RAGING STORM HITS LANCASTER COUNTY

freight train ran into it and was wrecked. There were several landslides on the Pennsylvania railroad at Mount Joy, but no damage resulted.

Marietta, Aug. 6.—The storm which struck this section last evening played havoc in many ways, and for a time the rain fell so hard that it resembled a cloudburst. The water ran down the main street so that a canoe could have floated easily, and in the memory of the oldest residents, this was never seen before. Some hail fell as large as marbles. The lightning was very sharp, and the thunder heavy. Evans' run and Chiques creek were away over the banks, the former being higher than ever, and flowing over the yard of Charles Klunpp, who lives close by, and which necessitated a rise of twelve feet to reach this mark.

Why Weak Nervous People Should Take Iron to Build Them Up

Stimulants and Narcotic Drugs Worse Than Useless Says Dr. E. Sauer, Author of Medical Articles on Public Health

Contrary to general opinion, a weak, nervous condition is always dangerous. Without iron, your blood soon loses its oxygen-carrying power and can no longer purify itself, in consequence of which poisons accumulate which weaken both your body and brain, make you extremely nervous and irritable, pale and anemic, often cause fits of great despondency, and undermine all your vital organs, leading to the development of dangerous diseases which have landed many a man and woman into an untimely grave. In such cases it is worse than useless to take stimulants and narcotic drugs, which "pick you up" for the moment, maybe, at the expense of your life later on. "What you need is a true blood food—iron. A man of blood and iron" has always been synonymous with great power, showing that for centuries physicians have well known and prized the great value of iron. The only trouble has been that the older forms of iron often upset the stomach and were so difficult to assimilate that they usually actually got into the blood, but with late discoveries of newer preparations of iron all this trouble has been entirely removed.

Says Russians Cannot Be Recognized Again

We doubt the possibility of reorganizing the Russian army during the present war."
