Times change and styles change, but the fundamentally good things of this world change neither in themselves nor in popular esteem. For 29 years Coca-Cola has held and increased its popularity. That's because it is fundamentally delicious, refreshing and wholesome.

BITING DOGS NEVER GO IN FOR BARKING

County Commissioners Contend
Old Rule About Barking
Dogs Applies Both Ways

If barking dogs never bite, then, according to Dauphin county's board of commissioners, the old rule works both ways: biting dogs, mad biting dogs at least, never bark. That is the principle, anyway, upon which the commissioners, through their counsel, answer the mandamus action instituted by Robert Detweiler, an Oberlin farmer, against the county for a bill of $160 which he contends represents the value of four calves killed by mad dogs. The answer was filed yesterday and the case will now go on the regular argument list in October. The commissioners question whether or not five mad dogs would run around in a bunch to attack cattle. The principal point, however, is based on the peculiar action of the dogs as related by one of the witnesses. Medical experts on rabies are cited. It is pointed out that the dogs in question barked furiously at the cattle and that it was really the barking of the dogs that roused the witnesses, residents of nearby farms.

"Mad dogs bite," concludes the commissioners' answer, "but in so biting they never bark!"

Thump On Head Causes Insanity.—Several months ago Joseph C. Donaldson, of Penbrook, was struck by a mysterious assailant while crossing a dark street in Philadelphia. The marauder evidently used a club and Donaldson fell unconscious to the pavement. Robbery, it is believed, was the motive. Since that time Donaldson's mind, apparently, became weaker and yesterday a commission recently appointed by the Dauphin county court advised his removal to the State insane asylum. Donaldson's assailant was never caught.

Building Permits Total $1,000.—Building permits yesterday totaled only $1,000. They included: Charles Azarson, addition to 3-story brick at 257 Forster street, $700; W. F. Ginns and H. L. Strickler, brick garage rear of 1621-23 North street, $300.

Nominating Petitioning Fees.—Nomination papers filed yesterday included: James W. Bricker, First precinct, Third ward, Steelton, assessor, Republican; Matthew Engle, Third ward, Middletown, Democrat; George Kerr, Royaltown, constable, Republican.

"SHOULD A MOTHER TELL?" AT THE VICTORIA TODAY

To-day we show one of the most remarkable pictures we have ever shown, "Should a Mother Tell?" in which the world famed tragedienne, Betty Nansen, is featured. On witnessing this picture one is confronted with a problem that seems, at first, to be unanswerable. It seems almost unjust for frail women to be called upon to face such a question. But since the beginning of time, it has been said, women have been called upon to shoulder most of the burdens and crosses of the world. In all mothers there is the world-old primitive instinct of the protection of their young.—Advertisement.

PAXTANG VAUDEVILLE

Manager Davis has a vaudeville show at his Paxtang Park theatre that makes that manager might well be proud of. The headliner, Olympia Desval and her troupe of trained dogs and horses, is the most pretentious animal act that has ever played the town. The equipment is complete, and the show is a wonderful stage picture arranged by posing the animals are really beautiful. It is so good that an animal act can be called artistic, but the Desval act is a work of art from start to finish. Professor Paak, with a real old-time Punch and Judy show, was one of the big laughing hits of the bill. Punch, Judy and all the familiar characters, even to the alligator that eats Punch at the finish, were there, and the old-time performance made a happy contrast with its modern vaudeville surroundings.

Bennie Franklin and his tots repeated the success of last season. Bessie Franklin is just as cute and entertaining as ever.

El Bart, the comedy trickster, who really looks like President Wilson, and Lear and Fields, in a snappy comedy skit, completed a most excellent park show.—Advertisement.

WILLIAM ELLIOTT IN "WHEN WE WERE TWENTY-ONE" AT THE REGENT

To-day is the last of "When We Were Twenty-one" featuring William Elliott at the Regent. The full worth of this superb film production will be appreciated by those who enjoy the inward feeling of a real play. It will appeal to thoughtful men of middle age, to young people, and particularly to women of all ages. In the play in which Mr. Elliott is introduced to the motion picture public, the popular star portrays the memorable character of the fascinating "Imp," who by turns delights and shocks his guardians and his loving friends, during his whirlwind course through the drama.

Atlantic City Cops Show Favoritism to Some Thin-Clad Maids?

Special to The Telegraph
Atlantic City, N. J., July 27.—Charges that shore policemen smile at bathing girls known to them and permit them to pass, regardless of the brevity of their costumes, while holding up and sending homeward others not encased by wraps while traversing streets, caused a great stir yesterday. Director Bartlett has promised to investigate. Form-fitting bathrobes worn by bathing maids beach bound are regarded by many as much more reprehensible than demure bathing costumes.

WILL DROP HOTEL LICENSE

Special to The Telegraph
Bloomsburg, Pa., July 27.—James Magee, former mayor of Bloomsburg, has determined that Bloomsburg's largest and finest hotel, the Exchange, which he owns, shall be changed from a licensed to a temperance house as soon as the present lease with Robert J. Huntzinger, the landlord, runs out. Huntzinger has $15,000 invested in the place, and has until next April to stay. The plan, according to Magee, is to remodel the house from top to bottom, put in electric elevator service and add many rooms with baths. The license will not be renewed, as Magee is a strong advocate of temperance. He is president of the Magee Carpet Company, of Bloomsburg.

reels. In plot the drama is engaging, the story is constructed beautifully, its psychology is laid on thoughtful lines, and if it were condensed it would prove a gripping heart-interest film offering. The substance of the six reels is as follows: Manuela, a wandering dancing girl, kills a man who has been persecuting her. Friday, one day only, by request, return engagement of Hall Caine's superb love story, "The Christian," in 8 parts.—Advertisement.

T. R. BLUES THE AIR
No Stateroom On Train and Officials Had to Hustle
Special to The Telegraph
Los Angeles, Cal., July 27.—Things went wrong with Colonel Roosevelt at the Santa Fe depot yesterday, and for a few minutes officials of the Santa Fe road felt some of the pressure of the "big stick." The Colonel stormed and the train was held until he had his way. All seats had been taken on the train before his arrival, and they were filled. But for once in his life the Colonel was a "stand-patter."

The trouble was due to the fact that tickets purchased in New York called for a stateroom on the 9:10 morning train to San Diego, and the train does not have such a thing. But the Colonel and his party went on the train just the same. The company finally put on an additional car for his accommodation. Then the atmosphere cleared and the Colonel settled down to a magazine and was reading as the train pulled out.
