COLONIAL FIRST OF CHAIN OF HIGH GRADE MOVIES SAYS WALTER VINCENT

Walter Vincent, president of the Wilmer & Vincent Theater Company came to Harrisburg to-day to remain over Monday so as to be present at the opening of the Colonial Theater as a house of "photoplays de luxe." After three years of packed houses with a combined vaudeville and picture program, the theater on the busy corner seems to straight pictures on Monday. After this Wilmer & Vincent will run but one vaudeville theater in the city. That will be the Majestic.

Mr. Vincent is highly enthusiastic over the prospects of the Colonial as a moving picture theater, and says this is the first of a chain of better grade picture houses which the Wilmer & Vincent people are going to establish.

"Moving picture manufacturers, the big film companies, have progressed to such a wonderful degree in the development of the production of films that the picture business is rapidly growing into the sphere of general theatricals and theater managers are coming in a branch of their own business rather than the annoying little opposition from outside that it used to be," said Mr. Vincent.

"It wasn't very long ago when there was no one in the moving picture business who had ever had anything to do with theaters or theatricals but the business has now advanced to that stage where the class of films requires that there be one first class moving picture theater in each city, conducted by theater people who give attention to safety in construction and comfort in accommodation to their patrons. In other words these big feature picture productions do not fit in the so-called 'store show' surroundings."

"Now that the popularity of these big film features is thoroughly established, we are very happy to give the Colonial Theater over to them. I believe the public will be easily convinced, upon seeing the way we intend to show our pictures that there is a big difference in a picture show in a regular theater and a converted store-room. In the first place the theater itself has been entirely done over in matter of decoration, the jobbers refurnished and beautified, a real pipe organ second to none in the entire State has been installed, and Mr. Teager, whom your theatergoers all know engaged to play it.

"Pictures With the Punch" "Now as to the pictures, there is of course no doubt that the Colonial will have the best that is made. Film manufacturers are always anxious to have their products shown under the best conditions in real theaters, and the choice of the entire market was ours. Our selection of the entire output of the Vitagraph, Lubin, Selig, Essanay and Fox companies was based on our opinion that they were the pictures with the punch to them—the kind the people like."

"These companies have the largest number of popular stars, and their photographic work is excellent. They spare no expense in making a photograph perfect, and we intend to spare no expense in our effort to present them under perfect conditions."

Speaking of the theatrical season in general, Mr. Vincent said that managers throughout the country are looking forward to a period of renewed prosperity. Locally, he said, he had no doubt but what the people will take kindly to the new vaudeville arrangement at the Majestic theater.

"The three show a day policy as conducted on our circuit is the biggest bargain in entertainment offered anywhere in the country," said Mr. Vincent. "People must not imagine that because there are to be three shows a day that the Colonial grade of acts is to be played at the Majestic. The same high class vaudeville that you people have seen for the past eight years at the Orpheum will be given at the Majestic, only there will be five acts instead of seven, and the prices will be cut in half."

The Stieff Piano Comes Direct From Factory to You

When you buy a piano, nine cases out of ten you pay a big middleman's profit.

This profit makes a medium grade piano as high in price as a "quality" instrument would be, if bought direct from the manufacturer.

When you buy a Stieff piano you buy direct from the Stieff factory at Baltimore.

Get the point? You save the middleman's profit.

Enola Firemen Will Hold Fair to Buy Auto Truck

Special to The Telegraph
Enola, Pa., Aug. 21.—Midway Fire Company No. 2, will hold a fair at their engine house starting November 8 and continuing ten days. It is the intention of the firemen to make this the biggest event of its kind ever held at Enola. There will be nightly entertainments of various kinds and all the fire companies on the West Shore of the river as well as those in Harrisburg and Steelton, will receive an invitation to visit them while the big carnival is in progress.

A number of voting contests will be held. To the young woman receiving the largest number of votes a valuable prize will be given, as well as to the most popular fireman. Booths of all kinds with beautiful displays will be another feature of the fair and each booth will be in charge of one of Enola's prominent young women.

The Midway Fire company is one of the youngest fire companies in Cumberland county. Their charter only dating back a couple of years, but they now own their own fire house and hose carriage and have ambitions to put in service an auto truck chemical. For this reason they have adopted the fair method to raise funds towards having their wishes realized.

The fair will open with a firemen's parade at which time all fire companies in and around Enola will be asked to participate following which will be a band concert by the Enola band.
