CHRISTENING PARTY IN ENGLISH FASHION

Three Baby Boys Will Be Center of Interest at the Waters Homestead

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin U. O. Waters, of Cameron Extension, and their small son left yesterday for a visit with relatives at Owings Mills, Md.

Next Sunday an event of more than ordinary interest will take place at the Waters homestead, when three young grandsons of Madame Waters will be the center of interest at an English christening party.

The little lads to be baptized on the lawn by the Rev. Dr. MacStoran, of the Lafayette Square Presbyterian Church, Baltimore, are Somerset, R. Waters, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Waters, of Baltimore; Edwin U. O. Waters, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Waters, of this city; and Bradford L. Waters, of Baltimore. The children are all under a year old and very near the same age. Relatives and friends from Baltimore and adjacent points will be guests at the fête.

Miss Sara Houser, of 19 South Sixteenth street, is visiting in New York and suburban Philadelphia.

Miss Harriet Kessler, of Sunbury, is spending a vacation with her aunt, Mrs. T. B. Strain, of 117 Royal Terrace, Duluth.

Would Make State Road of the Old Canal Bed

Final plans for the Orphans' Day outing at Hershey Park, August 19, plans to convert the old bed of the Pennsylvania canal between Hecton and Millersburg into a State highway, and the proposed purchase of the Dauphin-Berks turnpike between Hummelstown and Womelsdorf, comprise the principal business which will come up before the Motor Club of Harrisburg at the monthly meeting which will be held Tuesday night.

The movement for making a State highway out of the canal which would mean the abolishment of some of the steepest curves and hilly roads in this section of the State is backed by the Millersburg Motor Club which will send a delegation to talk matters over with the local organization. The purchase of the Dauphin-Berks turnpike will be fully discussed and action taken to expediate the action of the State Highway Department in respect to this stretch.

Oldest Art Recorded by Work of Needle

Courts of Ancient Times Adorned by Royal Women's Embroidery

Embroidery is the oldest means of artistic expression recorded in history. Great legends of the courts of the ancient world embroidered scenes portraying the deeds of their heroes.

Older even than that are the directions found in the Bible, in which it is directed that in preparing Aaron and his sons' ephod, the work shall be provided with "a brodered coat, a mitre and a girdle and they shall take gold and blue and purple and scarlet and fine linen." Again, the 30th verse of the 28th chapter of Exodus it is ordered: "And thou shalt embroider the coat of fine linen, and thou shalt make the mitre of fine linen, and thou shalt make the girdle of needlework."

Embroidered work in church decorations and in the ministers' vestments are in great favor to-day. Many robes are wholly supplied with hand-embroidered designs, and the parishioners, they are but saved a large sum of money and furthermore receive valuable tokens of the esteem in which their people hold them.

The pattern outfit in this extension of our woman's feature departments includes more than 450 exclusive designs, a set of the best hardwood embroidery hoops, a highly polished bone stilet, a package of specially selected needles and assortments of gold-tipped bodkin and complete in-factories, each making all the intricacies, each being illustrated and clearly explained.

A UNIQUE BIBLE CHARACTER

One of the few men in the Bible who have nothing recorded against them is Joseph of Arimathea. Every one of the evangelists has a good word to say for Joseph. One says he "was an honorable counselor," another that he "was a just man," another that he was "a rich man," another that he was "a secret disciple." Only two of the evangelists speak of the birth of Christ; but all four of them erect a monument to Joseph of Arimathea. When he became a disciple we are not told. Dr. Andrew Bonar, of Scotland, says he can just imagine that Nicodemus may have been moved by Joseph of Arimathea to believe in Christ. At all events, Nicodemus didn't come out very boldly himself; he didn't get his discipleship out very clear. They were bold in the case of the Sanhedrin, but it is evident that none knew that Joseph was a secret disciple until a certain night.—The Christian Herald.

AMERICAN SHOES IN CUBA

Although about 80 per cent. of the shoes used in Santiago de Cuba and throughout this consular district is of American manufacture, the demand, on account of their superior quality and style in comparison with those of Spanish, Austrian, or French, make, is constantly increasing.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1914, there were imported into Cuba 4,616,114 pairs of shoes, of which 4,242,681. Of this quantity 3,259,690 pairs came from the United States, which were valued at $3,398,940.

The rate of duty on shoes from countries other than the United States is 13 per cent. ad valorem, and in addition, per pair, 19.5 cents for men's shoes, 13 cents for women's shoes, and 8.5 cents for children's shoes; the reports from the United States are entitled to a reduction of 30 per cent. of the duty, which would make the rate 9.1 per cent. ad valorem plus 13.65 cents, 9.1 cents, and 4.55 cents per pair, respectively.

The older inhabitants still cling to the old Spanish style, but the younger people in particular prefer the American styles.

The demand is for both high and low tan, patent leather, kid and white shoes. The high shoe is used more extensively throughout the sugar districts, and the low shoes are popular in the cities. There is practically no demand for rubber overshoes.

There are three shoe factories on the island, in which only styles for Cuba are made, and these exclusively for women and children. In these factories Goodyear welt machinery is not used. All of the sole leather used in Cuba is of domestic manufacture, but all of the uppers are imported, principally from the United States. There are several wholesale and retail shoe stores in Santiago. The retail stores are attractive and compare favorably with similar stores in the United States. No one-price system is employed, however, and the prices of shoes vary solely according to appearance.

East Harrisburg W. C. T. U. Postpones Next Meeting

The East Harrisburg W. C. T. U. held a meeting last evening at the home of Mrs. S. F. Holsopple, 621 North Seventeenth street. Owing to vacation absences among the members it was decided to postpone the next meeting of the organization until August 27. That meeting will be held with Mrs. Mary Fackler, Thirteenth and Derry streets. Officers will be elected and reports given by the various superintendents. Mrs. J. A. Stahler will have charge of the devotional exercises.

RANDOLPH-MATER WEDDING

The marriage of Mrs. Lucinda Mater and Lewis Randolph took place last night at 7:30 o'clock at their new home, 1601 Thompson street.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Clayton Albert Smucker, minister of the Stevens Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church, and was witnessed by a few near friends and relatives.

COMETS PREDICTED WAR, BELIEF OF SUPERSTITIONS

(Correspondence of Associated Press) Berlin.—In the light of the ancient superstition that comets, particularly an unusual number of them, presage disaster and war, astronomers have recently been calculating the number that have made their appearance from late in 1913 until the present time. They have been unusually frequent, apparently, from which fact the superstitious are taking comfort.

The real "war comet," says the astronomers, was that of Delevan, discovered by him in December, 1913. This body was of unusual size and brilliancy, and at its zenith could be made out with the naked eye. It disappeared early this year, and probably will not be seen again for six or seven years. The astronomers caution against taking this as an indication that the war will last that long.

One of the first to be seen in 1913 was "Enck's comet," which first was noted in 1786, but not definitely placed until 1818. It makes its appearance once every three and a third years, but in 1914 was late. Close on the heels of this expected "guest" came some that were not expected, however.

On May 16, 1914, Rudolph Pests reports Zlatinsky discovered a comet-like star, possessing the brilliancy of a star of 12.5 magnitude. It was given the name of Neupmin. Then came the exciting comet of comparatively little brilliancy, and then Campbell's comet was announced from America. The first comet of 1915 was that of Mellish, also discovered in America, which first appeared as a star of 10 magnitude and attained its maximum in June with a magnitude of a fourth class star.

WANTS RESTRICTIONS ON FOREIGN STUDENTS

(Correspondence of Associated Press) Cologne.—With the complete figures of the number of students from neutral foreign states who visited German universities during the last semester, now at hand, the Koelnische Zeitung, foreseeing a tremendous influx when peace shall have concluded, places that some restriction should be placed on foreigners in the interests of German students.

Shortly before the war there was such a large number of Russians at the University of Halle that the would-be German students could find no place for themselves. Such a thing must never happen again, the Koelnische declares, in arguing against unrestricted admission to the German institutions of learning. It also cites the case of the Russian student at the University of Berlin, suspected of espionage at the outbreak of the war, who openly shouted words of contempt of all things German. This should teach a lesson for the future, the paper declares.

Notwithstanding the war, the University of Berlin had, during the semester, no less than 1,438 students from foreign countries, including Austria. The majority were Swiss, Roumanian, Bulgarian, Greek and Turkish. Only a few Americans were left, principally, the Koelnische suggests, because they proved that the American papers said about "starved-out Germany."

DAIRY PRODUCTION OF ALBERTA

(Consul Samuel C. Reat, Calgary, Alberta Province, Canada, July 13.) The dairy production of the Province of Alberta is valued at $10,500,000, according to a recent report made to this office by the dairy commissioner.

With the exception of a negligible quantity of fancy cheese made in a small way the dairy production of Alberta is marketed in the form of milk, cream, butter and cheddar cheese. The creamery butter output was 1,500,000 pounds and the cheese made in factories amounted to thirty-five tons. No provincial figures are available covering the butter and cheese made in home dairies.

As the dairy industry is still in its infancy in Alberta, it has not been found practicable to operate factories for the production of condensed milk, malted milk, sugar of milk, or milk powder.

There is little demand for condensed milk in Canada. According to customs returns for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1915, the total imports of condensed milk amounted to only 109,937 pounds and valued at $8,424. Practically all the imports of condensed milk come from the United States.
