HARRISBURG D. A. R. IN SESSION TODAY

Commemorate the First Battles of American Revolution With Interesting Program

The bright Spring day brought out a goodly number to the meeting of Harrisburg chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution this afternoon at Y. W. C. A. hall, when the first battles of the Revolution were commemorated.

Miss Caroline Pearson, second vice-president, presided. The hall was decorated with American flags and two beautiful large panels in alto-relief—"Paul Revere's Midnight Ride," Cyrus Cobb, sculptor, and "The Arrest of Paul Revere," T. J. Fairport, sculptor, graced the wall back of the platform.

The program opened with patriotic songs and after Mrs. James Barr Mersereau, the secretary, read the minutes of the February meeting and of the governing board, nominations for officers to be elected at the annual meeting, May 19, were in order. The recent appointment Mrs. Mabel Cronise Jones, Mrs. Edward Z. Gross and Mrs. Robert H. Irons as tellers, and Mrs. Charles A. Kunkel and Mrs. Mersereau as auditors, for the treasurer.

Mr. Frederick Morgenthaler gave a brief account of the "Battle of Lexington," and following Mrs. Mary Boyer McCrea's interesting sketch of "Paul Revere," the chapter historian, Miss Snyder, read several verses from Longfellow's "Ride of Paul Revere," and announced that as a courtesy to Harrisburg chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, the management of "The Photoplay" is running a twenty-minute film of "Paul Revere" this afternoon and evening which is most beautiful and cost $500 to procure.

Miss Jane Kinzer's unusually sweet soprano voice was heard to advantage in three numbers, "Open Secret," by Woodman "The Swallows," Cowan, and "Three Green Bonnets," by Guy D'Hardelot. William L. Yates, who accompanied Miss Kinzer, gave much pleasure by his rendition of two Chopin numbers, (a) "Minute Waltz," (b) "Marche Funebre." Will Carleton's dramatic poem, "The Ride of Jenny McNeal," was given in excellent style by Miss Martha McGeehan, the pupil of Mrs. Karl Fogg, who received hearty applause for her work.

The thanks of the chapter was extended to all the friends who so kindly participated in the program to-day and to the Kreidler Bros., through whose courtesy the historic panels were loaned.

Mr. and Mrs. David Buehler, of North Third street, are in Philadelphia for a short stay.

Miss Emma Frieshaber, of 434 Boas street is improving in health after an attack of the grip.

George Burd, of Seattle, Wash., formerly of Duncannon, is visiting his sister, Mrs. J. A. McCabe, at 2124 Penn street.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hastings and small son George have gone home to Detroit, Mich., after visiting old friends in this vicinity for a fortnight.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Harris have gone home to Brookly after spending winter week among Harrisburg relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Luddington of Baltimore arrived in the city yesterday for a prolonged stay with Major and Mrs. Leland at "The Terrace," New Cumberland.

Charles Adams of Lewistown, returned home yesterday after spending Sunday with relatives.

Mr. Frank Schott and daughters, Elinoir and Louise, who were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Haas, of York, have returned to Harrisburg.

Mrs. Harvey Wise, who was the weekend guest of Mrs. W. H. Milyel, York, has returned home.

Miss Nellie Heford has gone to New York city for a little trip.

Dr. John McAlister made an address at the dedication of the new medical home of the physicians of Berks county in Reading to-day.

Dr. Donkey Stroum, who spent the Easter holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Strouse, has resumed her studies at the Girls' Latin School, Baltimore.

Mrs. John DeGray and son, Julian and Richard DeGray, Cottage Ridge, are visiting relatives in Philadelphia and New Jersey.

Mrs. V. A. Reynders is spending a day or two in Philadelphia.

Leland Johnson, of Steelton, has resumed his school work at Lawrenceville Academy after spending the Easter holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Johnson.

TROOP OF CONJURORS MYSTIFY AUDIENCE

Leroy, Talma and Bosco Produce Garden and Fowls; Restore Dead to Life

Mystifying to a high degree are the many illusions, feats of magic and cabinet tricks, presented by the Leroy, Talma, Bosco company at the Majestic theater. This triple alliance of conjurers opened a two night's engagement at the Majestic last night.

The program is complete with novelty. Two added strong features are: Marvellous, the European juggler, who not only performs wonderful feats of juggling, but changes his costume in a second, and Santos Santucci, the wizard of the accordion.

The work of Leroy, Talma, and Bosco includes many wonderful disappearing acts. From space these conjurers produce fowls to the number of one hundred. Chickens and ducks are beheaded and later brought to life. The Hindoo rope trick had everybody guessing; and the magic screen from behind which is produced, an attractive young woman sitting in a garden of flowers. Of course you can't tell how it is done. Everything is done so quickly.

And also an interesting mind reading act and the show concludes with a pantomime during which a man and a woman are placed in a cage with a lion. Then the lion disappears.
