Emory Fisher Catches Two Big Waterdogs in Swatara

Special to The Telegraph. Stoverdale, Pa., Aug. 20.—A number of the cottagers attended prayer meeting last Tuesday night at Mrs. Mary Stover's. L. K. Brininger, assistant superintendent of the Memorial Lutheran Sunday School at Harrisburg, will conduct the Sunday school lesson in the auditorium here next Sunday morning. The Rev. Bertram Shay received a telephone message requesting him to preach next Sunday morning in the Methodist Episcopal Church in Steelton. He will leave for Steelton on Saturday and visit friends next week at Steelton, Harrisburg and Christians, Lancaster county. Professor J. J. Gibson left the camp grounds for Lancaster. Mrs. A. G. Lehman, of Harrisburg, spent Wednesday at her cottage, the Oleander. Mrs. C. B. Ellenberger, of Oak Glen cottage, distributed fifty copies of the Youth's Companion to the Boy Scouts camped here. Miss Minnie Esterbrook, of Harrisburg, was a Thursday visitor at the Chelsea. Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Brininger and sons, Ellenarth and Gilchrist, of Harrisburg, are spending several weeks at the Hickory Lodge. Emory Fisher, Miss Harriet Lehman, Miss Nettie Hemperly and Miss Lila Fisher spent Thursday at Lebanon Fair. The Rev. Bertram Shay landed some bass and rockfish from the Swatara Thursday. Professor Phipps, of the Harrisburg Academy, is entertaining his class of eight boys of the Market Square Presbyterian Sunday School at Kamp Kunkinfort cottage. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cleckner, of Camp Hill, spent Thursday as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Knisely at the Susse Ruhe. The following persons are occupying Air Good Inn: Mrs. Morris, Harriet Morris, Miriam Hemperly, Mr. and Mrs. John Hemperly, Mr. and Mrs. C. Hemperly and Miss Nellie Hemperly, of Harrisburg. Emory Fisher landed two water dogs weighing a couple of pounds apiece with hook and line on Tuesday from the Swatara. Edwin Knisely returned to the Susse Ruhe after spending the week in New York and Pittsburgh. Mr. and Mrs. George Cromleigh, of Harrisburg, spent the day with Mrs. Emory Fisher at the Emory Villa. Samuel Phillips, of Harrisburg, is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Ellenberger, at the Oak Glen. BUSHELS OF HUCKLEBERRIES Special to The Telegraph. Waynesboro, Pa., Aug. 20.—Thomas Delauter, of Catacton mountain, brought 325 quarts of huckleberries to Waynesboro and soon disposed of them at a good price. Mr. Delauter says there are bushels of the berries in the mountains, but it is a little risky to attempt to gather them on account of copperhead and rattle snakes. POISONED BY TOADSTOOLS Special to The Telegraph. Waynesboro, Pa., Aug. 20.—Paul and William Monn, near Pen Mar, who ate several toadstools in mistake for mushrooms Monday, and who were made so ill that their death was expected momentarily, are now out of danger.
