Who plays the title role in "Ill-Starred Babbie," which comes to the Orpheum Wednesday night.—Advertisement.

Information Bureau. In their new offering "The Information Bureau," a series of misunderstandings and identifications cause the hilarity and the plot thickens as the action of the piece moves on. In the hands of the clever Sully Family these situations are made the most of and the act is said to be good for one long laugh. Comedy also reigns supreme in the supporting attractions. For there will be Bixley and Lerner, popular singing comedians, who will add their mirth and song to the bill, as will also Van and Carrie Avery, who have a very funny variety sketch. Kalmar and Brown are a fifty pair, who do a breezy and classy song and patter skit, and this looks to be just the kind of an attraction that always appeals to the audience. Wainan, whose efforts are not to be disclosed here, will appear in the surprise offering of the season.—Advertisement.

"IN THE PALACE OF THE KING," AT COLONIAL THEATRE.
A stupendous production, depicting a love story of old Madrid and the picturesque court life of 350 years ago, is "In the Palace of the King," Esanay's six-act feature photoplay, dramatized from the famous novel by F. Marlon Crawford.

Besides the thousands of men and women employed in the film, hundreds of blooded horses and thousands of dollars worth of beautiful costumes were used to lend realistic color to the play, and neither time nor money was spared by Esanay to make the film perfect in every respect.

The King of Spain, his half-brother, a nobleman of Austria, the commander of the King's Guard and his two daughters, a princess, the King's secretary, the court jester and the Prime Minister form the main characters of "In the Palace of the King." Besides these, there are hundreds of grantees, courtiers, court ladies, troopers, guards, musicians, gentlemen, and ladies in waiting and even judges of inquisition, an executioner and a cardinal.—Advertisement.

Some Changes in Pastors of Upper End Churches

Special to The Telegraph
Halifax, Pa., Oct. 11.—The Rev. Clifford A. Funk, who served as pastor of the United Brethren Church here for the past three years, has been made pastor of the First United Brethren Church, at Philadelphia, at a substantial increase in salary. The Rev. Mr. Funk did good work while pastor of the church. The membership was greatly increased, the interior of the church completely overhauled and a new carpet placed therein.

The new pastor, the Rev. C. E. Rettew, is a college and seminary graduate. He was a member of the Ohio conference for two years while attending Bonbrake Seminary. He has a wife and one child. The Rev. J. C. Pease, pastor of the Jacksonville circuit, has been returned for the third year. The work of the Rev. Mr. Pease has been so successful that the entire charge voted unanimously for his return.

OTIS SKINNER IN NEW COMEDY

Two Performances in His New Play at the Orpheum on Saturday

Those who missed seeing one of the two performances at the Orpheum on Saturday, missed what has thus far been the best attraction in Harrisburg this season. Otis Skinner occupies a position on the legitimate stage sufficiently enviable to insure a personal success in almost any play in which he stars but when a play so particularly adapted to his qualifications as "Cook of the Walk" falls to his lot, it is safe to assert that his success is doubly assured. "Cook of the Walk" is a new play by Henry Arthur Jones, written especially for Otis Skinner. In some respects the part given Mr. Skinner much the same character and portrayal as did his vehicle of five years ago, "Your Humble Servant." This new piece is a story written around a profligate actor of the old school, one who, though he had his failings, was also able and temperamental. Antony Bellchamber is the character the piece gives to Mr. Skinner. Virtually down and out, Bellchamber seeks a part in the play his old friend, whom early in their careers he had assisted, but is rewarded only with rebuff and insult. Circumstances play in Bellchamber's favor in that he becomes aware of the admiration paid his old friend by a young girl who has been most indiscreet in her admiration. Conyers seems to show the girl the folly of her actions by having her in company with her father and mother and take dinner with him. Bellchamber becomes a party in the scene wherein the girl, having eluded her parents, eludes Mr. Skinner, who is misunderstood, and Bellchamber, still desiring the part in the Shakespearean play, becomes the main witness in the inquiry before the jury. Conyers' actions, by an agreement between Bellchamber and Conyers, he Bellchamber, clears his friend's name of all doubt, and plays the part of Othello.

Mr. Skinner's play gives him a part of personality and character which he most ably and delightfully portrays. Moreover, the part gives him a most excellent opportunity to display those characteristics which have won for him his reputation as a stage actor. He is going to please audiences, for besides having a most interesting plot, Mr. Skinner does not relieve you, come back to my store and I will cheerfully return your money."

Anyone who has dyspepsia, indigestion, headache, dizzy feelings, or liver troubles, should take advantage of this chance to be made well without any risk of spending their money to no purpose. Mi-o-na will relieve you, will regulate the digestion, will enable you to eat what you want. If it does not do all this it will not cost you a cent.

Many druggists who have sold hundreds of boxes of Mi-o-na say they have yet to receive the first complaint from any customer. Such a record is simply marvelous and speaks volumes for the merit of the remedy.

It is easy enough to fill a column with the symptoms afflicting those who have dyspepsia, but there is no need of describing their condition. What they want is relief and they can get it almost certainly get it in Mi-o-na. Do not suffer a day longer with disorderly digestion. If Mi-o-na relieves you it costs you 50 cents a box. If it does not, Mi-o-na will return your money. Sold by H. C. Kennedy and other leading dealers.—Advertisement.

Local theatergoers are going to be upon their feet to witness an undying dramatic offering to-night at the Orpheum, when David Belasco presents his beautiful and talented Frances Starr in "Marie-Odile," which is described as a work of very superior caliber by the "New York American." Playwright, Edgar Kniblauch. "Marie-Odile" is described as a study in maiden innocence. She has passed the whole of her young life in an Alaskan convent and is absolutely ignorant of the world. It is an idyllic little love story woven with such simplicity, charm and sincerity that it is acknowledged to be one of the finest contributions to American dramatic literature.—Advertisement.

MOTION PICTURES
On October 20, William Collier of legitimate stage fame will leave for Los Angeles, there to act for the films in the Triangle Company's productions.

Ralph Kellard has been engaged by William Fox to appear in a film production "The Girl of the Sea." Frederick Thompson, the genius of the Hippodrome and Luna Park is to direct the piece.

WOMEN SAVE $5 USING GASOLINE

Dry clean your dresses, suits, silks, yokes, gloves, draperies, etc.

Save $5 to $10 by doing your own dry cleaning. Here is a simple and inexpensive way to clean and brighten children's coats, suits, caps, woolen garments, Swiss, lawn, organdie and chiffon dresses, kid gloves and shoes, furs, neckties, ribbons, silks, satins, lace, yokes, silk shirtwaists, draperies, rugs, in fact, any and everything that would be ruined with soap and water.

Get two ounces of solvite at any drug store and put it in two gallons of gasoline, where it readily dissolves. Then put in the goods to be cleaned. After a little rubbing out they come looking as clean and fresh as new. You will find nothing fades, shrinks or wrinkles, requiring no pressing.

Any woman can do home dry cleaning in a few moments at little cost and save lots of money. It is as simple and easy as laundering, and you can't make a mistake. Your grocer or any garage will supply the gasoline, and your druggist will sell you two ounces of solvite, which is simply a gasoline soap. Then a wash bottle or large dishpan completes your home dry cleaning outfit.—Advertisement.
