

King, Millionaire Monkey, at Majestic Tomorrow

Doesn't it sound odd to read about a monkey being discharged from a hospital? And a hospital where millionaire human beings go for treatment? Well, that is what recently happened to King, the millionaire monkey. Since he was supposed to appear at the Majestic Theater a few weeks ago, and disappointed at the last minute because of sudden illness, King has been in a New York hospital, in a private room right next to the room occupied by a Wall Street broker.

Roosevelt Got Ready to Recreate Rough Riders

Special to The Telegraph. London, Nov. 17.—Sidney Brooks in a dispatch to the Daily Ma from New York, tells of an interview with Colonel Roosevelt who he says he has never known to be so vehement on any subject as on the United States' inaction in the present war.

men on the lines of his old Rough Rider regiment. "His generals, colonels, majors and some of the captains were actually selected, and for his adjutant general Roosevelt picked a man long known to me as one of the ablest officers of the United States cavalry. Every detail had been covered and the ex-President calculated that within three months after the declaration of war he and his men would be in Flanders. "To forego that dream has been one of the bitterest disappointments of his life."

RIGHT ARM BROKEN

Special to The Telegraph. Penbrook, Pa., Nov. 17.—Luther Crum broke his right arm when he fell from a ladder yesterday. He had been trimming trees about his home and fell to the ground.

AMUSEMENTS

Robert Mantell, the Eminent Actor, Appears at Colonial in Powerful Fox Feature

The greatest heights that William Fox has thus far attained in the silent drama, are realized in the current attraction at the Colonial entitled "The Blindness of Devotion," which serves to introduce the most powerful actor of the American stage, Robert Mantell. The appearance of Mantell, celebrated a star in movies is, indeed, noteworthy, and this being his first appearance in this field, will likely afford an opportunity that will be eagerly grasped by thousands.

ORPHEUM To-morrow, matinee and night—"The Broadway Boles," which is a comedy. Saturday, matinee and night, November 20—"Me, Him and I." Monday night, November 22—"International Wrestling matches." Tuesday night only, November 23—"The Yiddish Actor" in America, J. P. Adler.

"ME, HIM AND I" Of all the pretty girls that ever left Broadway to go on the road Joe Hartig has enticed away the prettiest forty for his big musical comedy success, "Me, Him and I," which comes to the Orpheum Saturday, matinee and night. It would be a shame to let any of the beauties wear such adorable costumes, and the result is the stunningest chorus on the road. The cast includes those well-known comedians, Ollie Mack, Sleyer Harris and Frank De Mack, aided by Dainty Primrose Seamon, one of America's best-known comedienne. Arthur Conrad, Helen Walsh, Albert Harrison, Harry Mahon and Violet Rio, all with Broadway reputations.—Advertisement.

INTERNATIONAL WRESTLING By special arrangement with the Vilmer and Vincent interests these matches will be presented in the Orpheum Theater of this city. As the first match for next Monday evening there is announced a match between Joe Tomasco, champion of Italy, versus Mort Henderson, champion of the Eastern United States. The best out of three falls is the stipulation of one or the other of these men. The usual preliminaries will be presented.—Advertisement.

JACOB P. ADLER The Orpheum management announces with pleasure the coming of Jacob P. Adler, America's foremost Yiddish actor. The lovers of the Yiddish drama of this city have long awaited the coming of this celebrated actor and this will be Mr. Adler's first appearance. Mr. Adler will be surrounded by a very capable company and will present one of his New York successes. The Jewish-speaking people of this city will no doubt take advantage of the coming of this noted actor. The Jewish speaking will open Friday morning.—Advertisement.

MAJESTIC VAUDEVILLE To-day presents Harrisburg amusement seekers with their last opportunities to see the Williams and his Nine Sweethearts in their infectious musical comedy, as well as all the clever supporting Keith hits that comprise a very entertaining show for the first half of the week. A decided hit of the bill is the lively singing and piano act that is being presented by O'Brien, Moore and Cornack. These artists do some new song hits in clever fashion, some of them character songs, and they close with a splendid imitation of Charlie Chaplin singing ractime. Artistic posing novelty, offered by Burdella Patterson, and two or three other acts of merit and variety conclude the bill. For the last half of the week the management is announcing King, the millionaire monkey, who came from Harrisburg direct from a millionaire hospital in New York City where he has been ever since he was announced to appear at the Majestic a few weeks ago.—Advertisement.

AT THE COLONIAL Robert Mantell, the widely-celebrated Shakespearean actor of the legitimate stage, was tempted by William Fox at a flattering sum, to go into the "movies" for just one play, and to-day his efforts will be seen in "The Blindness of Devotion." It is said that "The Blindness of Devotion" has climaxes of overwhelming power and intense dramatic force. Rarely, if ever, has a screen drama been brought to such dramatic and thrilling heights. A wonderful cast of distinguished players make "The Blindness of Devotion" a film that every admirer of the best there is in movie pictures, should see at the Colonial either to-day or to-morrow. "Neal of the return to England" which is entitled "The Yellow Peril," is also on view there to-day and to-morrow.—Advertisement.

LOU TELLEGEN IN "THE EXPLORER" AT THE REGENT TO-DAY AND TOMORROW "The Explorer," in which Lou Tellegen, the international romantic star, who at the age of 20 was leaning man for Mme. Sarah Bernhardt, makes his debut as a photoplay star of the Jesse L. Lasky Company, on the Paramount program at the Regent to-day and to-morrow in a picturization of the famous play of the same name by William Somerset Maugham, the noted English dramatist. "In the African wilds young Allerton incurs the wrath of a native tribe by reason of his brutal conduct. The lives of the members of the expedition party are at stake, when the young man, realizing atonement can come only through self-sacrifice, permits the Explorer and others to escape, while he is killed. Subsequent misunderstandings after the return to England are eventually cleared and the Explorer and Lucy are reconciled. "The Explorer" has been presented throughout Europe and America.—Advertisement.

GEORGE CROW DEAD George Crow, a former employe of the Star-Independent, died at the home of his son in Reading Monday from cancer of the liver. He was 82 years old. He is survived by four sons, Wilmer C. Crow, of this city, and Samuel, Charles and Harvey, of Reading. Funeral services will be held at the Glen Moore Church, Glen Moore, Pa.

Discrimination

Being Article No. 1 on the subject of Jitney Regulation

- In reading this article keep two things always in mind:
First—That licenses have been granted for operating more than five times as many jitneys as there are cars regularly operated by this company.
Second—That these jitneys are engaged in identically the same business as this company—the transportation of the public to various points in the city for a 5c fare.

This company must pay to the city as tax, three cents out of every dollar it earns.

Must the jitney? If not, why not?

This company—a responsible corporation—sets aside two cents out of every dollar it earns to take care of damages resulting from unavoidable accidents.

Does the jitney provide any protection to the public? If not, why not?

This company is limited to certain streets on which it may operate.

Is the jitney? If not, why not?

This company, whose cars are operated on rails, causing no wear and tear upon streets, pays for all paving between tracks and for nine inches outside each rail, and maintains the same without cost to the city.

Does the jitney—whose wear and tear upon the street is constant—contribute anything toward paving or maintenance? If not, why not?

- Rather unfair discrimination, don't you think?
But wait—the surface hasn't been scratched.
Tomorrow we'll point out to you some of many ways in which YOUR interests are affected.

16,000 Bankers Ready to Take Military Training

Special to The Telegraph. Philadelphia, Nov. 17.—Preparations are being made by 16,000 bankers throughout the country to take instructions in military tactics under United States army officers in order that they may be part of an army of citizen-soldiers ready for duty in the event of the nation's existence being threatened. Members of the various chapters of the American Institute of Banking adopted resolutions in favor of the training of citizen-soldiers at a convention held in San Francisco last August. At the same time the convention authorized a movement for military training among its members. William S. Evans, of Henry and West, institute, is a member of the committee in charge of the innovation. Speaking of the plan, Mr. Evans said: "Our purpose is twofold. The minor one, though first in point of time, is to provide proper physical exercise for banking men, who, as a class, probably stand in as great need of physical culture as any other class. But, primarily, patriotism was the stimulus that prompted the resolution."

"Some Potpie That" Says Hunter Whacking Up $150

By Associated Press. San Anselmo, Cal., Nov. 17.—Gray squirrel potpie, $150 a portion. This is not a menu item of a fashionable cafe. It is the price paid by M. Matteloid, San Anselmo caterer, for shooting and eating a pet squirrel of Town Recorder Richard Leach. San Anselmo's ordinances protect its gray squirrels, and Judge Leach upholds the town ordinances. Judge Leach is also especially fond of squirrels. Town Trustee I. J. Hall proved to the satisfaction of the court that Matteloid had killed and eaten a gray squirrel which had made its home in a tree in his honor's back yard for many months. Judge Leach promptly fined the caterer $25 and turned him over to the fish and game commission, which assessed him another $100 for hunting without a license. On top of this Matteloid paid his attorney $25 "Some potpie, that!" said Matteloid.

ERECT TABLETS IN MEMORY OF CIVIL WAR VETERANS

Special to The Telegraph. Pittsburgh, Nov. 17.—The county commissioners yesterday awarded a contract at $7,800 for the erection in the Soldiers' Memorial of thirteen bronze tablets, one for each of the volunteer regiments raised here for the Civil War. The roster of each regiment will be indicated on the tablets, which will be conspicuously placed in the corridors of the building. The regiments were the Forty-sixth, Sixty-third, Sixty-fifth, Seventy-sixth, Seventy-eighth, One Hundredth, One Hundred and Fifth, One Hundred and Twelfth, One Hundred and Twenty-third, One Hundred and Thirty-sixth, Two Hundred and Fourth and Two Hundred and Twelfth Pennsylvania Volunteers.

GIRL SAVES OLD MAN'S LIFE

Special to The Telegraph. Williamsport, Pa., Nov. 17.—Miss Mabel Myers, of Strawbridge, yesterday saved the life of Charles Phillips, 75 years old, who had become confused while crossing the Williamsport and North Branch Railroad track and stopped directly in front of a rapidly moving train. The train was within a short distance of Phillips when Miss Myers, who was carrying the mail to the station, saw him. Dropping the mail bag, she ran to the track, seized the aged man by the shoulder and succeeded in dragging him to the edge of the track as the locomotive struck him on the hip. He was dragged twenty feet, with Miss Myers clinging to his shoulder, before he was pulled free of the train. He was only slightly hurt.

Puts Another Face on It

Many a man jauntily takes his cup or two of coffee at a meal and declares that coffee doesn't hurt him! But wait until the poisonous drug, caffeine, in the coffee begins to show its cumulative effects, and puts a different face on the proposition. It's a fact anyone can verify that caffeine hardens the arteries brings on premature old age, and sallows and wrinkles the skin. Some of the signs are headache, irritability, biliousness, heart flutter, sleeplessness dizziness, "fag," and so on.
