ONLY RELATIVES ATTEND WEDDING

Miss Grace Wrigley and William B. Clark Are Married in Philadelphia

MRS. WILLIAM B. CLARK

A quiet home wedding of interest in Harrisburg occurred Friday evening in Philadelphia, when Miss Grace Mildred Wrigley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Earle Wrigley, of 1447 Cayuga street, was united in marriage to William B. Clark, formerly of this city.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert Fulton Stirling, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Dauphin, Pa. The wedding guests included only the families and immediate relatives. A reception was held at the house following the ceremony.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Frank G. Sayre, of Philadelphia, as matron of honor, and Miss Sabra Clark, of Dauphin, the bridegroom's sister, as maid of honor. The best man was William Reid, of Collinswood, N. J.

The bride's gown was of white Georgette crepe and lace with pearl trimmings. She wore a veil of lace, held in place with pearls, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses, lilies of the valley and orchids.

The matron of honor wore pink crepe de chine, covered with accordeon plaited net, trimmed with silver lace. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The maid of honor wore pale green pussy willow taffeta, embroidered in silver. She carried a bouquet of pale yellow roses. Miss Mildred Tull and Miss Elsie Young, both of Philadelphia, were ribbon bearers.

Mrs. Clark is a graduate of the girls' high school of Philadelphia and of the Philadelphia Normal School. Her father is one of the city magistrates of Philadelphia.

Mr. Clark, a son of Dr. and Mrs. William P. Clark, of Dauphin, is a graduate of the first class of the Harrisburg Technical high school and is a newspaper reporter. He was a member of the staff of this paper for several years, going to Philadelphia in the Spring of 1914. At present he is on the local staff of the Philadelphia Evening Telegraph.

After an extended southern trip Mr. and Mrs. Clark will be "at home" at 319 West Logan street, Germantown. On Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Byron Earle Wrigley entertained at dinner for the bridal party and immediate families.

Henry W. Stratton, of Boston, who spent the past week in this city, is now visiting his relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Suckling, in Pittsburgh.

The board of directors of the Harrisburg Civic Club, at a meeting held this morning, endorsed the following resolution, submitted by the National Peace Federation:

"The outcome of recent missions to the governments of the warring nations, was that the belief that, while the nations at war are not willing themselves to begin negotiations or even signify a desire to do so, lest it be interpreted as a sign of weakness, they are at a disadvantage in the final peace settlement, there is nevertheless abundant evidence that those charged with the administration of the foreign policies of these nations would welcome, or at least not oppose, affirmative action by a neutral agency to bring about a peace based on international justice.

"This meeting therefore respectfully urges the President of the United States to co-operate with other neutral governments in calling a conference of neutral nations, which would constitute the direction of continuous mediation, would invite suggestions for settlement from each of the warring nations, and in any case submit simultaneously to all of them reasonable proposals as a basis for peace.

Mrs. Ralph Yarrington of Richmond, Va., was a recent guest of her sister, Mrs. Paul Markel in this city.

Detroit Electric $1975 to $2275

absolute silence in operation

The motive power of the Detroit Electric is a perfectly fluid, continuous stream of electricity. There are no explosions, no intervals between impulses, no over-powerful engine pounding away at 2000 revolutions per minute, nothing to jar and tire you, nothing to batter the mechanism and pile up heavy bills for repair, replacement, and adjustment. You'll be surprised at the distance you can ride in a Detroit Electric without the slightest fatigue. And it is the preferable automobile because of its cleanliness and freedom from the fumes and odors common to gas cars. On any day you say we'll be glad to arrange a demonstration for you.

Self Respect and Good Glasses

We all take a certain amount of pride in selecting those articles which we must be seen in—hats, shoes—we not only want them to fit well and be comfortable but they must look well.

These things are all necessities, too, yet the exercise of good taste in their selection is an indication of that self-respect which makes us feel satisfied and at ease in any company.

To be comfortable such things must fit well and to do this they must be made right.

So it is with your eyeglasses. To wear the best fitting, best looking and most comfortable lenses and mounting is simply a matter of making the right start.

We are not ordinary "sellers of glasses," our service means more than that. It starts with a very thorough examination to find and measure to the very nicest degree the actual kind and amount of error that exists in each eye. From this we determine mathematically just what focus the lenses are to be made to give both eyes perfectly normal vision.

We go even further than that. We exercise the greatest skill in the taking of very careful facial measurements in order that each lens may be placed before the eye in its correct relative position and that it is very important.

And lastly we employ only the very finest of lenses and mountings selected and made for each particular case with utmost discrimination in order to give you the greatest personal comfort and satisfaction. I have been serving your friends for nearly a quarter of a century, why not you?
