayer, which was repeated by the kneeling multitude, whose voices echoed throughout the great temple. The prayer was to the "God of all Mercies, King of Peace."

The pope on arriving and departing was accorded an ovation. As he was leaving after the ceremony there were many cries of "Long live the pope!" and "Give us peace!"

Despite the downpour of rain at o'clock all the bells of the 400 churches in Rome pealed out, calling the people to the services, and more than 60,000 persons gathered in St. Peter's.
The immense basilica appeared more imposing than on usual occasions, there being no decorations except the numerous candlesticks with their flickering flames on the papal altar. Before the altar stood the great faldstool, which is approached by five steps, from which the pope prayed.
Special places had been reserved for the members of the sacred college, the patriarchs, archbishops, bishops and diplomats and of the papal court and representatives of all the religious institutions.

INCAUTIOUS USE OF
WEAPONS IS RAPPED

ence of it in the courtroom. In the corridor on the way to the jail, however, he cried bitterly.
The ex-patrolman may not be required to spend all of twelve years behind the bars of the penitentiary, however; he may, by the good behavior rule, get as much as two years off.
In sentencing Scott Judge McCar-rell said:
"The testimony against you was exceedingly strong. It is true you were a police officer; you were in the uniform of an official of this city; but in the firing of this shot you were not using the weapon which the law permitted you to carry for the purpose of performing the duties of your office in the discharge of any official duty.
You were not attempting to arrest Nathaniel Banks.

"There was nothing done by him which would apparently have warranted his arrest. You had a personal quarrel with Banks, and for that you had no right to use any weapon. You seem to have lost your temper. The killing of Nathaniel Banks was inexcusable.
"Police officers are permitted to carry a gun and a mace so that they may perform their official duty and secure the arrest of persons for whom they have warrants and prevent the escape of those who have been arrested and are trying to get away.
"When police officers use weapons they must be cautious about the way in which they use them, and always when they use them under circumstances which indicate that they had at the time they used them an honest belief in their own minds that the use was necessary to enable them to discharge their official duties they are protected.
"Human life is very sacred and the law guards it with great jealousy. It matters not what the character of the person whose life is taken was. The penalty of the law is the same for the humblest as for the highest.

occupied by the Aushbaugh Press, State printers, and was destroyed by fire early last year.
This will be the fourth mail order branch of the S. S. Kresge Company in the United States. Other branches are located at St. Paul, Minn.; Detroit, Mich.; and Oklahoma City, Okla.
The firm has a large retail store in this city, at 326 Market street. The building leased for the Harrisburg branch is owned by H. H. Hursh and is being fitted up for a heavy mail order trade. Negotiations for the lease were closed by Alex. C. Taylor some time ago. Robert Hills, who has been identified with the firm for some time is directing the preparations for starting business.
"This is to be a strictly mail order business," Mr. Hills said to-day.
"We expect to send out 1,000,000 catalogs at the start and employ not less than sixty hands, including a number of girls. Three floors have been leased covering an area of 14,000 feet of space. The same class of goods as are found in the S. S. Kresge and Company stores will be handled in the mail order department. The offices will be located on the third floor. The Harrisburg branch will be the first of the kind in the east. We have a great mailing system and handle business promptly. We believe Harrisburg is a good location.

commission is to name a secretary of agriculture who is to be the executive officer and to receive $5,000 per year.

He shall make the appointments in the department subject to approval of the commissioners and there is express requirement that the department must prepare a budget for the Legislature. The bill will do away with any question regarding authority and do away with overlapping of work, although the details will be worked out by the commission. As the condition is now there has been some question as to whom certain officials report and whether they may proceed their own way in their business without submitting their plans for approval.
Behind the bill are the State Grange, the State Horticultural Society, the State Breeders, the State Dairy Union and other organizations and the agricultural committees of the State Bankers, the committees on agriculture of the railroad, the agricultural press and all other elements interested in progressive agriculture.
