Governor Sleeps Late; Tired Out After Reception at Altoona

Special to The Telegraph Altoona, Pa., Oct. 7.—Governor Brumbaugh and party got away from Altoona at 9 o'clock. Members of the Altoona Motor Club escorted the party to the city line, where a large sign with the inscription, "Call Again, Governor," had been erected.

Rousing Reception Huntingdon, Pa., Oct. 7.—In his "seeing Pennsylvania" tour Governor Brumbaugh to-day came to a similar scene. For two hours he was in Huntingdon, in native county, and that with greeting his boyhood friends, addressing the student body of Juniata College, where he was president at the age of 27, and lunching with the faculty.

Everywhere we go they treat us splendidly," said Pennsylvania's chief executive, and waving his hands toward the surrounding hills and the blue Juniata he said in a manner that brought cheers from the thousands of factory workers, high school and college students that surrounded his auto in the main square, "but, my friends, there's no place like home."

The shrieking of Huntingdon's factory whistles apprised the towns that the Governor and party had reached Yellow Springs on the county line. Schools here were closed, factories shut down and the faculty and students of Juniata college were loose to greet the Governor. He made a second speech at Juniata college, where he and the other members of the party took luncheon, continuing on their trip. To-night will see them at Williamsport.

Dirt Roads a Delight The humble dirt road is no longer the shame of Pennsylvania. Governor Brumbaugh and his party, in a strenuous day of mountain climbing eastward over the Alleghenies, drove one of the 150-mile journey from Pittsburgh to Altoona yesterday over dirt roads that were smooth and hard and well drained.

James Whitcomb Riley Is Honored by Nation Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 7.—Indiana awoke to-day for a holiday. It is not a holiday to be celebrated with noise making and parades but one to be observed quietly in the home and school. It is James Whitcomb Riley's birthday and the Hoosier State is leading the nation in paying homage to the poet.

THE WEATHER

For Harrisburg and vicinity: Partly cloudy weather is indicated to-night without much change in temperature. For Eastern Pennsylvania: Partly cloudy to night and Friday; moderate to northeast to southeast winds.

PRESIDENT BEING SHOWERED WITH CONGRATULATIONS

Announcement of His Engagement to Mrs. Galt Pleases Social Washington

NEWS PROVES SURPRISE

Widow of Prominent Jeweler Will Soon Become "First Lady of the Land"

By Associated Press Washington, D. C., Oct. 7.—President Wilson and Mrs. Norman Galt, whose engagement was announced last night at the White House, will be married probably the first week in December. The ceremony will be private, only a few close friends being invited, and will take place at the home of the bride on New Hampshire avenue near Dupont Circle.

Going to New York President Wilson and Mrs. Galt will make their first appearance together in public since the announcement of their engagement to-morrow in New York, where they go to a house party given by the President's close friend and unofficial adviser, Colonel E. M. House.

Staff for Social Work To-morrow's party given by Colonel House will be only the first of many that are being planned for the presidential party before the wedding. Invitations and congratulations began pouring into the White House offices to-day in such numbers that as previous occasions when the White House wedding on hand, a special staff of clerks was prepared for assignment of social work only for the next two months.

At His Desk Early President Wilson went to his desk early to-day as usual and was greeted with congratulations by the White House staff and callers, who began arriving immediately after the president's arrival with smiles and words of thanks, and evidently was a happy man.

Mr. Galt Was Best Man at Detweiler Wedding

Norman Galt, the husband of Mrs. Galt, who will wed President Woodrow Wilson in December, was widely known in this city. He was a close friend of Dr. J. B. McAllister and they were in Gettysburg College back in 1885. William B. Detweiler, formerly of this city, now of Philadelphia, was also a close friend.

EIGHT NAMES TO BE PRINTED ON COUNCIL BALLOT

County Commissioners Will Be So Advised by Solicitor Ott Tomorrow

NO COURT ACTION

Two Primary Leaders to Top Ticket; Pick Other Pair From Remaining Six

The names of the eight nominees for the City Council chosen at the primaries will be printed on the non-partisan ballot for the November election.

The two candidates who received more than fifty per cent. of the total vote—probably City Commissioners W. L. Gorgas and Harry F. Bowman—will be placed at the top of the list, and unless other candidates voted for by "stickers" receive more votes than the others did in the primary, Messrs. Gorgas and Bowman will be declared elected.

In effect this will be the opinion of C. M. Ott, county solicitor, who will submit to the Dauphin county commissioners to-morrow morning in advising the board as to the printing of the nonpartisan ballot.

The opinion of Attorney General Francis Shunk Brown relative to the nonpartisan judicial ballot applied only to the 1915 supplement of the 1915 judicial law and not to the 1915 supplement of the Clark act, which provides as to the method of election of candidates for Council on the nonpartisan ticket.

By adopting Col. Ott's recommendations the county commissioners incidentally will make court action unnecessary under the constitutionality of the act should be questioned afterward. If Attorney General Brown's opinion had been applicable to the councilman situation, two of the low candidates of the eight—O. M. Copeline and Charles C. Steiner—would have lost their places on the ticket.

Old Wesley Union Church to Be Vacated Sunday

Wesley Union A. M. E. Church, located for eighty years at South street and Tanners avenue, will be vacated Sunday, when the congregation will move to the new church at Forster and Ash streets.

This historic old church, which has been taken over for the Capitol Park extension, has a splendid record. It was an important station in the famous "underground railway" of Civil War days and the leader in the movements for the betterment of the negro race.

Four Men Killed by Powder Explosion

Emporium, Pa., Oct. 7.—Four men instantly killed, another probably fatally hurt and six seriously injured, it was stated to-day, were the casualties resulting from the explosion last night at the plant of the Aetna Explosive Company. A large quantity of smokeless powder, prepared for shipment to-day to the allies, exploded from some yet undetermined cause, blew the two story drying house to atoms and shook the surrounding country for miles around.

STATE POLICE NAB RESERVOIR "HOLD-UP" MAN

Last Attack on Miss Ruth Shaffer, of Allison Hill, Proves His Undoing; Strollers in Park Annoyed For Three Years; Wore Bogus Police Badge and Demanded Sums of Money of Swains at Revolver Point

Jacob M. Urich, Suspect, Will Be Given Hearing Before Alderman Cavenny Tonight; Corporal Davies Takes Flashlight and Badge From Him When Making Arrest; Alleged Highwayman Resides at 1909 North Street

Jacob M. Urich, 1909 North street, was arrested at a Market street hotel last evening by two members of the State constabulary stationed at Paxtang, charged with assault and battery by Miss Ruth Shaffer, of 1860 Walnut street.

Corporal Curtis A. Davies and Trooper Percy Wilson, who made the arrest, believe they now have in custody at least one of the men who for the past three or four years have been holding up couples in Reservoir Park, attacking the girls, putting the swains to flight by flourishing a revolver and demanding various sums of money to avoid arrest on bogus charges.

Grabs at Girl Two weeks ago last Saturday night, according to the information obtained by the State Police, Miss Shaffer and Frank Shreiner, who lives in the neighborhood, were sitting on a bench in Reservoir park near the entrance at Eighteenth and Walnut streets at a point opposite Miss Shaffer's home. From out of the darkness appeared a man, who made a grab for the girl. She started to run but he caught her. He tried to hold her but she slipped out of the coat she was wearing and again started to run but a second time the man caught her. In the meanwhile, Shreiner ran across the road to the Shaffer home and hurriedly returned with George Fox, 1921 North street, who was calling at the house. By this time the girl and the stranger were tussling prettily and Shreiner and Fox made a grab for the man. As they did, they allege he drew a revolver from his pocket and flourished it at them. Fox, it is said, recognized the man and the Shaffer girl said she could identify him.

The case was laid before the State Police a few days ago and immediately they began to accumulate evidence. Last evening Miss Shaffer made information before S. Brady Cavenny, alderman of the Second ward, and then Officers Davies and Wilson went to Urich's home. He was not there, but upon order, Urich's wife produced a revolver owned by her husband. The gun was identified, it is said, by Miss Shaffer, Fox and Shreiner. A hunt was then made for Urich and he was found attending a meeting of the Keystone Motorcycle Club of Harrisburg in the club's rooms in a Market street hotel. He was arrested and a badge and a flashlight were taken from him. The Shaffer girl stated that when the attack was made on her the man flashed a flashlight on her. She identified the light taken from Urich, it is said. The badge was also identified. Urich was committed to jail for a hearing at Alderman Cavenny's office this evening at 7.30 o'clock.

Strollers Long Amoyed For the past few years strollers in Reservoir park have been annoyed by the activity of some friends of some candidates within a few hours after the death of the justice, and suggested that those who were so ignorant or reckless of the proprieties incident to death could hardly expect to be considered as fit for so high a place.

Brown Regrets Haste in Supreme Court Matter

Attorney General Brown, when the subject of the successor to Justice Elkin was mentioned to-day, said he regretted the indecent and glib discussion of the subject by some newspapers and the activity of some friends of some candidates within a few hours after the death of the justice, and suggested that those who were so ignorant or reckless of the proprieties incident to death could hardly expect to be considered as fit for so high a place.
