HOUSEWIFE SHOULD KNOW THE CUTS OF BEEF

University of Wisconsin Issues Special Bulletin on Divisions of This Important Animal

The beef animal is divided down the middle of the backbone into two halves called sides and each side is divided into two parts called quarters. The smaller divisions are given as follows in a University of Wisconsin bulletin: Fore Quarter—The fore quarter is all that portion of the animal in front of and including the last rib. In some markets the last rib is not included in the fore quarter. The "Shank" or "Leg" is the first cut of the fore quarter. It is used for soup bone. The shank contains the "marrow bone," which is the middle portion of the shank bone. This is sometimes cooked and served on toast. The "Shoulder Clod" or "Round Shoulder Piece" is the next cut; this is divided into two cuts, each about three inches thick. The "Shoulder Clod" is used for pot roast. The "Shoulder" contains two distinct layers of meat which are separated and boned, and used for cheap roasts, and pot roasts. The inner portion of the shoulder from which the ribs are removed is the best. The "Brisket" is the cut just in front of the shoulder. The ends of five ribs are included in the brisket. The ribs are taken out, the meat is sold as rolled roasts, corned and sold as boneless brisket. The "Knee Bone" just above the brisket is a round bone surrounded by much gelatin but contains little marrow. It is used for stews, soup and mince meat. The diaphragm is called the "Skirt Steak." It is removed and is used rolled and braised or cooked as pot roast. The "Short Ribs" or "Cross Ribs" lie just above the brisket. They are divided into two narrow cuts which are used for roasting and served with brown potatoes. The "Chuck Ribs" include the first six ribs of the neck. They are trimmed for steaks or roasts, but make poor roasts and are usually boned and rolled, and used in braising, pot roasting, and stewing. The last seven ribs are called the "Prime Ribs" or short ribs. They are used for choice roasts, the last five giving the best cuts. The sixth and seventh ribs contain some cartilage from the shoulder blade, and more connective tissue, hence are not so desirable. The "Navel End" lies just back of the brisket and is used for soup meat, boiling, hash, or corning. The "Plate," which lies just above the navel, and includes the lower portion of the ribs is used in the same ways as the navel. Hind Quarter—The hind quarter of beef is all that portion of the side lying back of the last rib. In some markets the last rib is included in the hind quarter. The "Flank Steak" is the first portion to be removed from the hind quarter. It is used for steaks and rolled; or doubled up and braised. The "Tip of Flank" is the thick portion just back of the plate, and is cut up for beef steaks. Inside the hind quarter is the "Cod Fat" a soft fat, used for beef drippings. The "Suet" is a hard fat which lies about the kidneys, and is used for shortening, suet puddings, etc. The "Kidneys" lie embedded in the suet just back of the loin. There is one kidney in each hind quarter. The kidneys are prepared in a stew. The "Loin," which extends from the last rib to the rump is used for steaks and roasts. The "Club Steaks," "Short Steaks," or "Delmonico Steaks" are the first cuts of the loin. If cut three inches thick there are just two club steaks. The "Porterhouse Steaks" lie back of the club steaks. They contain more fat and tenderness than any of the other steaks. There are four or five of the Porterhouse Steaks. The "Sirloin Steaks" lie back of the Porterhouse. The "Sirloin Cuts" include two or three pin bone steaks, two flat bone steaks, the most choice cuts of the sirloin, and about three round bone steaks. The "Tenderloin" lies under the bones of the loin steaks but is usually moved separately, and used for broiling, or roasting, but is a very expensive cut. The "Rump" lying just back of the loin, is used for pot roasts and corned beef. The lower part of the rump toward the round contains poorer meat, and is sold for a lower price. The "Round of Beef" cut just under the rump, is used principally for steaks. It may be divided into as many as twenty-five steaks. The "Upper Round" is the inner portion which always lies uppermost on the block. The "Lower Round" is the outer portion and rests against the block. The middle cut of the leg, called the "Horse Slice Piece" is used for pot roasts, and mince meat. The "Shank" or "Soup Bone" is the lower portion of the hind leg. The bones which are employed in boning and trimming meat are scraped and the small pieces of lean and fat are all used in Hamburg steak. As sold in the market, the cuts are usually weighed before trimming. The bones are sold to the bone man and ground up for chicken food. The waste fat is used in making soap.

LEGISLATIVE NEWS

BIG HEARINGS TO COME THIS MONTH Third Class City Legislation Will Attract Much Attention in the Coming Week Governor and Attorney General Will Go Over the Suggestions Made For the Acts

Representatives of third class cities and steam and hot water fitters will be given a hearing here next week by the House municipal corporations committee on the bill to establish a bureau of steam and hot water inspection in the government of such municipalities. The bill would provide for a system of city inspection such as is now required for plumbers and meat engaging in fitting would be required to secure licenses and their work would be under restrictions. Some of the cities are objecting to it because of the expense and representatives of the trade are asking for some changes. The same committee will have hearings on some of the third class city bills later in the month and it is probable that the members will assemble all of the proposed changes for a general act, as has been done by Senator Henry A. Clark in the bill presented in the Senate. One of the biggest hearings is expected to be that on the bills to regulate optometry. There are several of the optometrists desiring their own examining board and wanting the Legislature to clearly set forth that they shall be excluded from supervision of the State Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure. The drugless therapists are asking the same privilege. Numerous suggestions for changes in the workmen's compensation acts which have been received by Governor Brumbaugh in the last few days will be gone over by the Executive and Attorney General Brown next week to see if the tentative drafts issued a week ago can be improved upon. The Governor's mail has been filled with letters on the subject and some of the writers have sent drafts of whole new acts, while others have quoted extensively from reports of other States. Important conferences are scheduled for next week on the compensation acts, and labor leaders, who plan a meeting in Pittsburgh, intend to come here to talk over some ideas with the Governor. It is possible that Samuel Gompers will ask for a hearing on his suggestion that the rate of compensation be advanced beyond 50 per cent. Many prominent men have endorsed the Governor's bill, among them David A. Reed, of Pittsburgh, who was chairman of the Industrial Accidents Commission, which made a study of the law and who was one of the men having most to do with the acts drafted by that commission.

MAY EXTEND PROBE TO EASTERN SECTION

Members of Legislature Considering Whether Charges Have Been Made in Philadelphia

It is possible that the inquiry into the charges made against institutions and have been investigating statements said to have been made about the conduct of some hospitals and homes in Philadelphia and if anything is brought out they will ask that the probe be extended. The resolution for the inquiry is now awaiting action by the Senate and it is said that concurrence is assured. The chairman of the Senate and House committees and five members of each branch are to constitute the committee of inquiry. A big stir-up is expected in Pittsburgh, as the committee will call every one mentioned as having made charges. NEVER HAD 'EM (From the National Monthly) Old Dick was an old plantation dandy. He was rarely if ever sick and he always claimed that it was the way he had lived. One day as he was walking down the street, a local merchant taking advantage of his ignorance, accosted him thus: "Now, look here, my friends has just told me that you have ancestors of the worst sort." "Now, look here, Cav'n Gaw, I doan want to hurt nobody, but I jest want to know who dat man was, wot he say, and I who will go after him 'cause he done gone and 'sult me. Me got ancestors? Why, Capin, that's de big 'n' de best as was ever 'sulted had nothin' in my life but de mumps and colic."

NEW TREATMENT THAT KNOCKS RHEUMATISM

Hundreds Use It. Call It a Wonder. Offers to Send a 50c Box Free to Anyone Who Writes to Prove It. Up in Syracuse, N. Y., a treatment for rheumatism has been found that hundreds of users say is a wonder, relieving cases that seem little short of miraculous. Just a few treatments even in the very worst cases seem to accomplish wonders even after other remedies have failed entirely. It seems to neutralize the uric acid and prevent salt deposits in the blood, driving all the poisonous clogging waste from the system. Soreness, pain, stiffness, swelling just seem to melt away and vanish. The treatment first introduced by Mr. Delano is so good that its owner wants everybody who suffers from rheumatism or who has a friend so afflicted, to get a free 50c package from him to prove just what it will do in every case before a penny is spent. Mr. Delano says: "To prove that the Delano treatment will positively overcome rheumatism, no matter how severe, whether born or long standing, the case, and even after all other treatments have failed, I will send you a 50c package of the treatment, send you a full size 50c package free if you will send your name and address with 10c to help pay postage and distribution expense to me personally. Kate Barnard Protests to Save Indians' Land

Oklahoma City, March 5.—Miss Kate Barnard, State commissioner of charities of Oklahoma, who charges there is a plot to rob full-blooded Indians and minor heirs in the State of more than $200,000,000 of coal lands, has issued a last appeal for the defeat of thirteen bills in the House and Senate which she says will work great harm to the red men. "If these bills pass, the State will have 100,000 papers to care for in five years," she asserts.

WORTH KNOWING

Try frying fish in fat that has been saved from former frying; the flavor will be very much improved. When cutting fur, never use scissors; use a razor or very sharp pen-knife to cut through the skin at the back. Put raisins and other small fruits in a corn-popper when you want to wash them. It will be more tender. Boiled or roasted meat that is to be cut cold should be wrapped in a clean, moist cloth. It will be more tender. Brush the lower crust of a pie over with the white of an egg. This prevents the juice from soaking through.—Dallas News.

GUESTS ARE TOLD OF HOME RELIEF WORK

At least 150 persons, who were sincerely curious to learn the details of the local management of the Home and War Relief, visited the headquarters at No. 7 South Front street today, where the efficient and earnest women of the managing committees have expended almost $100,000 in one of the most worthy charities ever known in Harrisburg.

Among the visitors was a party of county officials including John Guyer, secretary of the County Poor Board; Major Ott, Auditors Huston and Riegler, Deputy County Treasurer Rutherford, Deputy County Controller Holtzman, Deputy City Treasurer Weber and Director of the Poor Boyer.

Members of the committees conducted parties of visitors through all departments from the garret to the cellar, and entertained each with tea, sandwiches and cups supplied and prepared by members of the active committees. They explained the system of distributing work to poor women, and the careful manner of investigating applicants, so that none but the needy poor are given work; and the business-like methods followed in all payments and the financial transactions. Probably the most interesting department was the "Supplies Division," where materials for the various styles of garments are stored, and the different pieces necessary to make a complete garment are bundled and given out to the women, who carry them home to sew together. More than 18,000 garments have been completed or are in process of making since the work started December 17. These parties have all been cut out by machinery by the Blough Manufacturing company without cost to the committee, and much of the material has been also purchased and cut up by the needy poor at greatly reduced rates. Other businessmen and department stores have also been generous in providing supplies at wholesale prices. Practically every piece of goods has been bought in Harrisburg and all garments sent to the aid of the foreign war sufferers have been made by Harrisburg labor, proving the value of the work as a home relief. Garments are also given to needy poor of the city. About $1,700 remains in the treasury and will maintain the work until about April 1. Approximately $200 was given by various Sunday schools of the city last Sunday and more may be expected next Sunday. More than 290 women are given employment, and about 350 more are on the waiting list. The active committees in charge of the work total about 160 women, many of whom have given their time every day since December 17. The organization is down to a fine system now and efficiency is one of the points of the work that first impresses a visitor.

Lime-Loss in Tuberculosis

In the Journal of the American Medical Association (January 17, 1914) was the following: "It has been many times stated that in tuberculosis or in the pre-tuberculous stage an increase in the amount of calcium (lime) is lost both in the urine and feces. In fact, a demineralization is recovery from tuberculosis is due to a loss of lime from the system, the success of Eckman's Alternative in the treatment of this disease may be due, in part, to the fact that it contains a lime salt so combined with other valuable ingredients as to be easily assimilated. Always have urged users of Eckman's Alternative to attend strictly to matters of food. In addition to rest and proper diet, some effective remedial agent seems to be needed, and in numerous cases apparent recovery from tuberculosis and kindred throat and bronchial affections Eckman's Alternative has supplied this need. It does not contain opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, so it is safe to use.
