AUSTRIAN LAID PLAN

Venice, via London, May 7.—Field Marshal Conrad Von Hotzendorf, chief of staff of the Austrian army, is credited with having made all the strategic preparations for the Austro-German attack in the Carpathians. This operation was carried out so nearly according to program that the Archdukes Frederick and Charles Ferdinand, Baron Conrad and the entire general staff went on a special train to witness the victory they felt certain the Teutonic allies would win.

FORTS REPORTED SILENCED

London, May 7.—Certain forts at Chanak and Kalid Bahr in the Dardanelles have been silenced, while some of those of both sides of the waterway up to Nagara probably also are out of action, says a dispatch to the Chronicle from Mytilene.

SUSPICIOUS OF ARMENIANS

London, May 7.—All Armenians in Constantinople are being kept under the closest surveillance, according to a Reuter's dispatch received from the Turkish capital by way of Athens. Many priests, doctors and merchants have been exiled to Angora (a mountainous province of Asia Minor).

BATTLE RAGES AT DARDANELLES

Dardanelles, Thursday, May 6, via London, May 7, 12.22 P. M.—The artillery exchanges between the warships of the allies and the shore positions of the Turks continue. Some vessels are firing from the gulf of Saros, making use of inflammatory shells. The town of Maidos was set on fire yesterday.

Mrs. Brooks, Langhorne Sister, Inherits Fortune From British Soldier

London, May 7.—Mrs. Reginald Brooks, who was one of the beautiful Langhorne sisters of Virginia, and who recently obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce from her husband, Reginald Brooks, has inherited $300,000 from Captain Douglas-Pennant, of the British army, who was killed in action. Mrs. Brooks obtained her divorce because she claimed she and her husband could not agree as to what part of the world they should live in.

AUTO HITS GIRL AT THIRD AND WALNUT

Accidents Numerous in Circus Day Crowds; Jitneys Cause Some Trouble

Harry N. Heckman, Mechanicburg, employed by R. E. Rakestraw, an ice cream dealer of that place, while driving a runabout past Third and Walnut streets last evening, struck Miss Katherine Critchley, of Penbrook, proofreader of the Harrisburg Telegraph. Miss Critchley sustained severe bruises about the body, abrasions of the face and contusions of the left knee and shoulder. Heckman stopped his machine after striking Miss Critchley but then drove on. He later reported the accident at the police station and inquired about the injuries the young woman received. Miss Critchley was hurried to the hospital in a private automobile, where her injuries were treated. She was taken home last night.

SHOOTS MAN AND GIRL AND COMMITS SUICIDE

Two Are Dead and Third Is in Hospital in Serious Condition

Williamsport, Pa., May 7.—Two men are dead and a girl probably fatally injured as a result of a double shooting and suicide at Jersey Shore, near here early to-day. Lester Poust, 28, a machinist employed by the New York Central railroad at Avis, shot and fatally wounded Charles Holes, aged 30, a bartender, and wounded Cecilia Sowers, aged 22, a diningroom girl, when he found them together in a roominghouse. Poust was jealous. He shot both through the head and then shot himself through the mouth, dying almost instantly.

WITNESS REPORTS

The girl is in a hospital. Holes was married and leaves two daughters living at Jersey Shore.
