WHEAT CROP GOES OVER 1914 MARK

Interesting Figures Issued on the Production in Pennsylvania by State Official

In spite of unfavorable weather, shortage of harvest hands and the ravages of the Hessian fly the wheat crop of the Keystone State will run ahead of that of last year which was one of the record-breaking. The crop estimated by L. H. Wible, chief of the Department of Agriculture's bureau of statistics, shows 24,928,000 bushels or 19 bushels to the acre. This estimate is conservative, made from first hand reports received since the last week of September and from districts where threshing has largely been completed. The crop last year was 24,200,000 bushels.

The quality of the wheat as well as rye and oats is a little below the average condition. This is due to the wet weather that prevailed at harvest time and while much of the grain was standing in the fields. It was feared at that time that the damage would be greater. Less than two per cent. of the 1914 wheat is now in the producers' hands. The price last winter and spring was attractive to permit much wheat being held.

The total production of rye is estimated at 4,672,000 bushels or 20,000 bushels less than last year. The production will be 17.2 bushels per acre, the average being three per cent. less than in 1914.

Oats will far exceed the production of 1914. The estimate of the 1915 yield is 43,095,000 bushels against 31,117,000 last year. The average is 39 bushels per acre. The corn crop, however, will be less than last year when the yield was 58,520,000 bushels. The yield per acre will be 34.6 bushels. Sixteen per cent. of the crop was cut for ensilage. Storms damaged the corn crop 10 per cent. Buckwheat is estimated at 4,990,000 bushels, an average of 18 bushels to the acre. This is a decline from last year.

The potato crop was badly affected by the weather and there will be only 75 per cent. of the average yield, the estimate being 12,042,000 bushels or 66 bushels to the acre. Last year the yield was 106 bushels to the acre.

Tobacco acreage is given as 5 per cent. smaller than last year with an estimate for 1915 of 1237 pounds to the acre or a total production of 33,910,000 pounds, a decrease of 8,000,000 pounds.

The fruit yields are given as below normal, apples showing only 75 per cent. of the average crop. Prices of peaches and pears are given as less than last year.

Owing to heavy rains it is stated that the pasture lands are in splendid condition, which will enable livestock to start the winter in fine state.

CELEBRATE ST. LUKE'S DAY

Dr. Floyd Appleton and other clergy from this city and surrounding towns were present.

BUTCHERS MEET ON WEDNESDAY

200 Expected to Attend Conference in City Council Chamber

At least 200 butchers and farmers who sell meats in the five city markets, have been invited to a conference to be held by the city health authorities in the city council chamber Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

This meeting has been called to give the meat dealers a chance to obtain all the information about the requirements in the new State meat hygiene law prohibiting dealers from permitting prospective customers to handle meats for sale, and demanding that the products be kept screened from insects.

At the session all of the dealers will be given a chance to ask questions and exchange views on the subject, Dr. J. M. J. Raunick, city health officer, said this morning. Dr. Raunick is now considering a plan to have all of the meat dealers in each market house occupy a certain section equipped for that purpose.

Permanent plans will be made Wednesday for the protection of the meat and at that time all of the dealers will be asked to tell how they think the requirements can best be obeyed. Several dealers in the city have already fixed their stands temporarily. Dr. Raunick said that morning that several meat dealers suggested having a few stalls in front of the stalls and then placing mosquito netting over the stalls. This plan Dr. Raunick said would not be satisfactory. He will advocate a fixed method to be used by all dealers who sell meat, in order to comply fully with the new act.

A PROPOSAL TO INUNDATE THE HOLY LAND

Travelers in the Holy Land journeying northward along the beaten track from Samaria, in the north, must cross the Plain of Esdrael, called also the Plain of Jezreel, and almost invariably pass the ancient site of the city of Jezreel. A little north of the present village (Zerin) a deep valley slopes downward to the Jordan, and through this valley runs the railroad between Haifa and Damascus. It was once proposed to cut a canal from the Mediterranean to the Jordan Valley, filling up the trough of the Dead Sea and paralleling the Suez Canal by a second route. If such a project were ever carried out the inner or eastern end of the canal would be within a mile or so of Jezreel.

The same stream that would have turned Naboth's vineyard into a "garrency" for Ahab's delight now waters fig orchards and forms a little oasis among the mounds of rubbish which cover the ancient site.—Christian Herald.

PENROSE BOOMED FOR PRESIDENCY

Senator Given Fine Greeting When He Speaks to Manufacturers in Rhode Island

Senator Boies Penrose's sweeping victory in his campaign for re-election as United States Senator last year and the strength manifested by his friends in the Republican organization in the primaries throughout Pennsylvania have made him more of a national figure than ever. In Rhode Island on Saturday he was boomed for President of the United States with considerable heartiness, although he declined, as in various counties in this State, to accept the acclaim given to him. On the same day in Washington it came out that he was being seriously considered by men prominent in the national councils of the Republican party for the chairmanship of the national committee, which will run next year's Presidential campaign.

A dispatch from Providence tells of this greeting for him: "Senator Boies Penrose was boomed for President on a protective tariff platform here Saturday afternoon at a luncheon attended by more than five hundred representatives of the textile industry of New England. There was a demonstration for the Pennsylvania Senator when United States Senator Lippitt of Rhode Island, another speaker of prominence in Republican politics and the business activities of this section, praised him as a statesman of the McKinley school of protection to the country's industries. In his address Senator Penrose attacked the policies of the Democratic party and urged national preparedness, declaring that there should be a dreadnought for each State. He said nothing regarding the Presidency.

The luncheon was under the direction of the South New England Textile Association, of which H. C. Dexter, Pawtucket, is president. Mr. Dexter discussed Senator Penrose's service in the Senate, and referred to the fact that as chairman of the Committee on Finance he had led the opposition to the Underwood tariff bill in the Senate.

The splendid endorsement given Senator Penrose by the people of his State at the election last year places him in line for the Presidency," said Mr. Dexter.

Senator Lippitt referred to Senator Penrose as sound on the tariff, and a statesman whose services the country requires. He also declared that to the Pennsylvania Senator more than to any other man, should be given credit for the defeat of the administration's shipping bill during the last session of Congress.

"Senator Penrose, accompanied by a delegation of manufacturers, visited several of the textile plants of Providence and Pawtucket. He also visited the State House and other public buildings."

WATCH CHILDREN SAYS DR. DIXON

Little Indispositions May Lead to Serious Illness Warns the Commissioner

A day in school when a child is half sick may result in serious illness and indisposition of children should be watched in order to head off the communicable diseases to which children are liable, says Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, State Commissioner of Health, in his weekly health talk. He warns that other children are likely to be exposed and that parents should note health conditions when children complain.

Dr. Dixon says: "School authorities are naturally anxious to secure regularity of attendance on the part of the scholars and many parents feel that they are simply doing their duty in forcing children to go to school who complain of not feeling well. It is much better for a child to lose an occasional day's schooling than to risk bringing on an illness and exposing others.

"Children's recuperative powers, generally speaking, are superior to those of older people. Proper rest and care will often ward off serious illness, but this requires care and insight on the part of the parents, as the children themselves are not apt to call attention to their condition until they become seriously ill.

"Loss of appetite, feverishness, lassitude, discoloration of the eyes, are all indications which should be watched as symptoms of indisposition.

"The work which children lose in the schools they can make up far more readily than what they lose in health. Satisfactory mental progress cannot be made unless health is first considered and school authorities should realize that the total amount of time lost is far greater owing to the added possibility of spreading communicable disease when half-sick children are permitted in school.

"When children are ill their playmates should not be permitted to go to see them until it is absolutely certain that they are not suffering from some communicable disease. Colds are common, but parents should see that their children do not visit other youngsters who are ill and infants should never be taken into houses where there is danger of their contracting illness from children who are not well.

A NERVINE TONIC

In many severe nervous disorders the best remedy is often a tonic. The most active tonic treatment is recommended by the highest medical authority to arrest the progress of such diseases.

It is impossible to reach the nerves directly with medicine. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a nervine tonic but they act on the nerves through the blood, enabling the blood to carry to the nerves the elements needed to build them up.

Neuralgia, sciatica, sick headache and a number of more severe nervous troubles are properly treated by building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and are often entirely corrected in this way.

If you are nervous you can help yourself by refusing to worry, by taking proper rest, sleep and vacations, by avoiding excesses and by taking out-of-door exercise. For medicine take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the non-alcoholic tonic.

Sufferers from nervous disorders who have been taking treatment without benefit should investigate the tonic method. Write to-day to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System." It will be sent free on request.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail on receipt of price, fifty cents per box, six boxes for $2.50—Advertisement.

Miners Are Scarce

and every day they are getting scarcer.

The large majority of coal miners are foreigners. For the last 15 months these foreigners have been going home to fight.

There are few American miners and they are being drawn to the steel mills by the lure of large wages.

With inexperienced men mining coal you may expect to receive poorly prepared coal later in the winter.

We are advising our customers to put into their cellar as much coal as they can while they can get our high grade SUN-GLO COAL.
