

Why Do Auto Bearings Wear in Spite of Oil?

TRY to run your car without any lubricants and what happens? Every bearing will shriek like a lost soul till friction ruins it. Put in grease or oil and what happens? The car runs without squealing, but, even so, somehow the bearings wear. Why?

Because steel cannot be polished to absolute smoothness. The brightest, smoothest looking bearings are full of little microscopic holes and protruding points. It is these grinding over each other that create friction. Oil or grease by their very nature can only smear these over, make them slippery. They still wear and break off.

DIXON'S Graphite Grease No. 677 For Transmissions and Differentials

But there is one lubricant that absolutely obliterates these microscopic roughnesses. Dixon's selected flake graphite will fill these holes and build up a smooth, oily veneer around the little protruding points until the whole bearing is smooth beyond description. No other graphite has this quality. Dixon's selected flake graphite is the only graphite produced that has the peculiar thinness and flatness of flake, a toughness and elasticity that will make it build up and not adhere to itself, ball up or pack. Dixon's Graphite Automobile Lubricants are the only automobile lubricants made that contain this rare form of graphite flake.

Why? Because the Joseph Dixon Crucible Co. are the only graphite workers in the world who have facilities for producing this peculiar form of graphite flake free from imperfections. That's pretty strong, but it's a fact. We suggest that you get acquainted with this line by first trying out Dixon's Graphite Transmission and Differential Grease No. 677. Talk it over with a Dixon dealer; he knows just what you need for every part of your car.

HAYWOOD MEMORIAL WILL BE DEDICATED

Local Residents to Attend Formal Opening of Pathological Laboratories at Washington

Invitations have been received here to the opening and dedicatory exercises of the "Benjamin J. Haywood Memorial Dispensary and Pathological Laboratories" of the National Methodist hospital at Washington, D. C., this evening.

These exercises will be held in Rust Hall, Capitol and M streets, with the Rev. Dr. Henry S. France presiding. Bishop Earl Cranston will conduct the devotions. On the program is the Rev. Benjamin S. Haywood, D. D., whose subject is "The Occasion—Its Significance." There will also be addresses by Quincy A. Gordon, of Mercer, and Judge Harry K. Daugherty, of Grove City. In this State, a reception will follow the dedicatory exercises.

The dispensary and laboratories have been made possible by the generous benefaction of Mrs. Elizabeth E. Haywood, of Sharon, Pa., as a memorial to her husband, a former treasurer of Pennsylvania. Those who remember Mr. Haywood, and he had many warm friends in Harrisburg, will recognize in this memorial a fitting tribute to a generous sympathetic and whole-souled man who loved his fellow-men.

TRANSYLVANIA CHASED

Special to The Telegraph. Glasgow, May 18.—Unlike the Lusitania, the liner Transylvania, which arrived at this port early yesterday, was conveyed through the war zone by ships of the British navy. Passengers on the Transylvania say that when they were nearing the British coast the periscope of a submarine was observed in the ship's wake. The liner zigzagged and the submarine disappeared.

King Oscar 5c Cigars

A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, and a cigar is no better than its filler despite all exterior frills and fancies.

Can't get away from that fact. To be a good smoke the filler must be good.

Remember — a cigar that looks good doesn't always prove a good smoke. Good thing to bank on reputation if you really want a full measure of cigar value.

Here's a reputation that should catch your eye and coax your nickel willingly—

ACTIVITIES OF THE LEGISLATURE

OLD GUARD CATCHES RIVALRY SLEEPING

Flynn and Kitts Attack Election Bill While Reorganizers Sit Around and Blink

Old Guard Democratic legislators sprang to the defense of the Democracy while the reorganizers sat around and wondered where to begin in the House last night when the bill giving the Republican party first place on the ballot because of its predominating vote, was called. The bill passed 128 to 51, the reorganization Democrats waking up when the roll was called. The effect of the bill will be to give the Republicans first place because of the vote at the last State election. The Democrats now have first place because of winning at the Presidential election. Mr. Flynn, Elk, contended it would be unfair to deprive the Democrats of their first advantage in 30 years, and Mr. Kitts, Erie, denounced the bill as a "trick." Mr. Sarig, Berks, also objected, but the House "jollied" him. Speaker Ambler and several Republicans voted in the negative.

Election Bills Out
Three of the series of election law amendments known as the "anti-fusion" bills were reported to the House by the elections committee. One of the bills prohibits independent nominations by papers; another prohibits withdrawal of candidates after nominations are made, and the third prohibits pre-emption of party names after primaries. The fourth bill reported provides that when a candidate for judge receives 51 per cent. of vote he shall be considered elected and regulates the arrangement of names on ballot. The fifth amends the second class city law to provide for printing of occupation when candidates have similar names.

Women Win Out
Efforts to send to the elections committee the Senate bill to permit women to act as watchers at the election when the suffrage amendment will be voted upon failed in the House after a roll call had been forced. Mr. Stein, Philadelphia, asked that the bill be committed to the elections committee, contending that it had been considered in the judiciary general committee when in his opinion it should have gone to the elections committee, where it belonged. W. H. Wilson, Philadelphia, objected saying that all big parties were favorable to the suffrage amendment and allowing women watchers was only giving a square deal. The bill was referred to 77 yeas. Representatives of the suffragists and antisuffragists were present when the vote was taken and the advocates of suffrage vigorously applauded.

MUNICIPAL PROBE ON LEGISLATION

Wilson Resolution Would Give Wide Powers to the Special Committee of Six Men

A resolution apparently having for its object investigation by a legislative commission of matters pertaining to the government of cities, boroughs and townships as they relate to legislation, but which confers very broad powers of probing municipal affairs, was introduced in the House at an early hour to-day by William H. Wilson, of the Vire leaders in the Philadelphia delegation. The resolution passed the House and when it reached the Senate was referred to the committee on municipal affairs, of which Senator Vire is chairman.

Mr. Wilson said that the object of the resolution was to make a study of municipal affairs and the way in which legislation to improve them was drafted. He said that the primary object was to study the manner in which the next Legislature met the committee could report a plan whereby bills covering similar subjects could be referred to the proper committee. His idea, which he said, had been worked out, was to devise a method of referring bills before they reached the Speaker in order to avoid confusion and duplication of work. The resolution refers to this matter, but gives the proposed committee very wide powers of investigation, even to the extent of compelling attendance of witnesses, with power to punish for contempt and to force presentation of books and papers. The resolution in full is as follows: "A concurrent resolution for the appointment of a joint committee of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering the subject of legislation and reporting to the General Assembly methods for curing the defects therein now existing. "Whereas the tendency to correct matters of minute detail by legislation has so increased the volume of bills introduced by the Legislature as to

COLD STORAGE ACT ON CALLED EARLY

Fresh Row in the House Over the Bill to Establish the Uniform Statute

Cold storage caused another row in the House last night when Buckman cold storage bill, one of the series drafted by the Commission on Uniform Legislation was taken from the judiciary general committee of the House and passed for the first time after lively debating. The motion to discharge the committee was made by Mr. Baldwin, Delaware, who contended that it would correct defects in the present law since the Governor had vetoed the repealer of the law of 1913. William H. Wilson, chairman of the committee, retorted that the bill had been so changed by the Senate that in his opinion it was unfair. Several members participated in the debate. The committee was discharged by a vote of 93 to 86 and when first reading was asked objections were made and the rule governing that order of business was suspended by a vote of 107.

The administration stock transfer bill was passed in the House by 15 to 25 after the members had sustained Speaker Ambler in his contention that the bill was not similar to one defeated several days ago. Mr. Stein, Allegheny, raised the question and the House overwhelmingly sustaining the speaker. Mr. Mearke, Allegheny, protested that the bill coming on top of the federal tax would be a double burden and the name demanded. Mr. Baldwin urged the bill as a revenue raiser.

The bill to create the State Bureau of Municipal Statistics and Information in the Department of Labor and Industry was revived and passed 107 to 43. The bill regulating attorneys was recommitted to the judiciary special committee. Efforts to discharge the judiciary general committee from further consideration of the Senate bill regulating time when municipalities must take over property designated for parks or parkways were defeated. A motion to reconsider defeat of the Senate bill creating a State Bureau of Elevator Inspection was defeated 90 yeas to 68 nays by the House. Mr. Mearke, Allegheny, said the bill would mean an expenditure of $70,000 and Mr. Herman, Wyoming, demanded to know how the movers voted. Mr. Reynolds, Philadelphia, spoke for the bill. When a request was made for first reading on the Gerberich Senate bill regulating biological studies objection was made and the rule was suspended on motion of Mr. Berntheisel, Lancaster.

SENATE RUSHES MANY BILLS TO THE HOUSE

Last Night to Forward Senate Measures Causes Long Session

The following Senate bills were passed finally by the Senate last night and rushed to the House, as yesterday was the last day bills originating in the upper body could be passed and sent to the lower house with any chance of getting through its final adjournment Thursday. Applying manufacturing laws to incorporate automobile repair shops of Philadelphia by the preservation by the State Librarian of certain old church records. Creating a commission to consider the advisability of erecting a branch building in Philadelphia by unauthorizing persons. Amending the Woman's Employment bill by authorizing the Department of Labor and Industry to subdivide the one day of rest in seven into two half-days. Joint resolution endorsing the plank in the last Republican platform urging the Federal Government to seek to obtain recognition of equal rights for the Jews of Russia. Authorizing the erection of garages fronting in streets, alleys or driveways 16 or more feet in width. House bills passed finally by the Senate last night included these: Regulating upholstering making and manufacture of mattresses. Requiring the Philadelphia City Treasurer to file a statement in the appointment of mercantile appraisers. Empowering the Forestry Department to grant rights of way through State forest lands. Providing for the discharge of persons arrested or held on process issued on a judgment entered in civil actions. Providing for the employment of convicts and other prisoners on public highways. Providing for the inclusion in Valley Forge Park of the site of Sullivan's bridge.

THE PAIN OF NEURALGIA

People think of neuralgia as a pain in the head or face, but neuralgia may affect any nerve of the body. Different names are given to it when it affects certain nerves. Thus neuralgia of the sciatic nerve is called sciatica, but the character of the pain and the nature of the disease is the same, the cause is the same, and the remedy, to be effective, must be the same. The pain of neuralgia is caused by starved nerves. The blood, which normally carries nourishment to the nerves, for some reason no longer does so and the pain that you feel is the cry of the nerves for food. The reason why the blood fails to properly nourish the nerves is often because the blood itself is weak and thin. Anemia, or thin blood, is the most common cause of neuralgia. Build up the thin blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and you are attacking neuralgia at its root. These tonic pills also have a peculiar and direct action on the nerves so that they are probably the very best possible remedy for the treatment of neuralgia. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Get a box today and write to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. To Become Plump, Popular and Attractive Thin people who have had to stand ridicule from their friends because they were a bit below normal weight know only too well that the best thing is to possess a figure that requires padding out in order to make a good appearance. Thinness is not always a sign of dissipation yet people often look with suspicion upon a person who looks rounded or under weight. Most thin people, however, fully realize that excessive thinness is a detriment to them as lately hundreds have been putting on pound after pound of good healthy flesh by simply drinking plenty of fresh water, avoiding acid foods and by taking a little Salltone after each meal. While Salltone is a new discovery, it seems to be exactly what thin people want to aid their digestive organs and to extract the fatty elements from their food. People who have been thin for years and have commenced to think it was natural for them to be this way, have rapidly developed into strong, healthy looking men and women after only a few weeks' treatment. Salltone is not expensive and most every druggist keeps it now in handy tablet form. The dose is one tablet after each meal and one before retiring at night. It is really marvelous how quickly thin people become plump and well developed by its use.

GOVERNOR VETOES HEFFERMAN'S BILL

Says in Explanation Such a Law Would Be 'Unwise and Unnecessary'

such clerk or clerks as he may deem necessary and the auditor general in section 15 is required and directed to pay the salaries of such clerks. "This opens the way for a greatly increased cost upon the Commonwealth. Under existing law only two counties, Allegheny and Philadelphia, employ clerks in this manner. This bill would allow all the registers in all the counties to employ and fix salaries of clerks and mandatorily compel the State to pay the said salaries. It is estimated that this would add about $200,000 to the present cost of this service. That the register of wills or any other county official should have the power to mandamus the State to pay expenses authorized by him and in the incurring of which the State has no voice is not sound business. It is unwise and unnecessary."

POMPEIAN OLIVE OIL ALWAYS FRESH PURE-SWEET-WHOLE SOME

Harrisburg High School W. S. Steele, Principal

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 25, 1913. Mr. A. C. MEAD, General Manager, Royal Union Mutual Life Insurance Co., Des Moines, Iowa.

Dear Sir:—I hold three policies of insurance in your most excellent company, the Royal Union, which I purchased from you at different times. I also carry several policies in other companies, and it has been my experience to view quite a number of different life insurance policies. I am free to confess that your contracts of insurance appeal to me as being the most attractive of any I have ever seen, and were I in a position to carry more life insurance, I would certainly give it to the Royal Union.

Yours very truly, W. S. Steele

Mr. A. C. Mead, General Manager, Royal Union Mutual Life Ins. Co., Harrisburg, Pa.

Dear Sir: I wish to thank you for your very prompt and satisfactory settlement of the insurance carried in your most excellent company upon my late husband William S. Steele.

Owing to the fact that Mr. Steele died away from home, there was some delay in securing the death proofs, but once received you have certainly been very prompt in your settlement which I assure you is much appreciated by me. Yours very truly, Ella S. Steele

COCOANUT OIL FINE FOR WASHING HAIR

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just common mulitised cocoonut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulitised cocoonut oil (it must be mulitised, plain cocoonut oil will not do) at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last every one in the family for months.

State Police Help to Preserve Neutrality

While James Nelson, a German farmer of Butler, accompanied by a woman was passing a group of Italians, who were discussing the war Sunday, he was attacked and severely beaten. The woman was not molested. A description of the man who attacked him was secured by the German and turned over to the State Police. Privates Scheibner and Kohler were detailed and yesterday arrested Tony De Sartine.
