

TEUTONS TAKE LAST BULWARK IN POLAND

Novogeorgievsk Falls, According to Official Announcement Made in Berlin

Berlin, Aug. 20, via London, 12.20 P. M. — Official announcement was made here to-day of the capture of the important Russian fortress of Novogeorgievsk, with more than 20,000 men. The statement follows: "The fortress of Novogeorgievsk, the enemy's last bulwark in Poland, has been captured after stubborn resistance. The entire garrison, including over 20,000 men, and an enormous stock of war material, fell into our hands. The emperor left for Novogeorgievsk in order to give the thanks of himself and the fatherland to the leader of the attack, General von Beseler, and his troops. The capture of Novogeorgievsk has been foreseen since the fall of Warsaw. When the general Russian retreat Grand Duke Nicholas, the Russian commander-in-chief, elected to leave a garrison in the fortress rather than evacuate this position, as it was recognized that the only question was how long the defenders would be able to hold out.

The grand duke's decision, apparently, was due to the strategic position of the fortress. So long as the Russians retained it they were able to stop communication on the Vistula river. Novogeorgievsk is nineteen miles northwest of Warsaw and is situated at the junction of the Vistula, Narew and Wkra rivers. For nearly two weeks the fortress had been completely invested and several outlying forts were captured earlier this week.

DRECHT DECIDES TO RESUME RATE CASE

Because a Rival Gets a Low Rate on Another Line Furnishes No Cause For an Order

The Public Service Commission to-day announced that it had dismissed the complaint of the Clydesdale Stone Company, a Western Pennsylvania corporation, against rates charged by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. In an opinion written by Commissioner Brecht it is stated "the fact that a shipper finds that a competitor is shipping on another railroad and shipping on that line is not a cause for a common market at a lower rate is in itself not sufficient ground to lower his rate."

Snake Bites Send Many Persons to Hospitals

Houston, Tex., Aug. 20.—Evidence of the unusual destructiveness of Monday's hurricane was seen in Houston's hospitals to-day, which house between fifty and a hundred persons, either injured in the storm or suffering from illness contracted in long exposure. Most of these patients are from towns along the coast.

Many of the patients in the hospitals are suffering from snake bite—a real danger in a coast hurricane, because the water drives snakes upon the few objects that are left.

Citizens of Wallaceville, a town of about 1,000 inhabitants on the east side of Galveston bay, appealed to-day for aid, saying that only three houses remain in the town, the rest estimated that 10,000 head of stock drowned in Chambers county where Wallaceville is situated.

Texas City the general said, is utterly without dock facilities to handle crowds of curiosity seekers.

Woman Seriously Hurt Is Belief; Hit Bridge Coping at Dauphin

Three women and the driver of a jitney, said to belong to C. D. Hauck, of Fourteenth and Derry streets, were thrown to the roadway, but escaped uninjured, early this morning when the machine struck the end of the coping of the bridge across the creek just above the Dauphin bridge.

So far as known, all escaped serious injury, although one of the women is reported to have a broken hip, but this could not be verified. The front axle of the machine was bent double and the spring smashed.

Every effort was made to conceal the identity of those in the machine. From witness statements it was learned that three women and a man were seen to pick themselves from the dust of the bridge after the machine rammed the stone wall.

The license number on the wrecked machine is said to be 121938. At the State Highway Department it was said that the license was issued to Mr. Hauck, who is the driver of the machine.

Engineers and Firemen Give Up Lives to Obey Orders From Captain

Queenstown, Aug. 20.—United States Consul Thompson stated this morning that there were 21 Americans on board the Arabic, who were passengers aboard the Arabic, sixteen of these have been accounted for here thus far.

Captain Finch gave the Associated Press a detailed account of the loss of the liner.

"We were forty-seven miles south of Galley Head at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning," he said, "when I perceived the steamer Dunahy. I ordered the life belts on deck and the boats were ready for immediate launching. The officers and crew all behaved excellently and did everything possible in the circumstances, getting people into the boats and picking up those in the sea."

"I was the last to leave, taking the plunge into the sea as the ship was going down. After being in the water some time I got aboard a raft to which I also assisted two men and women."

Captain Finch paid special tribute to the heroic conduct of several engineers and firemen who remained at their posts to the last and sacrificed their lives to execute orders from the bridge, thus insuring the safety of the passengers. Among those lost was the captain's nephew.

The Arabic's commander spoke appreciatively of the kind treatment received by passengers made for their comfort at Queenstown. His chief regret was that he was not able to save the lives of those on board.

"If I had been given a little more time by the submarine," he said regretfully, "I am satisfied I could have saved everybody."

White Star Line Gives List Unaccounted For

New York, Aug. 20.—The White Star line to-day gave out a list of twenty Arabic passengers who had not been accounted for in its advices received at the line's local office. The list was made up from names received late last night, as no direct word from England had been received by the local office between 1:30 a. m. and noon to-day.

The last press dispatches from London to-day, received several hours after the White Star advices, stated that all but eight of the Arabic's passengers had been added at Queenstown.

The list given out by the White Star line included the names of James Houlhan and Thomas Elmore, Americans, who, according to the State Department advices received at Washington, are among the saved. The White Star list follows:

TALK OF MAYORALTY DEAL IS RIDICULED

"Had I any reason to question Mr. Smith's capacity or character, I should not have named him. I am, on the contrary, satisfied that this is a very good appointment. He will discharge his duties in a most creditable manner and with an impartial mind."

"The suggestion that I am a party to a deal in the Mayorality situation in Philadelphia is too absurd to merit consideration."

The Governor arrived here shortly before noon and when he reached the Capitol ground floor officials were waiting to greet him, but he spent most of the afternoon clearing his desk of routine matters.

"I had a delightful trip and I made some observations on roads," said the Governor. "But I have some busy days ahead of me as I have lots on my desk."

The Governor declined to discuss any possible appointments.

Chancellor Promises Success For Germans

Berlin, Aug. 20.—Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, the German Imperial Chancellor, in a speech yesterday at the opening of the Reichstag after a recess since May 26 retraced the history of the European events leading up to the present war, and gave voice to a ringing prediction of German success in the military events of the future.

In the topic the chancellor, after a reference to Germany's allies, said: "We ourselves have taken almost all Galicia and a large part of Poland, Lithuania and Courland, and our lines wherever we advance into the enemy's countries, stand like walls. We ourselves have strong armies free at our disposal for new enterprises."

"Proudly and without fear we look into the future."

"We do not hate the nations driven into war by our governments, but we have forgotten our former sentimentality. We shall continue to fight until those nations ask peace."

"SMOKE OF BATTLE" IN MODERN WARFARE

One of the marked features of the European conflict that distinguishes it from the wars of the past is the absence of smoke on the firing lines. Owing to the use of smokeless powder, no smoke is made when a rifle is discharged, while the heaviest artillery throws off nothing more than a thin mist that is invisible a hundred yards away and disappears within a few seconds after the gun is fired. Only when a shell explodes in the air, or when the enemy's lines is there anything visible in the way of smoke, the whole purpose being to conceal the position of the guns to which the projectiles while making the points where projectiles explode clearly visible. The expression, "the smoke of battle," so faithfully descriptive of the wars of the past, has little meaning when applied to a modern war.—From the August Popular Mechanics Magazine.

The men returned to work and business operations throughout the city were again resumed.
