Attorney Loeser Files Trespass Suit For Victim of Wilson Car at Rockville Bridge

Another echo of the automobile accident of July 18, 1914, near the Rockville bridge which resulted in the death of a 19-year-old Christian Snively is scheduled for a hearing in the Dauphin county courts in the near future as a result of a trespass action brought for the parents of Snively against William Wilson, owner of the car. Damages in the sum of $5,000 will be asked, according to Attorney W. L. Loeser who filed the suit. Wilson and Moltz, who drove the car for Wilson, were exonerated of criminal blame by a jury in June.

Do men here at home know style or don't they? We believe they do—that's why we feature the Stetson Hats.

As all good dressers know, there is an invisible line that separates real style from the make-believe. One of the leading Stetson features, and bound to be specially popular this season, is the Pearl Gray Soft Hat with Black band—rather formal, vastly smart—sure to interest you, even if you afterward decide on some model less dressy in tone. Stetson quality $3.50 to $5.00. Other brands at $1.00 to $3.00.

LEARN SPANISH IS GOVERNOR'S WISH

Suggests that Great Opportunities to the South Are Being Overlooked Nowadays

Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh today expressed the hope that the study of Spanish would be undertaken in many of the schools of the State so that the school boys and girls of to-day would be fitted to take advantage of big opportunities that will be awaiting them when they step aside their boots.

"From what I learned on my trip to the West more attention is being given to the study of Spanish than before and I trust that Pennsylvanians will realize its importance," said the Governor. "The schools have just started their sessions and I know that in a number of districts the men in charge have been looking into the question of studying Spanish along with the other languages which are given attention. It has always been my opinion that we should not only learn the language, but the customs and characteristics of the many Americans who speak Spanish. Great opportunities await us on our own side of the world."

Compensation Plans. — Steps to complete the organization of the State Workmen's Compensation system will be taken at meetings to be held at the State Capitol next week when the members of the Compensation Board and the State Insurance Board will meet with the Governor and attorney general. Examinations were made this week into the methods followed in New York State and a scheme of organization for this State with districts for the enforcement of the law. The Governor will probably act on the appointments of referees within a short time.

Progress is being made on the organization of the Insurance Fund, which will be in operation in a short time. Blanks will be mailed to employers at an early day outlining the insurance plan so that the schedules of premiums according to the degree of hazard in the business are being prepared. An extended plan of publicity in the form of the State Fund is to be undertaken.

Sending Out Fish. — State Fishery Department officials have taken advantage of the weather in distributing young trout and bass in the streams of the State. Reports received here indicate that there has been a good output of young fish. The distribution of the fish stand the demands for trout and bass have been very large this summer.

GRACE U. E. CHURCH WRITER SUGGESTS STEELTON CELEBRATE

"Sunny Jim" Lowe, Noted Evangelist, to Conduct Two Weeks' Campaign Here

Editor of the Telegraph: A municipal improvement celebration for Steelton is suggested by a local correspondent who writes to the Telegraph.

Steelton, it is recalled, has recently completed a number of big improvements, including seven miles of paved streets, an $85,000 filtration plant, a new 30-inch intake to the center of the river, a comprehensive system of sanitary sewers and new buildings and equipment for the fire department. Much credit for these accomplishments is given to J. V. W. Reyners, now president of the City Council of Steelton and whose public spiritedness and business ability has resulted in a marvelous transformation in the "hustling borough" during the last ten years. It may not be amiss to suggest a municipal improvement celebration for Steelton and I am sure the voters of the Third Ward will be proud to take the first step toward such a celebration by unanimously supporting Mr. Reyners in his campaign for re-election to council. It is a matter of great disappointment to me to observe that there are other aspirants for the office which Mr. Reyners has filled so creditably.

"Very truly yours," "J. H. M."

Remarkable Mileage of Tires Shown in Output

"Where do all the tires go?" is a question often heard at the mammoth plant of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., at Akron, Ohio. A trip through the factory, including a glance at the stock room, with its many rows of finished tires ready to start on their careers wherever summoned at once suggests the question. Of course, they are used and ultimately worn out. When you consider that two million automobiles are now in use in the United States, each engaged in wearing out four tires, you begin to see the light of day.

About forty per cent. of Goodyear's output of automobile tires finds its way to the motorists of the country as equipment on new cars. The remainder serves to replace the veteran tires which are constantly falling after thousands of miles of faithful service. More than ever before are Goodyear tires being selected to fill up the gaps left in the ranks by the demise of other makes.

Figures bring out some interesting facts as to where the tires go. The mileage it requires to wear out the tires made in the Goodyear factory almost staggers comprehension. Goodyear's production of automobile tires for this year will be well over two million. Taking five thousand miles, which is very low, as an average mileage for each tire, the total mileage necessary to wear out the year's output would be ten billion. A car would have to cover 2,500,000,000 miles to wear them all out—would have to travel 100,000 times around the world or fourteen times from the earth to the sun and return.

To put the figures another way, an automobile going at the speed of fifty miles an hour, would have to travel day and night three hundred and sixty-five days in the year, for a period of nearly six thousand years to output Goodyear's 1915 output. If Adam could have enjoyed the luxury of an automobile equipped with Goodyear tires Goodyear's output for this year would have carried it down to the present day with a nice bunch of spare tires still on hand.

Colorado Fuel, Crucible Steel, American Steel Foundries and others of that group rose from fractions to a point. United States Steel moved within narrow limits on small dealings and railways showed no appreciable change. General Motors and Great Northern Ore made further advances in the first half hour.
