NURSES NOT TO BE IN TEN-HOUR LIMIT

Opinion Given to Commissioner Jackson by the Attorney General on the Subject

Attendants of insane patients or nurses in charge of such persons, do not come under the operation of the hour limitations in the women's employment law of 1913 according to an opinion given to Dr. John P. Jackson, commissioner of labor and industry, by Attorney General Brown. The question has been raised in a number of cases and the commissioner asked if nurses of insane in hospitals could be considered as within the provision excluding nurses from the ten hour law.

The State Industrial Board, which has been asked for modification of the women's employment law as regards the extent of the pollution that is occurring from industrial plants. The telephone exchanges will have a meeting within a short time to hear reports of committees which have been making investigations. Rulings are expected during the Fall.

Wardens Ordered Out. — Wardens and inspectors of the State Fisheries Department will be detailed to start investigations immediately on the West Branch of the Susquehanna, the Juniata and the Clarion rivers and some of their tributaries to ascertain the extent of the pollution that is occurring from industrial plants. The inspections are to be extended as rapidly as the force of the department will permit.

Visiting Fairs. — Members of the State Commission of Agriculture have commenced a series of visits to the county fairs and agricultural exhibitions in their districts to ascertain the sentiments of the farmers and to study out ways and means for agricultural development. Suggests Agreement.—A complaint filed with the Public Service Commission today by E. E. Boyle, of Centerville, against the Pennsylvania railroad, alleging removal of a siding which had not been replaced and difficulties over cattle shipment facilities was suggested today by Chairman Alney as a fit subject for the parties to get together. The complaint gave evidence of a controversy and the chairman stated that he believed the points at issue should be taken up by the complainant and the railroad and an effort made to avoid the expense of a hearing.

Paying Townships.—The State Treasury today began paying the township the share of the last appropriation for bonus to township for cash road tax. The first seven counties were paid, about $95,000 being sent out.

Camp Hill Paid.—Camp Hill school district today received a check for $588.12 representing its share of the State school appropriation.

101 RANCH WILD WEST SHOW HERE TOMORROW

JESS WILLARD WITH WILD WEST SHOW
Ranch 101 Will Reach City Early Tomorrow Morning; Special Pavilion For Champion

To-morrow will be a busy day in Harrisburg, for Miller Bros. & Arlington's 101 Ranch Wild West show and Jess Willard, the cowboy world's champion, will be here.

The big show will arrive at an early hour, and as expeditiously as possible the long trains will be unloaded and the paraphernalia transferred to the exhibition grounds in Seneca street, where the Wild West camp is to be erected. It goes without saying that there will be a big crowd on hand to see the unloading of the show and to watch the always interesting operation of installing the exhibition on the "lot." There are, it is said, more than fifty big and little tents in the Wild West camp, and in combination they constitute a veritable city of canvas. One of the tents that will probably excite spectators' interest will be the "Jess Willard Pavilion," where the champion makes his headquarters on the grounds.

By 10 o'clock to-morrow morning the Wild West city will be in busy, active operation. The red-lemonade man of former days, who has reformed his ways and now tempts the thirsty public with certified soda pop and ice cream cones, will be ready for business; the Indians, painted and feather-bedded, will be on their ponies, waiting for the bugle to give the signal for the parade; the cowboys will be hurriedly getting into their "chaps"; the cowgirls will be putting the last feminine touches to their picturesque costumes; the long-haired overland stagecoach driver will be having all kinds of trouble trying to keep his six army mules from starting downtown ahead of schedule time, and Jess C. Miller, the ranchman and White Chief of the Poncos, will be ready to give the word that will start a mile of Wild West people, horses, ponies, burros, long-horned steers, buffaloes, tableau-floats and other parade features on the parade to the business section of the city. The line will leave the grounds about 10.30.

The afternoon performance takes place at 2.15 and the night show at 8.15. A strenuous program is promised. There will be reproductions of scenes during the historic days of the old West, when horse-stealing was a crime more heinous than murder; battles between Indians and white settlers; a buffalo hunt, showing the Indian method of stalking the wild bison; rough riding by daring cowpunchers and cowgirls; crack shooting, roping, broncho busting, and other exhilarating events.

The management announces that Jess Willard, who was a cowboy before he became the world's heavyweight champion, will positively and actively appear in several of the Wild West numbers. Later, with a sparring partner, he will illustrate the famous 26th round, in which Jack Johnson went down to defeat. The desire to see the giant Kansan "in the flesh" seems to be universal.

Seats will be on sale downtown to-morrow at Bowman's Department Store.—Advertisement.

THOUSANDS ATTEND RECEPTION TO FOLLOW MIDDLETOWN FAIR
Track Is Fast and Weather Ideal For Races; Exhibition Building Crowded

With a fast track for the races and ideal weather conditions, the Middletown Fair's big day opened auspiciously this morning.

A 10-minute service on the Harrisburg Railways Company's lines and hundreds of teams soon brought thousands of people through the turnstiles. By noon it was estimated that fully 7,000 were present.

Of course, one of the main attractions was the big exhibition building, and during the morning thousands of people passed through the big hall to admire the interesting exhibits. Among some of the showings that attracted much attention were the following: Enterprise Grocery Store, good things to eat; H. H. Shellenberger, harness; safety first exhibit by the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry, co-operating with State College; Middletown Furniture Company, show cases; C. Stauffer, washing machines and sewing machines; Mrs. R. E. Rafferty, oranges; R. P. Whitman, poultry expert, manager of the poultry department of the Allentown Fair; dogs, A. C. Kreuger, of Columbia.

DEMOCRATS AIM TO HIDE TROUBLE

other year is in a division of Republican strength and having fallen into the trap once Republicans are not likely to be deceived so soon again.

Throughout the State the "reorganization" faction of the Democracy, which has been in control for two years, has been discredited and the rank and file of the party are turning to new leadership. Here the dissatisfaction among the rank and file of Democrats is general and hundreds of stalwarts of that party have proffered their support to the many excellent Republicans who have consented to stand for the several offices to be filled at the November election.

Under the present primary system there is bound to be more or less play for position, but the mass of the voters, having discharged their duties in the primaries will elect the Republican candidates by overwhelming majorities. As previously observed the efforts of the Democratic machine are now directed toward a disruption of the Republican strength through stories of personal antagonism and friction among leaders. There never has been a campaign anywhere that has not involved differences of opinion regarding the makeup of a ticket, but the bosses of the Democratic machine in this city and county have failed lamentably in accomplishing their purpose to upset the reunion of the Republican forces. Aside from a few disgruntled persons who are with the Republican party when it is with them and against it when they are not in favor of the Democratic machine is having no help outside its own camp.

Truth to tell, this same machine is finding ample field for its energies in holding together enough of its followers to make a decent showing in the campaign this year.

Designation of all Republican voters as "gangsters" by the organ of the Democratic machine has had the inevitable effect of disgusting hundreds of decent Republicans who are not stampeded by every yell for help from the Democratic camp. After the period of filing nominations expires next Tuesday the voters of all parties will have an opportunity to sift the list of candidates and choose those in their judgment who are best qualified to perform the duties of the several city and county offices to be filled this year. Until then the field is open to all who care to enter the arena. Meanwhile the Democratic bosses are doing their level best to concoct some kind of a fusion scheme that will enable them to "run out" "front" to the reunited Republican forces of the city and county.

Iron and Steel Soars; Mills Behind in Deliveries
The Iron Age in its weekly trade review to-day says:
"Prices of pig iron, semifinished steel and of a number of finished products have advanced in the past week and with mills falling farther behind in deliveries premiums for early shipment are appearing. Domestic demand, while not given as much publicity as foreign orders, is of more importance in some lines than has been credited.

"Leading steel companies look for a continuance of the present rate of operations through the year and are counting upon its projection some distance into 1916, having ceased to borrow trouble over the results of a sudden ending of the war.

"The heavy demand for large steel rounds is still easily the leading feature. Frax has placed a good part of the 100,000 tons recently pending, paying 2.35c to two important companies, and has been negotiating for 200,000 tons additional. Probably 200,000 tons more is involved in estimates now before the trade.

"It is becoming more evident that the railroads in their later buying for this year will have to compete for mill capacity with the buyers of munitions. Rails cannot now be had for early delivery. In the past week 30,000 tons were placed, of which 15,000 tons which goes to Alabama cannot be delivered until October. At Chicago a western road has bought 11,000 tons of tie plates and the price there has advanced from $27 to $28."

STATE POLICEMEN TO ENFORCE AUTO LAWS

Will Co-operate With Highway Department in Effort to Stop Speeding
State policemen have been ordered to co-operate with the State Highway Department in the enforcement of the automobile laws. Complaints have been made in a number of instances of the speed limit being exceeded and other provisions of the law being violated, especially outside of cities.

Highway Commissioner Cunningham has secured the support of Major John C. Groome, superintendent of the State police, in his effort to check the violations and the captains of the troops of State policemen have been instructed to have their men report all violations of the law which come under their notice, including improperly displayed registration tags, cases where only one tag is shown, reckless driving, speeding and other infractions of the law. In replying to the commissioner's request Superintendent Groome said that the troopers would comply with the request in every particular.

In the last few months the Highway Department has revoked the licenses of a number of persons who operated cars while intoxicated or recklessly.

WILL PUNISH OFFENDERS

"Giants" Eat Iron to Get Strength to Win
Physicians say efficiency of baseball team is astonishingly increased by organic iron.
It also quickly builds up pale, nervous rundown people and gives the system greatly increased power to transform food into living matter — blood, brain and nerve force.

Did you ever put wood or coal into a stove or grate, start the fire and then shut off the air (draught) and see it smolder and finally go out? It is just the same with your body. Neither can your body transform food into living matter—blood, brain and nerve force—without oxygen in your blood, nor your blood, nor your body oxygen without iron; hence iron is very basis of great strength and power. There should be one part of iron to every 250 of red corpuscles. It has been estimated that over seventy per cent. of our women and half our men are more or less anaemic —lack of iron in the blood.

Life is such a vital matter between life and death that nature has fixed a dozen alarm bells and gongs to go off and warn you of your impending danger when the iron in your blood or your blood yet most people go along and do not heed these warning bells and gongs until it is too late.

That nervous, weakened run-down condition, that fits a melancholy and the "Blues"; the great nervous irritability that causes you to "fly all to pieces" on the slightest provocation; those restless nights; those pains in the back; frequent headaches; that profuse perspiration inside your hands; that nervous constipation or anaemic symptoms; or nothing in the world but your starving blood crying out for iron, iron, iron.

German physicians have long recognized the great value of iron in creating strength, power and endurance and the sturdy Teuton soldiers are to-day fed on a diet as rich as possible in iron. The "Giants" and famous athletes teams where great strength and endurance are required have been put on a diet rich in iron. Nature has tried to supply the demand for iron by putting it into a great variety of food you eat, still there are thousands of people who do not get enough or at least are unable to assimilate it in sufficient quantities, and they therefore quickly become nervous and run-down. This is especially true of women owing to the great strain nature has placed upon them at certain periods. In such cases additional iron must be supplied. This is best accomplished by eating (or taking) two five grain tablets of organic iron three or four times a day or immediately after your meals. It quickly gives most surprising physical and mental power. One who has never tried it can hardly realize what great strength and endurance can be obtained by this simple treatment. Be sure to get Nuxated Iron as the older forms of ignotanic iron often upset the stomach and are not assimilated by the blood and therefore they sometimes do more harm than good. But with the newer iron preparations all this has been overcome. Nuxated Iron for example is not only readily assimilated and quickly makes plenty of rich, pure blood, but it is within itself a valuable stomach remedy, giving greatly increased power to digest food by its wonderfully revitalizing action on the pneumogastric or great stomach nerve.—E. Sauer, M. D.

NOTE: The publication above was authorized by the Public Health Laboratories. It is desired to instruct weak, nervous people how to regain renewed health and vigor with the use of stimulating medicines, narcotic drugs or liquor. Nuxated iron referred to by Dr. Sauer can be obtained from Croll Keller and other leading druggists in our city.—Adv.
