

TERRIFIC FIGHTING NOW IN PROGRESS IN DARDANELLES REGION

Both British and Turk Forces Claim Success in Present Engagement

TURKS HAVE LOST HEAVILY German Advance in Flanders Reported Checked by British Commander

Turkish and British reports of the land operations in the Dardanelles region again are in direct conflict. From the Turkish version it would appear that the Anglo-French land invasion has resulted in disaster for the allies. Further claims to victories are made in an official report from Constantinople to-day. It is said the forces which landed near Kaba Teph were forced back along the whole front with heavy losses, four brigades being driven into the sea and others surrendering. One transport is said to have been sunk. British official reports give no hint of a defeat. The latest statement from London says the land forces have succeeded in establishing a line across the Gallipoli peninsula, on the European side of the straits and are advancing steadily.

An unofficial dispatch from Athens states that the allies were victorious in a battle on the west side of the peninsula, inflicting serious losses on the Turks and capturing one battalion. Fighting last evening which was prepared by the general board of defense. In connection with the plan the secretary has called upon the commanders of all the coast defenses to submit reports looking to the improvement of those fortifications.

The battle of Flanders has passed the high point of intensity and is becoming less severe. An official Belgian statement speaks of the activity of artillery and aviators along the part of the front held by the Belgian forces. Field Marshal Sir John French, the British commander, has announced that German advance has been checked definitely. In the Russian campaign new battles are developing in the north, along the east Prussian border. Petrograd dispatches speak of various encounters.

Turks Claim Success in Fight Along Dardanelles

Constantinople, Tuesday, April 27, via Amsterdam, April 29, and London, April 29, 10.55 A. M.—There have been given out here an official announcement regarding the fighting at the Dardanelles, which reads: "Sighi Dere, to the west of Seeddul Bahr, has been cleared of the enemy. The enemy who landed near Kaba Teph, endeavored to maintain their positions under cover of their ships but early in the morning our troops stormed these positions and forced the enemy back along the whole front, inflicting severe losses on them. Part of the enemy fled in the direction of the sea and taking to their boats, disappeared. Those unable to escape, raised the white flag and surrendered en masse. "A transport of the enemy was sunk off Avendurn. "Later reports declare that hostile forces estimated at four brigades have been driven into the sea on the coast of Kaba Teph."

Rose Livingston Says Hundreds Fall Into Vice Nets Between 10 and 12

A VICTIM HERSELF AT 10

Spent Seven Long Years in Life of Horror Before Rescued; Now Saves Others

Special to The Telegraph York, Pa., April 29.—Rose Livingston, Angel of Chinatown, who has shocked audience after audience with her tales of the conditions in the dens of New York from which she has rescued more than 500 young girls, was asked today her lecture here to-day how she learned of the particular girls that needed her help. "From women of the underworld," she answered, "I cannot reveal to the white-slavers how I keep tabs on them. "I was one of the victims myself. I was sold into the horrors of the life when I was only 10 years old. I spent seven long years in it before I was rescued. That is how I know so much about it."

Although Miss Livingston's own tragic history is well-known, it seemed incredible that children were forced

TO IMPROVE FORTIFICATIONS

Washington, April 29.—Secretary Garrison was to-day arranging for frequent conferences with his immediate advisers in the war department regarding plans for a permanent national military policy which are being prepared by the general board of defense. In connection with the plan the secretary has called upon the commanders of all the coast defenses to submit reports looking to the improvement of those fortifications.

LEGISLATURE IS ON HOME STRETCH

Looks Very Much Like May 13 Will See the End of the Present Session

BIG BILLS GOING ALONG

Next Week Will Be Marked by Action on Child Labor and Compensation

The end of the legislature of 1915 is in sight and it looks as though the Senate would next week amend the House resolution fixing May 6 as the date of adjournment to read May 13. The action of the House to-day in pushing through the appropriation bills and the activity of the chairman in framing the general appropriation act indicates that the finish is not far off and next week will see action all along the line. Monday night the child labor bill will have its third reading in the Senate and the people opposing the Governor's plan will make their final onslaught. It is freely predicted that the bill will pass as desired by the Governor and on Tuesday the corporations committee will make some amendments to the workmen's compensation bills and that they will get to a vote soon after. The plan is to set the bills to the Governor about May 10.

Thus far Governor Brumbaugh has given no sign about appointments, all of the Tender appointments having been held up at his request and the public service nominations being considered as withdrawn. Opinion is that the Governor will "loosen up" the last week. The amended automobile registration bill, which increases automobile licenses to get money for road construction, did not come out of the House committee in charge to-day, but is due Monday and will be fought. The other revenue raising bills are not in good shape, to be frank about it. The manufacturing capital stock tax bill has been sent on to a dry run and stamp tax is dead. The four mill bond tax does not look very robust. If the revenue raisers fail the only hope for money for road construction will be to reduce the general appropriation bill and some of the others. It begins to look as though the legislators wanted the highway department to make bricks without straw.

The indictments charge that obscene matter was sent through the mails. The articles complained of attack the Catholic priesthood.

VALUABLE PAPERS, LOST FIFTY YEARS, FOUND IN OLD DESK

History and Minutes of Hope Fire Co. Prior to 1837 Unearthed in Secret Desk Drawer; Were Believed to Have Been Stolen

Portions of the history of the Hope Fire company, lost for almost fifty years, were found to-day. The valuable papers and books were discovered in a secret drawer in an old desk which has been in the Hope company's possession for a century. The desk had been moved about frequently and was showing signs of frequent use. William Windsor, 3rd, was called in to make repairs. When he removed the side of the desk, an opening was discovered. An investigation showed a secret drawer which was forced open. In the drawer was the minute book, and other papers.

The book tells the company's history prior to 1837; how the Hope company came to be organized, and gives a list of members. The names of Simon Cameron, James Cameron and William Buehler appear as officers. Sometime ago, when the Hope company celebrated its 100th anniversary, a complete history could not be given because of the loss of early records. The announcement was made that the minute book and records were stolen or had been lost, when the company moved their quarters. The finding of the old records to-day assures a complete and interesting history of Hope Fire Company No. 2.

APPOINTIVE POWERS WITH COUNCIL ONLY

Senate Urged to Retain This Feature in Law Governing Third Class Cities of State

HARRISBURG IS CITED

Retention of Nonpartisan Provision Almost Unanimously Urged; Tenure of Terms

Twenty-seven cities of Pennsylvania say the appointive power for the police force, fire department or any other department should lie not with the mayor or any other head, but with council, where the whole responsibility can be fixed. Don't go back to the old system of placing the appointive power in the mayor's hands just because there happens to be a political fight among the councilmen in Harrisburg. Don't bring back the old mischiefs. Make the whole council responsible. Charles F. McHugh, city solicitor of Wilkes-Barre, thus closed an emphatic appeal for the retention of the present provisions of the Clark commission government law vesting the whole City Council with authority to

David Lloyd George Takes Pledge Never to Touch Drink Again

London, April 29.—The root and branch treatment originally proposed by David Lloyd George, the chancellor of the exchequer, for dealing with the liquor problem in its relation to the output of munitions of war, dwindled to a modest pruning when the chancellor presented to the House of Commons this afternoon the government's scheme for restricting the sale of drink. The chancellor in his opening sentence indicated that difficulties had been met with he said. "After weeks of trying to find a solution of the question I am preparing to take a pledge never to politically touch drink again."

While the nucleus of the new party will consist of 10,000 officers and men now in the United States and I might say all but fifty in Texas, there would be no violation of the neutrality laws.
