HUERTA'S ARREST CRIMPS REVOLUTION

 president of Mexico were prepared to furnish surety greatly in excess of the amount fixed.
 With the former generals at liberty, Mexican and American officials were watching developments among their adherents. Apparently the tendency of other factional leaders was to await the next move of their opponents.
 A large crowd gathered at his daughter's home continued to shout "vivas" for Huerta until long after midnight.
 As to the legal phases of Huerta's arrest, there was no action looked for until July 1, the date set for the Huerta-Orozco hearing.
 General Huerta, en route to El Paso, left a train at Newman, N. M., intending to complete the twenty-mile trip by automobile with General Pascual Orozco and Major Luis Fuentes. Instead, the former president was invited to accompany United States officials to the federal building for a conference with representatives of the Department of Justice. The trip to the city was made under guard of the Fifteenth United States Cavalry, under Colonel George H. Morgan. Huerta made no objection.
 Taken to Fort Bliss
 News of Huerta's arrival spread rapidly and so great a crowd gathered around the federal building that on request of Mayor Lea federal and military officials agreed to take the two officers to Fort Bliss pending action by the Department of Justice representatives. Both were released and Huerta, in conference with newspaper men, expressed his appreciation of the courtesy shown him.
 Washington, D. C., June 28.—Officials at the State Department declined to say whether the detention in Texas of Victoriano Huerta to ward against any contemplated counter-revolutionary movement was a part of the Washington government's plans for compelling a solution by the Carranza, Villa and Zapata factions now in the field. Both the Villa and Carranza agents here interpreted Huerta's detention, however, as meaning that the American government was unwilling that Huerta should complicate the situation by a re-entry into Mexico.

POLICE SEARCHING FOR HOLD-UP MEN

 of the men said to have robbed Mr. Long to the police, except that both were colored.
 Mr. Long says he was riding in his automobile Saturday night with Mrs. Long and a son. They returned shortly before 8 o'clock. Long told his wife that he was going to meet several friends at the Mechanics Bank. Before going downtown he drove his car uptown. He was on his way down Division street to "C" street when the car was held up by two colored men.
 Struck Over Head
 Mr. Long said the men hit him over the head with a club or iron bar. They then rifled his pockets. He partly regained his senses and managed to drive his car home. He went to the rear door of his home and was admitted by a member of his family, Mr. Long then, according to his own story, went to the bath room, washed the blood from his face, called Dr. J. Ross Swartz and went to bed.
 When Dr. Swartz arrived he found Mr. Long in a semiconscious condition and ordered his immediate removal to the hospital.
 Detectives White and Murnane were assigned to the case. They went to the Long garage and found his battered hat, and blood spots all over the seat of the car and on the running boards. They also found the division street but were unable to find any signs of a scuffle.
 Colonel Joseph B. Hutchison and the detectives after a further investigation expressed their opinion that Mr. Long was a hold-up victim and sent word to nearby towns to watch for two suspicious colored men.

FIRST YEAR OF WAR COSTS 6,000,000 MEN

 Turkey. The war to date, according to conservative estimates compiled from the best available reports, has caused a loss to the various belligerents of more than 6,000,000 men, dead, wounded and prisoners, and more than 500 ships. Of these about 120 were war vessels.
 The outstanding results on land are these:
 The greater part of Belgium is under the control of Germany.
 Germany has been driven from the Far East.
 A part of the Dardanelles is in the possession of the allied troops.
 Part of France and Russia are in the possession of German troops.
 A strip of Alsace has been taken from Germany.
 On the continent of Africa parts of territorial possessions have been lost by both sides.
 Various island possessions of Germany have been taken by forces of the allies.
 Italian troops are in possession of a strip of Austrian territory.
 Losses in Sea Battles
 The outstanding results at sea are these:
 German and Austrian mercantile shipping has been driven from all the oceans.
 German and Austrian war vessels, having a total displacement of approximately 257,000 tons, have been destroyed.
 War vessels of the allied nations, having a total displacement of approximately 192,000 tons, have been sent to the bottom.
 The greater portions of the German and allied fleets in the North Sea remain intact.
 Except for communication through Holland and the Scandinavian nations, Germany is cut off from the rest of the world.
 Efforts on the part of the Germans to place the British Isles in a similar predicament have resulted in the sinking by submarines of hundreds of vessels flying the flags of the allied and neutral nations.
 The sinking in this manner of the Cunard liner Lusitania, with the loss of more than 100 American lives, precipitated a request upon the part of the United States that such practices, in so far as they might menace Americans, be stopped.
