Lake and Pumping Station

Governor Brumbaugh Elected to Honorary Membership; New Lockerhouse Ready For Golfers; Artificial Lake; One of Best Nine-Hole Courses in This Section of Country; Many Social Events Planned For Fall and Winter

The Colonial Country Club, through persistent effort, has already one of the most difficult and sporty golf courses in the State. It has attracted considerable attention outside the city and the constant care which is being given the fairways and greens, coupled with the excellent natural conditions, will in a short time make it one of the most popular nine-hole courses in this section of the country.

The energy and enthusiasm of its members have increased the social and athletic activities of the club immensely and plans are under way for the winter season. The building and the grounds have been made doubly attractive and the new locker house which has been added to the club provides room for 140 steel and wooden lockers in addition to the locker room in the main building, which will be reserved for the ladies. The new lockers are ready for use and the other improvements are practically completed, including the modern showers. These additions have been made at an expense of five to seven thousand dollars and the locker building is conceded to be one of the finest, brightest and best-equipped in this section.

and value of the course. The plans for the winter's social events contemplate a masquerade ball within a week or so and a stag affair to which about one hundred and fifty guests will be invited by the members. The Saturday afternoon teas at which the ladies of the club serve will continue to be a feature of the club life and the bowling matches and periodic dances will also be winter events. The Reservoir Golf Club will be the guests of the Colonial Club on Saturday of this week and the following Saturday the Country Club of Harrisburg will be entertained on the Colonial course. Nowhere is there a country club with more attractive environment than that which surrounds the Colonial grounds on the Langestown road. The artificial lake created this year is a fine improvement to the landscape and constitutes at the same time a difficult hazard for the golfers.
