ROAST WIENERS AT THE BECKLEYS

Derry Street Young People's Society Guests at Oak Park Colony

With a moon that looked like a silver boat on a whitecapped sea, a fire that caressed and warmed your shins as you sat about on big, husky logs, and a wash boiler full of "doggies" the members of the Young People's Society of the Derry Street United Brethren church last night had the time of their lives at a "doggie roast" held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Beckley, Oak Park Colony opposite the Colonial Country Club.

The frankfurters (which answer to the name of "wieners") were roasted over the hot coals of the fire under the direction of Miss Virginia Earl, chairman of the social committee, on a long wire spit. Bread and butter sandwiches and a bowl of punch completed the refreshment pleasures of the evening.

After the young people had eaten all the frankfurters that the law and their belts would allow they played games on the big lawn in front of the Beckley home and listened to music by the Victrola. The members hiked home when the clock drifted round toward eleven. The guests of the evening included:

Miss Kathleen Robinson, Eleanor Weaver, Kathryn Carl, Miriam Carl, Sylvia Drawbaugh, Grace Kovell, Opal McVina, Helen Bright, Mabel Bright, Catherine Esworth, Stella Ulrich, Vera Harman, Dorothy Dowell, Mary Hensch, Margaret Helkes, Bertha Clay, Violet Albright, Elizabeth Wilson, Mildred Runkle, Beatrice Runkle, Helen Runkle, Margaret Musselman, Leola Shupe, Faye Havestick, Beulah Sturry.
