

TENNIS TOURNAMENT DRAWS BIG CROWDS

22 Matches Played Off in Men's Singles; Women Play Fast Matches

Preliminary rounds in the annual city tennis tournament are attracting large crowds daily. To date the matches have with few exceptions been close. In the men's singles twenty-two matches have been played. Charles Pollock, who is in charge of the tournament, is at the Reservoir Park tennis courts early and late. The scores to date are as follows:

Men's singles, preliminary rounds—Miss E. Stary won from Miss E. Scholl, 6-1, 6-2; Miss Ford won from Miss F. Scholl, 6-0, 6-0; Miss Martin won from Miss M. Pollock, 6-0, 6-0.

First round—Miss Katherine Sweeney won from Mrs. Runkle, 6-3, 6-0; Miss Sheesley won from Miss Martin, 6-6, 8-3.

Women's doubles, preliminary round—Misses Katherine and Anne Sweeney lost to Misses Sheesley and Martin, 6-2, 6-2; Mrs. Runkle and Miss Ford won from Misses B. and F. Scholl, 6-1, 6-0; Misses Sheesley and Martin won from Misses B. and R. Stary, 6-0, 6-2. The finals were scheduled for this afternoon.

Mixed doubles, preliminary round—Frasch and Miss B. Stary won from G. Shreiner and Miss K. Sweeney, 6-1, 6-2; Koons and Mrs. Dunkle won from Dasher and Miss F. Scholl, 6-4, 6-1; Lightner and Miss Anne Sweeney won from H. Shreiner and Miss Pollock, 6-1 and 6-0.

In the first round Lightner and Miss Anne Sweeney won from Jackson and Miss Ford, 6-3, 6-0. The scores in the men's singles, preliminary round, follow:

Lightner won from Koons, 6-3, 6-0; G. Beard won from P. Richards, 1-6, 6-3, 6-3; R. Clark won from George Beard, 6-4, 6-7; Etter won from Royal, 6-2, 7-5; Jackson won from G. Shreiner, 6-1, 6-6; Lemaire won from Bevan, 6-4, 6-3; Kunkle won from Fellow, 6-1, 6-0; Messinger won from Frach, 7-5, 6-4; E. Clark won from Widder, 6-3, 6-2; H. Shreiner won from Estery, 7-5, 6-3; Yahn won from D. Moyer, 6-0, 6-0; Black won from Phelps, 6-1, 6-2; Beck won from Zeigler, 6-3, 6-1; Pollock won from Merkle, 6-0, 6-0; Rutherford won from Brandwine, 1-6, 6-4; S. Shreiner won from L. Moyer, 6-0, 6-0; March won from Graham, 6-0, 6-1; H. Clark won from Storey, 6-1, 6-2; Nisley won from Irvin, 6-0, 6-0; F. Shreiner won from Ellenberger, 7-9, 6-1, 6-3; Bortell won from Welles, 7-5, 7-5.

First round—Bortell won from F. Shreiner, 6-4, 6-6.

Men's doubles, preliminary round—Lightner and Black won from Phelps and McAllister, 6-2, 6-2; K. Richards and Sherman, 6-6, 6-4, 6-3; Weldenmyer won from Zeigler and Zimmerman, 7-9, 6-4, 6-3; Strickler and Garrison won from Royal and Shreiner, 2-6, 6-4; Koons and Messinger won from Yahn and F. Shreiner, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4; E. Shaffer and W. Shaffer won from Irvin and Unger, 6-6, 6-0; P. Richards and H. Clark won from Tennant and Gilbert, 6-2, 7-5.

Prisoner Breaks Away From Cop When Taken to Alderman's Office

When "Spike" Johnson, colored, accompanied by Patrolman Dickey, stepped inside Alderman C. E. Murray's office this morning, the prisoner's eyes were fixed on the floor and he bolted right away. The astonished officer started in pursuit down Strawberry street to Third and Third the chase led. Alderman Murray cut up Court street and out Walnut to the street. Johnson, who had been christened, has been charged with assault and battery in that he kicked up a row in the street. Johnson was taken to the Alderman's office and he was to have been heard this afternoon. Alderman Murray, perspiring and panting, managed to catch his breath and he recollected that as the officer and his prisoner were passing his office, he said: "I shall take him down to your office so we can go on with the hearing. Judge" asked "no, siree," still panted Mr. Murray, take him in there," nodding near at hand. He looked quickly at the clock and he said: "No, not now—city clerk preparing guide book data."

City Clerk Charles A. Miller is compiling statistics about Harrisburg. This valuable collection of figures will be published by the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce in the Fall. The book will be used in advertising Harrisburg, and it is said to be replete with information of interest to tourists.

"I AM NOT GUILTY" DECLARES BECKER

Becker was put to death by the State executioner whose name is unknown to the public. This man succeeded in getting the current to flow, he said he would not take the job unless his name was kept secret. He lives in a little town up State and he went about his work briskly.

Johnson said that in his opinion the man had died instantly at the first contact.

An autopsy on the body of Becker was performed, according to law, immediately after the execution.

Negro Follows Becker

Becker's body had been removed from the electric chair Samuel Haynes, a negro murderer, was brought into the room and electrocuted. One of Becker's last requests to Warden Osborne was that he be put to death before the negro.

A statement credited to Mrs. Becker was given out here shortly after her husband's death.

"I shall never rest," she was quoted as saying, "until I have exposed the methods which were used to convict my husband. Whether he was guilty or innocent there was no justification for the means employed to convict him."

Johnson would rather lose all the members of my family, as dear as they are to me, than lose Charlie. No one can take his place. In all of the ten years of our married life, I never had occasion once to regret that I was his wife.

"Charlie was no angel. He made no pretense of being one. He was just an ordinary human being—and perhaps that is why I loved him so."

Dr. W. O. Stillman, of Auburn, who assisted in the autopsy, said that Becker showed unusual resistance to the electric fluid.

After the autopsy Dr. Stillman said:

Becker a Powerful Man

"I noticed no unusual effects upon Becker's vital organs. The way he resisted the strong current was remarkable, showing him to be an unusually powerful man."

It was expected that Becker's body will be removed some time to-day to New York, where funeral services will be held probably on Sunday.

Becker was affected greatly by the parting with his wife, who stood steadfastly by him until all hope was gone.

Wife's Appeal Fruitless

Mrs. Becker's last effort to save her husband was made yesterday and she appealed personally to Governor C. S. Whitman, who as district attorney of New York, had prosecuted the case against Becker, for a reprieve so that an appeal might be taken to the State Court of Appeals from the decision of Justice Ford. Missing the Governor at Albany, Mrs. Becker met him at Poughkeepsie. The appeal was fruitless and the electric chair hurried to Sing Sing to bid her husband farewell. Mrs. Becker was with her husband for an hour, leaving the death house at 12:30 o'clock this morning. She left the prison in a suit of black clothes. New York, outwardly displaying no effects of the severe mental strain. John Becker, her brother-in-law, and John Lynch, her brother, accompanied her.

Prepared for Chair Yesterday

Becker yesterday was prepared for the carrying out of the death sentence. His hair was cut, he was shaved and given a suit of black clothes. The prison chaplain and Father Curry spent several hours with him. Father Curry gave the condemned man a marked Testament and a Prayer Book. A lengthy statement to Governor Whitman was given out by Becker late yesterday. In it Becker reiterated his innocence and declared he never had offered to plead guilty to second degree murder.

Becker went to his death three years and a day after his indictment and arrest and slightly more than fifteen months after the execution of the four gunmen convicted of actual murder of Rosenthal.

Becker was the first man who left the death house when granted a new trial to return there and suffer the death penalty. All others who have left Sing Sing's death house after being granted a new trial have failed to return there for some reason or other.

"I AM NOT GUILTY" DECLARES BECKER

Becker rose to his feet when he saw Johnson, and took a crucifix from the hand of the prison priest. To Father Curry Becker gave his last message as he took his place at the head of the little file of men that marched to the room of death. Becker's message which he uttered to the priest was: "I am not guilty by deed or conspiracy, or in any other way of the death of Rosenthal. I am sacrificed to my friends. Bear this message to the world and my friends. Amen."

In the chamber

The one-time police officer hesitated as he entered the execution room. It seemed to the witnesses as if he were started that the death chair was so near at hand. He looked quickly at the double row of witnesses, glanced at the floor, swept with his eyes the whitened walls of the room and then suddenly, as if coming to himself, walked briskly over the rubber mat and seated himself in the electric chair. Behind Becker followed the prison priest chanting the prayer of death which was repeated by the condemned man.

The Prayer of Death

"Jesus, Mary, Joseph, have mercy on my soul," nervously spoke Becker as deputy wardens stepped forward and adjusted the electrodes. Hardly a minute elapsed before the electrode was applied to the right leg, a slit had been previously cut in the trowsers leg from the knee down. After the electrode had been firmly adjusted against a shaven spot on the back of the condemned man's head, the State executioner looked at Deputy Warden Johnson, who surveyed the figure that was still mumbling the death prayer in the chair. Johnson half turned his head and the executioner jammed the switch.

The First Shock

The first shock lasted a full minute and the executioner said that it was 1,850 volts and ten amperes in strength. It came while Becker was still commending his soul to his Maker.

The two prison physicians stepped forward to examine the collapsed figure that sat supported in the death chair by the thick black leather straps. The stethoscope was applied to the heart and Dr. Charles Farr, the prison physician, pressed his fingers against an artery in the neck. There was still a feeble fluttering of the heart.

"Dead!"

The physician stepped back from the mat and again the electric current pulsed through the body. After a hasty examination Dr. Farr asked that third shock be given. It lasted five seconds. An examination that took several minutes followed. Three physicians among the witnesses then made an examination and Dr. Farr, at 5 o'clock quietly announced "I pronounce this man dead."

During the night Becker pencilled on a piece of paper what he captioned "My Dying Declaration." It was taken to the warden's office where two copies were typewritten, which Becker signed with his fountain pen in a bold hand. To Deputy Warden Johnson he gave the original. The original in place of Warden Thomas Mott Osborne, who does not believe in the death penalty, the one-time police lieutenant gave his fountain pen as a gift. "It is the last thing that I have to give away and I want you to have it. I want you to give this statement to the newspapermen," it read:

"Gentlemen: I stand before you in my full senses, knowing that no power on earth can save me from the grave that is to receive me. In the face of that, in the teeth of those who condemn me, and in the presence of my God and your God, I proclaim my absolute innocence of the foul crime for which I must die. You are now about to witness my destruction by the State, which is organized to protect the lives of the innocent. May Almighty God pardon everyone who has contributed in any degree to my untimely death. And now on the brink of my grave I declare to the world that I am proud to have been the husband of the purest, noblest woman that ever lived—Helen Becker. An undertaker was dispatched to Obesine to get the body of Becker. The funeral, it was announced, will take place Monday. A solemn high requiem mass will be said at the Church of St. Nicholas of Tolentine by the Rev. Nicholas J. Murray. Interment will be at Woodlawn Cemetery."

"JACK" SPEEL GOES ON RETIRED LIST

Mr. Speel is a native of Harrisburg. He was educated in the public schools and later took a course at the Harrisburg Academy under the late Jacob F. Seiler. Soon after his graduation from the Academy he received his first commission, assistant paymaster. His advancement was rapid.

During his service in the United States Navy, he made numerous trips around the world and at times was sent with the fleet on long and short cruises. He was on one of the American war boats during the Spanish-American war. For a number of years he was in service at League Island Navy yard, Philadelphia, and was also stationed at Charleston, S. C., Norfolk, and other naval stations.

CONCRETE DRAIN IN 13TH WARD STREETS

forced concrete, $8,779.

G. W. Ensign, Inc., amco segment block, $8,884.22; reinforced concrete, $7,387.66.

The section will be approximately 1,510 feet long and will be of the new

WORK OUT BIG WAR PROBLEM AT GRETTA

Commissary Lynch will make the necessary recommendations to Council relative to awarding the contract to Tuesday's session.

TO ASK INDICTMENTS IN EASTLAND CASE

Colonel John P. Wood, commanding the first Pennsylvania cavalry, was designated the commander of the Blue army, with his own troops constituting the Blue force, while Major John Bryan, commanding the New Jersey squadron was named as commander of the Red force with his army composed of his own squadron and the Maryland troop. Details from the two troops of regulars are scattered through both armies to give the benefit of their experience to the militia.

TO ASK INDICTMENTS IN EASTLAND CASE

Colonel John P. Wood, commanding the first Pennsylvania cavalry, was designated the commander of the Blue army, with his own troops constituting the Blue force, while Major John Bryan, commanding the New Jersey squadron was named as commander of the Red force with his army composed of his own squadron and the Maryland troop. Details from the two troops of regulars are scattered through both armies to give the benefit of their experience to the militia.

TO ASK INDICTMENTS IN EASTLAND CASE

Colonel John P. Wood, commanding the first Pennsylvania cavalry, was designated the commander of the Blue army, with his own troops constituting the Blue force, while Major John Bryan, commanding the New Jersey squadron was named as commander of the Red force with his army composed of his own squadron and the Maryland troop. Details from the two troops of regulars are scattered through both armies to give the benefit of their experience to the militia.

TO ASK INDICTMENTS IN EASTLAND CASE

Colonel John P. Wood, commanding the first Pennsylvania cavalry, was designated the commander of the Blue army, with his own troops constituting the Blue force, while Major John Bryan, commanding the New Jersey squadron was named as commander of the Red force with his army composed of his own squadron and the Maryland troop. Details from the two troops of regulars are scattered through both armies to give the benefit of their experience to the militia.

TO ASK INDICTMENTS IN EASTLAND CASE

Colonel John P. Wood, commanding the first Pennsylvania cavalry, was designated the commander of the Blue army, with his own troops constituting the Blue force, while Major John Bryan, commanding the New Jersey squadron was named as commander of the Red force with his army composed of his own squadron and the Maryland troop. Details from the two troops of regulars are scattered through both armies to give the benefit of their experience to the militia.

TO ASK INDICTMENTS IN EASTLAND CASE

Colonel John P. Wood, commanding the first Pennsylvania cavalry, was designated the commander of the Blue army, with his own troops constituting the Blue force, while Major John Bryan, commanding the New Jersey squadron was named as commander of the Red force with his army composed of his own squadron and the Maryland troop. Details from the two troops of regulars are scattered through both armies to give the benefit of their experience to the militia.

TO ASK INDICTMENTS IN EASTLAND CASE

Colonel John P. Wood, commanding the first Pennsylvania cavalry, was designated the commander of the Blue army, with his own troops constituting the Blue force, while Major John Bryan, commanding the New Jersey squadron was named as commander of the Red force with his army composed of his own squadron and the Maryland troop. Details from the two troops of regulars are scattered through both armies to give the benefit of their experience to the militia.

TO ASK INDICTMENTS IN EASTLAND CASE

Colonel John P. Wood, commanding the first Pennsylvania cavalry, was designated the commander of the Blue army, with his own troops constituting the Blue force, while Major John Bryan, commanding the New Jersey squadron was named as commander of the Red force with his army composed of his own squadron and the Maryland troop. Details from the two troops of regulars are scattered through both armies to give the benefit of their experience to the militia.

TO ASK INDICTMENTS IN EASTLAND CASE

Colonel John P. Wood, commanding the first Pennsylvania cavalry, was designated the commander of the Blue army, with his own troops constituting the Blue force, while Major John Bryan, commanding the New Jersey squadron was named as commander of the Red force with his army composed of his own squadron and the Maryland troop. Details from the two troops of regulars are scattered through both armies to give the benefit of their experience to the militia.

TO ASK INDICTMENTS IN EASTLAND CASE

Colonel John P. Wood, commanding the first Pennsylvania cavalry, was designated the commander of the Blue army, with his own troops constituting the Blue force, while Major John Bryan, commanding the New Jersey squadron was named as commander of the Red force with his army composed of his own squadron and the Maryland troop. Details from the two troops of regulars are scattered through both armies to give the benefit of their experience to the militia.

TO ASK INDICTMENTS IN EASTLAND CASE

Colonel John P. Wood, commanding the first Pennsylvania cavalry, was designated the commander of the Blue army, with his own troops constituting the Blue force, while Major John Bryan, commanding the New Jersey squadron was named as commander of the Red force with his army composed of his own squadron and the Maryland troop. Details from the two troops of regulars are scattered through both armies to give the benefit of their experience to the militia.

TO ASK INDICTMENTS IN EASTLAND CASE

Colonel John P. Wood, commanding the first Pennsylvania cavalry, was designated the commander of the Blue army, with his own troops constituting the Blue force, while Major John Bryan, commanding the New Jersey squadron was named as commander of the Red force with his army composed of his own squadron and the Maryland troop. Details from the two troops of regulars are scattered through both armies to give the benefit of their experience to the militia.

TO ASK INDICTMENTS IN EASTLAND CASE

Colonel John P. Wood, commanding the first Pennsylvania cavalry, was designated the commander of the Blue army, with his own troops constituting the Blue force, while Major John Bryan, commanding the New Jersey squadron was named as commander of the Red force with his army composed of his own squadron and the Maryland troop. Details from the two troops of regulars are scattered through both armies to give the benefit of their experience to the militia.

TO ASK INDICTMENTS IN EASTLAND CASE

Colonel John P. Wood, commanding the first Pennsylvania cavalry, was designated the commander of the Blue army, with his own troops constituting the Blue force, while Major John Bryan, commanding the New Jersey squadron was named as commander of the Red force with his army composed of his own squadron and the Maryland troop. Details from the two troops of regulars are scattered through both armies to give the benefit of their experience to the militia.

TO ASK INDICTMENTS IN EASTLAND CASE

Colonel John P. Wood, commanding the first Pennsylvania cavalry, was designated the commander of the Blue army, with his own troops constituting the Blue force, while Major John Bryan, commanding the New Jersey squadron was named as commander of the Red force with his army composed of his own squadron and the Maryland troop. Details from the two troops of regulars are scattered through both armies to give the benefit of their experience to the militia.

TO ASK INDICTMENTS IN EASTLAND CASE

Colonel John P. Wood, commanding the first Pennsylvania cavalry, was designated the commander of the Blue army, with his own troops constituting the Blue force, while Major John Bryan, commanding the New Jersey squadron was named as commander of the Red force with his army composed of his own squadron and the Maryland troop. Details from the two troops of regulars are scattered through both armies to give the benefit of their experience to the militia.

TO ASK INDICTMENTS IN EASTLAND CASE

Colonel John P. Wood, commanding the first Pennsylvania cavalry, was designated the commander of the Blue army, with his own troops constituting the Blue force, while Major John Bryan, commanding the New Jersey squadron was named as commander of the Red force with his army composed of his own squadron and the Maryland troop. Details from the two troops of regulars are scattered through both armies to give the benefit of their experience to the militia.

TO ASK INDICTMENTS IN EASTLAND CASE

Colonel John P. Wood, commanding the first Pennsylvania cavalry, was designated the commander of the Blue army, with his own troops constituting the Blue force, while Major John Bryan, commanding the New Jersey squadron was named as commander of the Red force with his army composed of his own squadron and the Maryland troop. Details from the two troops of regulars are scattered through both armies to give the benefit of their experience to the militia.

TO ASK INDICTMENTS IN EASTLAND CASE

Colonel John P. Wood, commanding the first Pennsylvania cavalry, was designated the commander of the Blue army, with his own troops constituting the Blue force, while Major John Bryan, commanding the New Jersey squadron was named as commander of the Red force with his army composed of his own squadron and the Maryland troop. Details from the two troops of regulars are scattered through both armies to give the benefit of their experience to the militia.

TO ASK INDICTMENTS IN EASTLAND CASE

Colonel John P. Wood, commanding the first Pennsylvania cavalry, was designated the commander of the Blue army, with his own troops constituting the Blue force, while Major John Bryan, commanding the New Jersey squadron was named as commander of the Red force with his army composed of his own squadron and the Maryland troop. Details from the two troops of regulars are scattered through both armies to give the benefit of their experience to the militia.

TO ASK INDICTMENTS IN EASTLAND CASE

Colonel John P. Wood, commanding the first Pennsylvania cavalry, was designated the commander of the Blue army, with his own troops constituting the Blue force, while Major John Bryan, commanding the New Jersey squadron was named as commander of the Red force with his army composed of his own squadron and the Maryland troop. Details from the two troops of regulars are scattered through both armies to give the benefit of their experience to the militia.

Mrs. Becker Returns From Last Visit to the Dread Death House

New York, July 30. — Returning from her last visit to the death house at Sing Sing prison where she had taken her farewell of her husband, Mrs. Charles Becker arrived at the Becker home in the Bronx at 2:40 a. m. to-day. She was accompanied by one of Becker's brothers, who half carried her into the house. Mrs. Becker showed evidence of the deep distress she was undergoing. She was met by her sister, Miss Mary Lynch.

"Perfectly Proven Case of Guilt"—Whitman

Albany, N. Y., July 30. — Charles Becker never made a direct offer to plead guilty to murder in the second degree, and never offered directly to implicate others in graft exposures, other than to say the night Herosenthal was murdered," the Governor said. "He will can say that for he personally never has made any proposition to me. It is a well known fact that his counsel offered to implicate others in graft disclosures and named five persons. It was only a short time ago that Becker's counsel in New York City said that it was 'up to me' to name the men."

The Governor refused to discuss the assertion that Becker had offered to plead guilty to second degree murder, other than to say that Becker himself had never made such an offer. As for Becker's denial that he had ever sent counsel to meet arrested for complicity in the Rosenthal murder and the allegations that his first wife had died under mysterious circumstances, the Governor would only say that "those charges have been published in newspapers for three years." After answering questions concerning the Becker letter, the Governor exclaimed:

"I don't wish to say more about a man condemned to die. This man is guilty. There isn't the slightest doubt about it. It was the most perfectly proven case in the annals of criminal history."

MRS. BECKER BEARING UP WELL

New York, July 30.—Mrs. Becker, according to her brother, John Lynch, was bearing up well to-day after the strain she underwent yesterday and last night. Mrs. Becker is resting at her home and is not expected to see anyone except members of her family. An undertaker was dispatched to Obesine to get the body of Becker. The funeral, it was announced, will take place Monday. A solemn high requiem mass will be said at the Church of St. Nicholas of Tolentine by the Rev. Nicholas J. Murray. Interment will be at Woodlawn Cemetery.

"JACK" SPEEL GOES ON RETIRED LIST

Mr. Speel is a native of Harrisburg. He was educated in the public schools and later took a course at the Harrisburg Academy under the late Jacob F. Seiler. Soon after his graduation from the Academy he received his first commission, assistant paymaster. His advancement was rapid.

During his service in the United States Navy, he made numerous trips around the world and at times was sent with the fleet on long and short cruises. He was on one of the American war boats during the Spanish-American war. For a number of years he was in service at League Island Navy yard, Philadelphia, and was also stationed at Charleston, S. C., Norfolk, and other naval stations.

CONCRETE DRAIN IN 13TH WARD STREETS

forced concrete, $8,779.

G. W. Ensign, Inc., amco segment block, $8,884.22; reinforced concrete, $7,387.66.

The section will be approximately 1,510 feet long and will be of the new

WORK OUT BIG WAR PROBLEM AT GRETTA

Commissary Lynch will make the necessary recommendations to Council relative to awarding the contract to Tuesday's session.

TO ASK INDICTMENTS IN EASTLAND CASE

Colonel John P. Wood, commanding the first Pennsylvania cavalry, was designated the commander of the Blue army, with his own troops constituting the Blue force, while Major John Bryan, commanding the New Jersey squadron was named as commander of the Red force with his army composed of his own squadron and the Maryland troop. Details from the two troops of regulars are scattered through both armies to give the benefit of their experience to the militia.

TO ASK INDICTMENTS IN EASTLAND CASE

Colonel John P. Wood, commanding the first Pennsylvania cavalry, was designated the commander of the Blue army, with his own troops constituting the Blue force, while Major John Bryan, commanding the New Jersey squadron was named as commander of the Red force with his army composed of his own squadron and the Maryland troop. Details from the two troops of regulars are scattered through both armies to give the benefit of their experience to the militia.

TO ASK INDICTMENTS IN EASTLAND CASE

Colonel John P. Wood, commanding the first Pennsylvania cavalry, was designated the commander of the Blue army, with his own troops constituting the Blue force, while Major John Bryan, commanding the New Jersey squadron was named as commander of the Red force with his army composed of his own squadron and the Maryland troop. Details from the two troops of regulars are scattered through both armies to give the benefit of their experience to the militia.

TO ASK INDICTMENTS IN EASTLAND CASE

Colonel John P. Wood, commanding the first Pennsylvania cavalry, was designated the commander of the Blue army, with his own troops constituting the Blue force, while Major John Bryan, commanding the New Jersey squadron was named as commander of the Red force with his army composed of his own squadron and the Maryland troop. Details from the two troops of regulars are scattered through both armies to give the benefit of their experience to the militia.

CLOSING SALES DAY at Present Prices and Terms

PARK PLACE

To-morrow, Saturday, July 31st

Scores of people who were unable to come last Saturday will no doubt avail themselves of this opportunity of securing garden plots or bungalow sites at the present prices and terms. Excellent land values at a high, healthful elevation, along one of the best improved State highways out of Harrisburg. One continuous road as fine as a boulevard from the Capitol building on for miles past Park Place. No better place for a bungalow. No more suitable location for a garden plot on which to raise the products that will reduce the cost of living and help to pay for your home. The price of one lot in the city will buy a half dozen lots in this beautiful suburban residential district, and our terms make it convenient to pay while you are enjoying a good slice of the earth. Every cent you pay goes on the purchase.

$5.00 No Taxes---No Interest $1.00

Down Per Week

Take a Linglestown car to-morrow. Bring your lunch basket, if you like. There is a beautiful orchard near trolley in which you may enjoy real country comfort. Inspect the lots and location at your leisure. You will note the fifty-foot avenues; fifteen-foot alleys; oiled streets and the depth of plots. No plot less than 100 feet, some 250 feet deep. Plots 25 feet, 50 feet, 75 feet and 100 feet wide. Suitable building restrictions. We refuse to sell to undesirable buyers.

121 Aimed For a Suburban Home at Park Place and Have Made Their Choice. There Are 130 More Excellent Garden Plots to Choose From

To-morrow

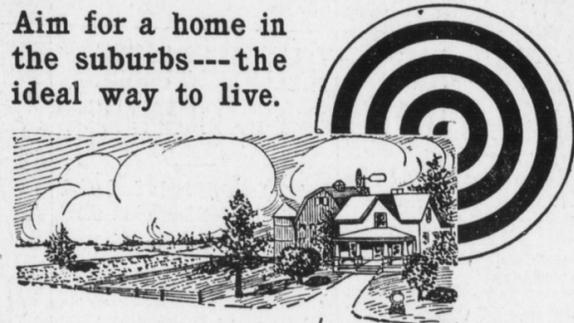

Is the Day of Opportunity

At

PARK PLACE

Harrisburg Office, Room 7, 204-206 Market Street

Aim for a home in the suburbs---the ideal way to live.

B. F. Sheesley, Owner
Wm. J. Sohland, Sales Manager

It Happens In the Best of Regulated Families

By BRIGGS

