Top of Standpipe Breaks Off at Hummelstown

Special to The Telegraph
Hummelstown, Pa., Nov. 1.—With a crash that could be heard over the town forty feet of the standpipe which holds the borough water fell over last night, crushing a small building near by and flooding the streets. Although a number of people were near at the time, no one was injured. Railroad street was flooded from the standpipe to the Swatara creek, but the water soon ran off, carrying a large amount of debris into the stream.

The standpipe was 100 feet high and 15 feet in diameter. The upper half is destroyed and the borough water supply may be limited for a time. The engineer had just finished fitting the big pipe when the break occurred.

18 POUNDS OF BLOOD
Is the average quantity in a healthy adult, but it is the quality of the blood that determines our strength to resist sickness. With weak blood we find cold hands and chilly feet; in children an aversion to study, and in adults rheumatic tendencies.

In changing seasons get abundant fresh air and take a spoonful of Scott's Emulsion after meals, because Scott's Emulsion is a rich blood-food that will increase both quantity and quality of the blood while it warms the body and helps carry off the impurities.

When multitudes of people are today taking Scott's Emulsion to avert winter sickness, and are giving it to their children, it is careless to neglect its benefits. Look out for substitutes.
