Court's Decision on Huselton Satisfies County Solicitor

SHEESLEY ON TICKET?

The city nonpartisan ballot may contain the name of Harry F. Sheesley as well as that of Ezra S. Meeks.

Harrisburg's eight candidates for Council will be arranged in alphabetical order on the nonpartisan ballot for the November election regardless of the fifty per cent. clause.

Col. F. M. Ott, county solicitor, declared today that he will advise the county commissioners in preparing the tickets for the printers.

From this group the electors of Harrisburg will be expected to select the four commissioners, who with the mayor, will serve as City Council.

Based on Kunkel Decision Col. Ott announced his decision today following a careful perusal of President Judge Kunkel's decision on the Huselton Superior court judgeship

Who Do You Think You Are? Boy Yells at President Wilson

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 19.—President Wilson came to his legal residence here today and voted for woman suffrage.

The President arrived here shortly after noon. It took him only a few seconds to cast his ballot. He wrote a large "Yes" in the space opposite the suffrage amendment.

On his way to the station a boy driving a grocery wagon almost ran over the President.

Who do you think you are? shouted the grocery boy as the crowd here down on his wagon. Then he saw the President almost under his horse's feet and pulled away. The President smiled and the crowd laughed.

ALL 6 SUPERIOR COURT NAMES TO GO ON BALLOT

Court Hands Down Three Opinions Interpreting 50 Per Cent. Clause

ROSSITER, ERIE, LOSES

Four Candidates Must Be Printed in Philadelphia Judgeship Case

The Dauphin County Court today handed down three opinions interpreting the 50 per cent. clause of the nonpartisan judicial act governing the right of candidates to the sole place on the ballot.

In the appeal from the opinion of Attorney General Brown by Stephen H. Huselton, who asks that the names of all six candidates for the Superior Court be placed on the ballot, the court decides in favor of the plaintiff, and if necessary to enforce this opinion says a "writ of peremptory mandamus will be issued."

In the case of Uriah P. Rossiter, of Erie, who asks that his name be placed on the ticket as the sole nominee for judge in that district, the court holds that he has not received the required number of ballots and therefore is not entitled to be the only candidate. The costs are placed on Rossiter.

Certifying Candidates The Dauphin County Court having decided that the names of all six candidates for the Superior Court should go on the ballot because none of them received the majority of votes necessary to make him a sole nominee, the Secretary of the Common Pleas court today began certifying the nominations and the form of the ballot to the commissioners of the various counties of the State.

4,000 ATTEND OPENING

Second Annual Pure Food Show Promises to Eclipse All Previous Ones

Between three and four thousand persons took advantage of the opportunity offered by the second annual Pure Food show to gain a more intimate knowledge of articles used in everyday life and viewed and tasted samples of the manufacturers' wares at Chestnut street auditorium, last night.

The attendance at this the first night of the second annual show broke all records. Old Mrs. Harris Burg, who "covered" the story for the Telegraph had considerable trouble wending her way through the crowds. But she got through, and here is her quaintly expressed version of the exhibition:

By Mrs. Harris Burg Last night at 7 by the old town clock, I made it a point to be on hand for the formal opening of as complete a Pure Food Exhibition as could be
