COLUMBIA COUNCIL LIFTS FOOTBALL LID

Gridiron Game Will Be Run Under Strict Regulations For Five Years

Special to The Telegraph New York, April 21.—By unanimous vote of the university council, football was restored to Columbia yesterday. The sport, by the resolutions adopted, will be placed on a five-year basis. Many restrictions have been thrown around the resumption of the sport and it will be necessary for the undergraduates and alumni to live up to the spirit of these regulations if the game is to stay. The Columbia men agree that they will not raise any objections to the regulations within the five-year period. It is anticipated that the students will be too glad to receive half a loaf rather than none to again antagonize the authorities with any objections to their plans under which the game is restored. This action on the part of the council comes after a carefully planned movement which had for its foundation the convincing of the authorities of the sincerity of the undergraduates in their petitions for the reinstatement of the game and their willingness to support it. Work will start immediately in the arranging of a schedule for the Blue and White team next fall.

Roger Bresnahan Is Hard Hitting Catcher

The hard hitting second string backstop of the Chicago Cubs, is now playing regularly behind the bat because of the disablement of Jimmy Archer, who broke his arm during a recent game in Brooklyn. Bresnahan is still the dangerous batter of old and is playing a grand all-around game.

"JAKE" WEITZEL ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Sends Three Bullets Into His Body; Was Baker's Sponsor; Recovery Doubtful

Special to The Telegraph Reading, Pa., April 21.—Jacob L. Weitzel, 42 years old, owner of the Reading Tri-State Club in 1908-09 and manager of last year's aggregation, famous as the discoverer of J. Franklin Baker, attempted suicide here yesterday afternoon by shooting himself through the heart three times. Weitzel is at the St. Joseph Hospital. It is said he cannot recover. No reason is assigned for Weitzel's act. He had been brooding over his losses in the Tri-State, but friends say Weitzel never took financial losses very seriously. Weitzel is one of the best-known baseball men in Pennsylvania, and recently has been employed by the Bell Telephone Company as a solicitor. He is married. Weitzel engaged J. Franklin Baker upon the recommendation of Charlie Herzog, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, and needing a third baseman, switched the Trappe, Md., farmer from the outfield to that position. He tipped Connie Mack of the possibilities of Baker as a major leaguer, with the result that he was signed and subsequently developed into the greatest player in his position in the game. [Weitzel has a host of friends in Harrisburg. He was a friend of young players and was a good judge of baseball material.—Sporting Editor.]

Baby Weighing 23 Pounds Smallest Girl's Brother

Special to The Telegraph Philadelphia, April 21.—The stork has played a freak trick in the household of Michael Kline, who lives at Seventy-fourth street and Glenmore avenue. Five years ago the Klimes were presented with a little girl who weighed only one and a half pounds at birth. This week the stork again visited the Kline family. This time it left a bouncing baby boy, who, when placed upon the scales, tipped the beam at a few ounces over twenty-three pounds. The new baby weighs nearly as much as some 5-year-old children. Margaret Kline, the tiny girl, holds the record as the lilliputian of Pashalville. She took a prize at the Darby Businessmen's Carnival, two years ago. Despite her size, she has thrived, and is a robust child. The Klimes now say they have the smallest girl and the fattest boy in Philadelphia.
