In an address before a large audience at Ocean Grove Dr. Silas C. Swallow of Camp Hill speaking on 'Religious Denominations: Sane and Insane,' decried a feeling of caste which he said existed in the Methodist Church...

'There has unfortunately grown up in and around Methodism a spirit of caste, a feeling that in subordinate positions we have a privileged class, an autocracy, an aristocracy,' said Dr. Swallow.

'Some of these churches spread the table of the Lord before members who are brewers, distillers, bar tenders, saloon keepers and booze guzzlers, and nearly all of them have been through these 50 years of government profit-sharing partnership in the liquor traffic...

Your Soul Seeks

Man's soul seeks. It has been ever true. Man's soul always seeks that which is higher than the power of man. It has been ever the fact. Back through the ages, when men were savages this innate craving for that "something" higher found its expression in the mythological, superstitious worship of the elements of Nature over which man could exert no control.

In this enlightened age, man no longer superstitiously worships the elements. All such thought was supplanted when God, through His love for the world gave His Son that man might find the true religious expression.

To-day man worships one God, a God of love and mercy. God's laws are Nature's laws; the breaking of the one is the breaking of the other. God's command is that we worship Him, and His Son. It is a command that finds its expression in the attendance of the services which are held in worship of Him in His church.

If you are inclined to doubt the truth of this thought it is because you have never allowed your spiritual nature to fully develop. Let your spiritual nature rise above those things which are purely material, give it a chance to find the expression of that which it constantly seeks.

PLAYS ROYAL FOR PLAYING SELFISH GAME

office-seeker who has figured in all the parties more or less in a hopeless effort to maintain something like party unity. These Democrats are roasting the machine leaders to a turn and while they have no use for Meals or any of the other aspirants for the mayoralty their wrath is visited upon Royal for his selfish interference with the selection of a real Democratic candidate for the chief magistracy of the city.

Mayor Only a Figure Head

All over Harrisburg there is dissatisfaction by reason of conditions which confront the people as a result of the uniform primary and the consequent free-for-all. Their only comfort is the thought that the Clark act has deprived the Mayor of the cities of the third class of practically all his power and made him simply one of five commissioners with unimportant duties.

The trouble with Royal is that he is always careful to promote Royal and nobody else," said a prominent member of his own party to-day. "All through his political career he has managed to trim his sails for all political winds. It has not been forgotten that at the Denver national convention of his party he straddled the Bryan issue and he has been straddling every other question right along. Whatever happens to the rest of the candidates for city commissioner, it is a safe bet that Royal will not figure as a member of that body next year."

Trying to Defeat Taylor There is a well-conceived plan

torn down, rich reward is now ours in the converting of the misplaced and unsightly but very necessary pumping house into a beauty spot and a real feature of our improvements.

The treatment of the planting will be consistent with the other River Front arrangement and will be completed in gala array with blooming plants, shrubs, etc., for celebration week. This work is now going on under the direction of the Berryhill Nursery Company, and the Park Department. Some of the old, unused drives and walks are being eliminated and better ones provided, making more practical the handling of coal and ashes to and from the pumping station and far more accessible to the public.

A large area of green lawn forms the center of the Plaza bounded along the river by a beautiful concrete retaining wall, later to be covered with vines and along the pumping house by a border of hardy shrubbery, blotting out by this screen the ash heap and road to the rear entrance. Included in the decorative scheme is an appropriate drinking fountain which will be a much appreciated feature of the River Walk.

The River Plaza, like the city entrance at Market street, is distinctive and unique and one of the places to be remembered and talked about by all visitors to Harrisburg. Every good citizen should see the Plaza when it is formally opened to the public use during celebration week.

Among the trees to be planted during the coming week, when the grass will be sown and the work finished, are fine specimens of the European linden, sugar maple, red oak, tulip, mountain ash and American elm. The shrubbery will include the golden bell snowberry, lilac, bridal wreath, Japanese roses, rose of Sharon, honeysuckle, Regal's privet, weigela, red-twigged dogwood, coral berry, white kerria, mock orange, Japanese barberry, white dogwood and redbud.
