

J. P. MORGAN SHOT BY 'CHRISTIAN' WHO WOULD END THE WAR

Head of Big Banking House and Financial Agent of British Government Attacked by Man Who Entered Morgan Home at 9 O'clock This Morning; Not Seriously Wounded Is Report; One Ball in His Hip; Other in Breast, Passing Through Arm

"F. HOLT," OF CORNELL FACULTY, ASSAILANT

Instructor in German at University Asserts He Felt It His Duty to Persuade Financier to End Conflict; Effect on Stock Market Hardly Noticeable

J. P. MORGAN

New York, July 3.—J. P. Morgan, head of the big banking house of his name and financial agent in this country of the British government was shot twice at his country home at Glen Cove, L. I., by a man who entered the Morgan home shortly after 9 o'clock to-day.

It was said that Mr. Morgan was not seriously wounded. "One of the shots, it was reported, took effect in his hip, the other in his breast, tearing the flesh and passing out through his arm. The assailant was overpowered by servants, placed in the Morgan automobile and rushed to Glen Cove. There he refused to say who he was or where he came from, but asserted that he was "a Christian gentleman," and had felt it his duty to persuade Mr. Morgan to end the war.

The effect on the stock market was hardly noticeable.

"F. HOLT" SHOT MORGAN Glen Cove, N. Y., July 3.—Mr. Morgan's assailant asserted later this afternoon that his name was F. Holt and said that he was an instructor in German at Cornell University.

IN CORNELL LIST New York, July 3.—The Cornell University faculty list contains the name of a Frank Holt, who has been instructor in German at the university since 1912. He holds the degree of Bachelor of Arts. There is nothing in the list to indicate where he received his degree.

HOLT NOT IN ITHACA Ithaca, N. Y., July 3.—Frank Holt is not in Ithaca and was believed here to be in New York City. He has been an instructor at Cornell during the past year, coming here from a university in West Virginia. He is of German descent, but not birth, it is said. He is described as about 35 years old and married. He is not a Cornell graduate and was to go to the University of Texas next Fall as a professor.

SAID HE WAS MORGAN'S FRIEND

Glen Cove, July 3.—The man who shot Morgan came to Glen Cove this morning on the 8:53 train, hired an automobile and went to the Morgan home on Matiney Point. He rang the bell and when the butler answered called for Mr. Morgan. He said he was an old friend of Mr. Morgan's and was refused admission to the house.

PISTOL TO BUTLER'S STOMACH The man then pressed a pistol against the stomach of the butler, who screamed, and pushed his way past the servant into the hall. Mr. Morgan was approaching the front door through the hall at the time. He was asked what the trouble was. The answer was a shot which took effect in his hip.

Mr. Morgan staggered and fell into a chair. The butler, once the assailant's back was turned, picked up a brass coil rod from the fireplace and brought it down on the assailant's head but too late to prevent a second shot.

BUTLER FALLS ON MAN

The butler fell on the man, wrested the weapon away and overpowered him. Servants came running in answer to his call and the sheriff's office and a physician were telephoned. The man was placed under arrest and taken to Glen Cove. There he refused to say anything, even to giving his name.

A satchel which the man brought to Glen Cove was found near a hedge on the Morgan property. The satchel was filled with dynamite.

It was said that the assailant was seen yesterday in the neighborhood of Mr. Morgan's home.

Justice of Peace Luister questioned the prisoner.

"Christian Gentleman" "I am a Christian gentleman," was the only reply the man would give when pressed for his name. He declined also to say where he came from. As to his reasons for shooting Mr. Morgan, however, he was more communicative.

He told the justice that he had no quarrel with Mr. Morgan personally, but felt that the time had come for the war to end. It was becoming more and more unbearable, he said, and it was his firm belief that he should go to Mr. Morgan and ask him to end it. "This, he knew, Mr. Morgan could accomplish because of his great influence."

"I wanted to see Mr. Morgan and to reason with him," the man said. "I have nothing against him."

The assailant was cut over the eye by the blow from the coil rod which

MURDERER OF WOMAN IS STILL AT LARGE

The police have no additional clues to the murderer of Mrs. Ella Albright who was found dead in bed at her home, Fifteenth and Briggs streets, Wednesday night. A number of trails were run down yesterday by the detectives who are still working on the case.

HEAVY PLAGGPOLE DROPS SIX FLOORS INTO CROWD

One slightly damaged straw hat was all that occurred when a large flag and heavy pole crashed from the sixth floor of the Kunkel building this morning to Market street, which was crowded with shoppers.

The flag was being placed out of a window by an elevator boy when it slipped. The pole turned over and over in the air, landed on an awning on the pavement, then toppled over against the straw hat which was on a young man's head.

THE WEATHER

LONG BLIND, WAR VETERAN REGAINS SIGHT FOR 'FOURTH'

John Row, of Newburg, Begged Doctor to Help Him to See Another Independence Day

EYES STRAINED IN '61-'65 Surprised at 1915 Auto Models, Going to Big Washington Encampment

Totally blind since 1907 and with his sight partly dimmed for a number of years before that time, John Row, of Newburg, in a recent operation regained his sight.

Mr. Row will be 79 years old next month. He was a veteran of the Civil War, and when he began treatment several months ago begged his physician to have his eyesight in condition so that he could see to celebrate and enjoy the big time at Newburg on the Fourth of July.

However, Mr. Row can only use one eye. Several years ago a specialist operated upon the left eye in an effort to restore the sight but ruined it. Not caring to risk his other eye under the knife the old soldier preferred to remain blind, but after many

Will Oppose Transfer of Rum License to West End at Big Mass Meeting

Residents of the West End, indignantly at the action of Frederick W. Ebel, proprietor of the National Hotel, in trying to have his license transferred from Fourth and State streets to 1502 North Front street, will hold a mass meeting to-morrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in Augsburg Lutheran Church. Robert A. Enders will preside, and the Rev. E. A. Pyles, pastor of the Fifth Street Methodist Church, will be the principal speaker. Addresses will be made by other prominent churchmen.

The meeting is open to all and it is intended by those back of the meeting to start to circulate a petition which will be presented to the court as an argument against the transfer.

The National Hotel now stands in the Capitol Park Extension zone and will be razed eventually for the improvements. Ebel applied for the license transfer on Wednesday.

CITY'S THOUSANDS TO GREET LIBERTY'S EMBLEM ON MONDAY

Bell Due Here at 6.15 in Evening to Be Met by All Harrisburg; Toll of Bells to Announce Arrival; Children in Parade; All Arrangements but the Weather Are Settled

Uncle Sam will be Harrisburg's guest of honor for two days—to-morrow and Monday.

Independence Day, the occasion, falls this year on Sunday, but Harrisburg, like the rest of the country, will celebrate the birthday anniversary of the nation on July 5.

While there will be ball games, picnics, band concerts, etc., on Harrisburg's amusement schedule, the big feature, of course, will be the arrival and departure of the Liberty Bell.

Not that the Bell is exactly a stranger to Pennsylvania's capital; it has been a guest here before, but it has been so long ago that the folks of the present generation are mighty anxious to see it again en route to the Panama-Pacific Exposition. So it is unnecessary to say that a mighty crowd will be on hand to extend a

BOMB WRECKS ROOM ON SENATE SIDE OF NATIONAL CAPITOL

Terrific Explosion Heard For Many Blocks; Thought Dome Had Fallen

THOUGHT DEED OF "CRANK" Officials Say It May Be Protest Against Policies of American Government

By Associated Press

Washington, July 3.—Investigation was under way to determine the cause of the terrific explosion which wrecked the public reception room on the Senate side of the Capitol late last night.

While the exact cause of the blast could not be ascertained until after an expert inquiry had been conducted, it was generally believed to have been due to a bomb or infernal machine.

None of the force of employees of the Capitol were on duty in that part of the building at the time of the explosion and no one was injured.

Piles of shattered plaster from the frescoed ceiling and walls, broken crystals from the big chandelier, pieces of the immense mirror, glass from the windows and splintered woodwork littered the floor early to-day. Glass was broken and part of the panelling smashed in the door opening from the reception hall into the lobby running along the rear of the Senate chamber.

A heavy door opening into the vice-president's room, but which had not been opened for many years, was blown partly open by the force of the explosion, and the door leading into the room of the sergeant-at-arms on the opposite side from that of the vice-president was damaged.

Explosion Heard Blocks Away The explosion was heard for many blocks away and guards in all parts of the Capitol and excited persons from some distance came running to see what had happened.

While no one was injured, Watchman Jones, who was seated at the Senate entrance door almost immediately beneath the wrecked room, was almost lifted from his chair by the force of the explosion. Watchmen in the far end of the building, a long city block away, thought the dome of the Capitol was falling in or that some equally great catastrophe had occur-

MEXICO'S RULER FOR 30 YEARS IS DEAD

Porfirio Diaz Dies Suddenly in Paris Where He Has Been in Exile

Paris, July 3.—General Porfirio Diaz, former President of Mexico, died at 7 o'clock last evening, aged 85.

Members of the family of Gen. Porfirio Diaz have not yet determined what arrangements will be made for the funeral of the late President of Mexico, except that they will be of simple character in keeping with his quiet life in Paris.

General Diaz had been in failing health since reaching Europe in 1911, after his resignation from the Presidency of Mexico, following the successful Madero revolution. Last Fall he

GOVERNOR TO FIGHT ON FOR LOCAL OPTION

Will Carry Battle Into Counties; to Oppose Liquor Owned Legislators

Special to The Telegraph Altoona, Pa., July 3.—Surrounded by his relatives and boyhood friends, who gathered for the ninth annual Brumbaugh reunion yesterday at Martinsburg, Governor Brumbaugh renewed his pre-election pledges for moral and political reforms and urged his hearers to give more attention to such matters and take a larger part in public affairs.

He made a strong plea for clean living, high thinking and square dealing. The Governor told of the fight he made for local option and gave notice that it would be renewed. He declared he intended to carry the fight into the home districts of the legislators who opposed local option if they are candidates to succeed themselves.

Nearly every Brumbaugh in Blair, Huntingdon, Cambria and Bedford counties was present. John S. Imler, former treasurer of Bedford county, came from California. The Governor's appetite had been made keen by his experiences on the road and he greatly enjoyed the basket dinner.

Sweden Protests to Czar on Neutrality Violation

By Associated Press London, July 3.—The Stockholm report of the Reuter Telegram Company states that the Swedish minister to Petrograd has been instructed to protest against the violation of Swedish neutrality involved by Russian warships firing on German warships within Swedish territorial waters. A division of Swedish torpedobomb destroyers has been sent to intern the German mine layer Albatross.

BECKER TO SQUEAL ON "HIGHER-UPS"

Will Tell With Whom He Divided $100,000 Graft His Squad Collected

New York, July 3.—On the authority of Charles Becker's counsel, Martin T. Manton, it was stated to-day that if Becker falls in his appeal to the United States Supreme Court he will, before going to the electric chair for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, make a public disclosure of the names of the men with whom he is alleged to have divided $100,000 in graft money collected from gamblers and keepers of illegal resorts during his career as head of the famous police strong arm squad. Six men, some of them police department officials, are understood to be involved in the statement Becker has prepared while awaiting the outcome of appeals to Governor Whitman and the United States Supreme Court.

"Becker will make a clean breast of the grafting," said Mr. Manton. "He will issue a statement not for pay, but to divide the guilt of graft. He realizes his perilous position and does not want to die, if he must, and leave a set of men to use others as he has been used. He wishes to have the truth of his mind as soon as possible."

It was reported that Becker's statement would attempt to explain the death of "Big Tim" Sullivan, who was believed to have been killed by a New Haven railroad train.

PENNSY TO SHORTCUT LINE TO PITTSBURGH?

To Lop 65 Miles Off Route Rumor at Blain Where Engineers Are Working

Special to The Telegraph Blain, Pa., July 3.—Work of a railroad engineering corps west of New Germantown on the road leading across the mountain toward Pittsburgh has given color to the rumor that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is again considering the taking over of the Newport and Sherman's Valley railroad, which runs from Newport to New Germantown, a distance of thirty miles, with a view to extending the line.

The distance from Harrisburg to Pittsburgh by this route would be shortened sixty-five miles and it is known that the project has been under consideration a number of times in the past several years. The engineers have gone over the line of the railroad this week and have also worked on the mountain beyond the terminus. At present two mixed trains are run daily each way over the Newport and Sherman's Valley.

THUNDER CLAPS TO HELP CELEBRATE THE FOURTH

The weather outlook for to-morrow is rather poor, according to Forecaster Demain this afternoon, who said the sky will be overcast this week and will work on the day and that thunder showers are expected.

While he is not permitted by the government to go into details more than two days ahead, he intimated that the weather for Monday would be much on the same order. The cool nights and warm days are responsible for the present uncertain weather.

WRECK EXTRA! WRECK EXTRA!

Tacoma, Wash., July 3.—Many persons are reported to have been killed near Ranier, Wash., to-day when a Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul passenger train jumped the tracks, according to a long distance telephone message received here from McKenna, Wash. The meager report said that many others were reported to have been injured.

The wreck came when a Northern Pacific derrick passed under the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul tracks and in some unaccountable manner loosened the braces of the structure supporting the elevated right of way. Just as the derrick passed under the tracks the fast passenger train thundered onto the structure and was precipitated down upon the freight train. Officials of both railroads refused to admit that anyone was killed, but it was known that the ground about the tracks was strewn with many persons who were thrown or jumped from the wreckage and were seriously hurt. A special train carrying Red Cross nurses and surgeons started for the scene.

NO TELEGRAPH MONDAY

In accordance with a long established custom, there will be no issue of the Harrisburg Telegraph on Independence Day, which is to be observed generally throughout the nation on Monday, July 5.

NEVER MIND THE STRING

Don't put it off until you get downtown, don't wait another minute. Order the Harrisburg Telegraph to your vacation address, then you won't miss a single issue. You're going for a rest; but you're not going to drop out of Harrisburg life. You'll want to know what's doing at home. Telephone the Circulation Department or drop a postal card.
