PASTOR WILL TRY TO STOP BAND CONCERTS

Marysville Church People Say Music on Sunday Evening Interferes With Attendance

Special to The Telegraph
Marysville, Pa., July 15.—Marysville citizens have been enjoying the sacred band concerts which have been given by the Marysville Cornet Band on Diamond Square each Sunday evening during the past few weeks, but it now looks as if they may be denied this privilege henceforth.

The Rev. Mr. A. Parson, pastor of the Church of God, Bethel, and several of his parishioners, object to the concerts, claiming that they keep their church members, as well as other persons, from attending their church services.

The Rev. Mr. Parson has taken his side of the case to Chief Burgess Frank W. Lentz, in an effort to have the concerts stopped. Last evening, Burgess Lentz refused to make any statement in regard to what he would do concerning the concerts.

D. D. Fisher, leader of the local band, in giving his side of the story, states that he sees no reason why there should be any objections to the concerts by any church or church members. He asserts that the concerts always begin promptly at 6:30 o'clock and always over at 7:15 o'clock at the very latest.

It was stated last evening that the concert would be held as usual on Sunday. No interference is looked for as Burgess Lentz, who intimated that he would be obliged to confer with Borough Council before taking action.

Baldwin Company Gets Largest Shrapnel Order

Philadelphia, July 15.—One of the largest single war orders for munitions placed by the allies in this country was closed yesterday by the Baldwin Locomotive Works. It is understood the company will receive a gross revenue of about $15,000,000 and $20,000,000 on a contract for manufacturing shrapnel.

The order, it was learned, was closed on terms dictated by officers of the Baldwin company, assuring it a net manufacturing profit far in excess of that being made by competitors turning out shells for the French, English and Russian governments. Initial negotiations between agents of the allies and the company were opened more than a month ago, but were abandoned over the question of price. When renewed the locomotive builders, it was said, accepted the contract only at the company's set figures.

PATROL SYSTEM FOR ROAD REPAIRS

economy of the new system will be appreciated.

These patrol men will be directly under the County Superintendents. They will be required to make out a daily report of the number of hours they work and these reports will be collected by the County Superintendents, who will make out payrolls for the patrol men. As the County Superintendents have been supplied with light roadsters, it will be possible for them to keep in close touch with these patrol men on the State Highways and to ascertain whether or not the work is being done properly.

Each patrol man will be supplied with tools and equipment necessary for his work and each will have a small red flag which will be required to place in a conspicuous position on the road when, for any reason, he is required to leave the roadside during working hours. The presence of the patrol man at work or of his flag, indicating temporary absence, will be noticeable during the working hours.

Care in Selections
Great care is being exercised in the selecting of these patrol men and State Highway Commissioner Cunningham is determined to have none but sober, honest and industrious men in these responsible positions. If it is found that the patrol men are neglecting their work, instant dismissal will follow.

System of Work
The manner in which the caretakers will work is as follows:
Along the side of the highway at frequent intervals will be placed small piles of stone chips and gravel, which will be used in patching holes as they are found in the roadway. Barrels, or drums of bituminous material, containing approximately 45 gallons each, will be placed at intervals of from one-fourth to one-third of a mile along the roadside. When the caretaker finds a spot in the road which shows signs of wear, he will place the stones and bituminous material on it, tamping it down carefully and making the surface of the road smooth and even. The caretaker also will look after the edges of the road and will keep the berms clear of weeds and grass and will protect the shoulders of the road to prevent water from seeping underneath. Each patrol man will be supplied with the following outfit: A small combination melting and pouring pot, a hand-pouring pot, an asphalt tamping, a wheel-barrow, a push brush, a pick, a short-handled and a long-handled shovel; a scythe, a snaffle, a mattock, a rake, and a brush hook.

As these patrol men will be under the constant watch of the County Superintendent, it will be necessary for him to be on the road at all times and attention to the territory to which they are assigned. It is the intention, ultimately, that no man shall have more than six miles of roadway to patrol and this only in sections where the character of the road is such that he can cover it easily and conveniently in a day. In mountainous districts, and in places where peculiar formations make the care of the road more onerous, the patrol distance will be diminished.

PACKARD "TWIN SIX" DUE HERE

One of the greatest sensations ever produced in the automobile industry resulted from the announcement by the Packard Motor Car Company that they could produce a "Twin Six" model exclusively for the coming season.

One of the principal reasons why the Packard "Twin Six" has obtained so much public notice since its first announcement is because of the unusual ability provided by its exceedingly simple twelve-cylinder motor. This motor comprises two twin sets of six cylinders each, set at an angle of sixty degrees in the corresponding six-cylinder engine and there are twice the number of impulses per revolution. Consequently, the motor gives the most even torque obtainable and runs absolutely without vibration. This very compact construction makes possible a shorter, lighter car with a shorter turning radius without reducing the length of roominess of the body.

Another feature that is attracting the attention of all those who have seen the car is the extreme simplicity of design of the entire chassis and the unexpected accessibility of all parts about the engine.

E. B. Harrington, local manager of the Packard branch, states the activity of the car in all kinds of driving, whether in town or on country roads is actually amazing, and has arranged for a "Twin Six" to be in Harrisburg for exhibition and demonstrating purposes on Friday, July 16, Adv.
