

PRESIDENT WILSON HOPES AMERICANS CAN SHOW WAY TO PEACE

In Opening Pan-American Financial Conference He Tells of Existing Relations WANTS MORE MERCHANT SHIPS Says Government Must Provide Vessels If Private Capital Is Not Available

Washington, May 24.—President Wilson speaking at the opening of the Pan-American Financial Conference here to-day expressed the hope that the Americans might show the world the path to peace. The President was loudly applauded by the delegates as he entered the hall of the Americas in the Pan-American Union Building where the meetings are being held.

There can be no sort of union or interest if there is no purpose of exploitation on the part of any person connected with a great conference of this sort. We are not, therefore, trying to make use of each other, but we are trying to be of use to one another.

It is very surprising to me, it is even a source of mortification that a conference like this should have been so long delayed, that it should never have occurred before, that it should have required a crisis of the world to show the Americas how truly they were neighbors to one another.

It would be a very great thing if the Americas could show the way to permanent peace. The way to peace for us, at any rate, is manifest. It is the kind of rivalry which does not involve aggression. It is the knowledge that we can be of the greatest service to one another and nations of the greatest service to another when the jealousy between them is merely a jealousy of excellence, and when the basis of their interest is in the service of a common elevation in great enterprises which we can undertake in common.

Favors More Ships "There is one thing that stands in our way among others—for you are more conversant with the circumstances than I am; the thing I have chiefly in mind, is the physical lack of means of communication, the lack of vehicles, the lack of ships, the lack of established routes of trade—the lack of those things which are necessary if we are to have true commercial and intimate commercial relations with one another; and I am perfectly clear in my judgment that if private capital cannot soon enter upon the adventure of establishing these physical means of communication, the government must undertake to do so.

MAN HOUSEWIVES GREET MRS. VAUGHN Better Foods-Better Homes Week Opens at Fabnestock Hall With Big Attendance ADVANCES PRACTICAL IDEAS Finds Local Women Deeply Interested in Easy and Modern Housekeeping Methods

PROGRAM FOR TUESDAY AFTERNOON AT 2.30 Subject: "Economy." Menus: Roast Chicken in Fireless Cooker Corn Oysters Dixie Biscuit Astor Salad, Sour Cream Dressing Banbury Tart

Everyone connected with the Better Foods-Better Homes campaign inaugurated by the Telegraph, is delighted with the way in which this campaign opened this afternoon. A very large and enthusiastic audience gathered when the doors opened at 1.30 o'clock to greet Mrs. Vaughn.

Mrs. Vaughn in her immaculate domestic science uniform presented a very pleasing appearance and the housewives present were much interested in the complete domestic science kitchen which had been provided for a stage setting. This was not just a scenic background provided for effect, but was quite real and every item of it was used by Mrs. Vaughn and her assistants in their interesting and helpful cookery lesson.

Interested in Better Homes Harrisburg housewives manifested a deep and intelligent interest in the subject of better foods and their relations to better homes as presented by Mrs. Vaughn in her lecture this afternoon on "The Home." Her ideas along this line are not at all in accordance with the bizarre theories presented by many present day lecturers and writers, who have a tendency to tear down all the established traditions that have meant so much in the home life of America. She is not at all in sympathy with them.

Austrian Aeroplanes Sweep Coast of Italy London, May 24.—It is apparent that Austrian aeroplanes have swept virtually the entire eastern coast of Italy. From Venice at the head of the Adriatic they have made their way far south as Barietta, a distance of 350 miles, committing acts of hostility during their progress. Barietta is 125 miles north of the strait of Otranto at the entrance of the Adriatic.

AUSTRIAN AEROPLANES MAKE ATTACK ON ITALIAN ARSENALS PATROLS ALONG FRONTIER CLASH; GERMANS HAVE DECLARED WAR ON ITALY

Exceptionally Rigid Censorship Established in Italy; Austro-German Advance Checked, According to Petrograd Dispatches; British and French Increase Landing Force on Gallipoli Peninsula

The first blow was struck in the war between Italy and Austria-Hungary. Austrian aeroplanes attacked the Italian arsenals at Venice, and also visited several other Italian cities, passing along the eastern coast. According to Rome reports they were driven off.

With the exception of clashes between frontier patrols, no other fighting has yet been reported. Italy's declaration of war took effect to-day but an unusually rigid censorship, established by royal decree, restricts the transmission of information concerning military movements.

A message coming from Germany by a round about way states that the semi-official Wolff agency has announced that Germany has declared war on Italy. Both Austria and Italy have large armies along the frontier, and it is assumed the campaign will open up in this mountainous region. Italy also is said to have assembled an army of the southeastern coast of the country across the Adriatic from Albania.

Advance Is Checked Official announcement is made at Petrograd that the Austro-German forces, after sweeping across the western half of Galicia, have been checked. They are now said to have assumed the defensive, their efforts to compel a retreat of the Russians from the San having failed.
