WHAT CONSTITUTES CONTROLLER'S JOB?

Duties of That Office Will Be Officially Looked Into by City Council at Next Session

What are the duties of a city controller's job in Harrisburg? What is the job worth? City Council at its meeting next Tuesday will take up those problems. The questions were raised this afternoon by City Commissioner Gorgas who said that, in view of the fact that a city controller will be elected this fall, he thinks it only proper that Council should define these duties and fix the salary so that the prospective candidates will know what they must do and what they will receive for their work.

Since the new form of government went into effect two years ago the city has had no controller, this work having been taken over by Mr. Gorgas, the Superintendent of Finance and Accounts. County Controller H. W. Gough who has never resigned as city controller, has contended right along that he automatically vacated the office when he assumed the county office. City Solicitor Seitz, however, has always contended that the place will officially be held by Mr. Gough until he formally resigns.

SCOUT TROOP NO. 18 CAMPS AT IROQUOIS

Have Wireless Outfit, Daily Paper and Weather Reports

Troop 18, Boy Scouts of America, the troop connected with the Covenant Presbyterian Church, is camping at Iroquois with the Rev. Harvey Klaier, the pastor, in charge of the camp. The eight sleeping tents and the big dining fly make a creditable showing, and the camp has attracted a good deal of attention from the many passengers on the Pennsylvania Railroad, as the camp is in full view of all trains. Since pitching camp on Tuesday of last week, there has been a great deal of rain, but all the boys are in good health and are reporting a good time. The camp has its wireless outfit and the baseball scores, weather reports and official time are received each day. The camp has been named Camp Water Dog, and a daily paper, "The Water Dog's Bark" is published each day containing the wireless news, jokes, camp instructions and such other items as are of interest to the boys. The daily cartoon is a leading feature of the issue, and great talent has been shown in its preparation.

The camp is divided into squads, and each one assists in turn with some portion of the necessary work. The remainder of the time is spent in swimming, boating, fishing, hiking and mountain climbing. Each night there is a camp meeting, when the affairs of the camp are discussed, and Sunday afternoon the Sunday school lesson is taught. The first Sunday O. P. Beckley, teacher of the Men's Class, of the Derry Street United Brethren Church, was the teacher. Many visitors each day enliven the time.

WHO'S WHO IN MAD DOGS BEFORE COURT

Robert Detweiler, Through Counsel, Asks For Mandamus Against County Commissioners

The Dauphin county court will have to decide whether or not mad dogs act alone when on a calf slaying expedition or whether they might form a quintet for that sort of business. The problem will be put up to the court when a request is considered for a mandamus upon the County Commissioners requiring them to show cause why they should not pay Robert Detweiler, an Oberlin farmer, his claim of $160 and costs for five calves which, he alleges, were killed by a group of five mad dogs. The writ will be asked for late to-day or early to-morrow by Victor Braddock, counsel for Detweiler, because of the Commissioners' refusal to honor the claim. The Commissioners contend that mad dogs do not operate in groups but that they always act singly and that, therefore, the claim of Detweiler that five mad dogs destroyed his calves is open to question.
