STATE'S WORK FOR FARMERS SHOWN

Display at Reading Fair Will Be Feature of Attraction During Coming Week

The Department of Agriculture made a very creditable exhibit at the Reading Fair last week. Secretary Critchfield having given his personal attention to the arrangements and had the Bureau of Zoology, the Bureau of Chemistry, the Bureau of Veterinary Service, the Division of Fertilizer Control and the Division of Farm Advisers represented, showing the respective work of each of these bureaus and helpfulness of which they can be to the farmers of the State.

The exhibit of fruit from the model orchards of Berks county brought much commendation to the work of the department. These orchards were used for demonstration work by the Division of Zoology. A number of cases of mounted birds and animals found in Pennsylvania were shown to demonstrate to the public the friends and enemies of the farmer. A number of photos were also shown of the progress made in the orchard demonstration work.

The Bureau of Chemistry showed a large collection of cereals and mill by-products used in the manufacture of concentrated commercial feeding stuffs; also a number of adulterants used by unscrupulous manufacturers. Samples of both pure and adulterated linseed oil were shown, as well as samples of pure farm seeds.

The Bureau of Veterinary Service displayed a collection of animal tuberculosis, foot and mouth disease and other diseases to which farm animals are subjected, also proper methods for conducting a dairy were shown. Fertilizer samples were exhibited, representing many of the ingredients used in the composition of commercial fertilizers.

The purpose of the exhibit was to show the consumer the various grades of availability of the same. These materials covered the carriers of phosphoric acid, potash and nitrogen.

The Division of Farm Advisers showed the various types of the soils of Berks county and the special adaptation to certain crops. It was also shown how cow peas and soy beans, as well as other leguminous crops, could be grown on these soils with profit to the farmer for both hay and green manuring.

Secretary Critchfield stated on the closing day: "The purpose of these exhibitions is to impress upon the minds of the people that agricultural fairs should be conducted with a view to making them educational as well as to encourage farmers by offering premiums for meritorious products." The exhibit also showed something of the work that is being done by the Department of Agriculture for the people of the State, and particularly those engaged in agricultural pursuits.

U. S. Policy in Mexico Attacked by Catholics

Chicago, Oct. 18.—In a statement issued here to-day Anthony Matre, of Chicago, national secretary of the American Federation of Catholic Societies, said the federation had sent to President Wilson a vigorous protest against recognition of any leader or faction in Mexico that has been guilty of spoliation of church property and illustrations.

"The Catholics of the United States demand that whoever is recognized by the Government should give absolute guarantee that the rights and privileges of all members of every faith shall be respected," said Secretary Matre.

According to Matre, the message to President Wilson took exception to any of the Mexican leaders "on whose shoulders rest the responsibility for sufferings that the Church in Mexico has borne and the guilt of the murder of the priest, confiscation of property, desecration of churches, indignities to sisters, use of altars for un-speakable purposes and continued interference with liberty of worship."

TECH WINS GAME ON LUCKY CHANCE

Cole Kicks Field Goal Two Minutes Before Game Ends; Williamsport Plays Hard

Tech won from Williamsport high in Saturday's game, score 3 to 0. A lucky chance for a field goal came in the last quarter. Cole took the chance and sent the ball over the bar. It was the first victory in two years over Williamsport. Tech's star players were Loyd Snyder, Miller McCurdy and Cocklin. Speaker and Cornwall played well for Williamsport.

The game was played on a muddy field, during a drizzling rain and handling the ball was a difficult proposition. At the go-off, the boys from "Billtown" showed an aggressiveness that looked bad for Tech. There was also a weakness in interference on the part of the local eleven that made prospects for a victory still worse.

During three periods the two teams battled hard, keeping the ball moving up and down the field. Tech did good work near the close of the first period, and lost a chance to score by not trying for a field goal with the ball in good position. In the second period Williamsport worked their spite ball, while Tech made Tech guessing. It counted for short gains.

Substitutes Get Busy

Tech started the third period with several substitutes in the line-up, as a result of some roughhouse work by Williamsport. These players put new life in the game. Tech's good work continued during the fourth period. Tech's gains were all made by the line. There was but two minutes to play. The signal was given for an end play. The ball was wet and was fumbled by one of the incoming rolling beneath his legs. Cole made two attempts to get it. Without looking in what direction the goal posts were he tried a drop kick. The ball went over slowly. The line-up and summary:
