Blockade Is Expected to Elicit An Immediate Declaration From Greece

London, Nov. 22.—The rumors of last week that the entente allies had determined to compel Greece to repudiate all hints that she might interfere with the passage of allied troops across her territory have been substantiated by the inauguration of a pacific blockade. This measure is expected to elicit an immediate declaration from the Greek Government, defining its intention clearly without further hesitation and ambiguity.

Some dispatches from Athens go so far as to say this already has been attained as a result of Earl Kitchener's conference with King Constantine, and that the Earl received assurances of a satisfactory nature. The British Government, however, has not yet intimated that Greece has complied to the demands of the allies.

Greece is described as prey of conflicting emotions—fear of Germany, whose military successes have brought the Balkan war theater nearer, and her natural sympathy for the cause of the allies—dictating opposite paths out of her present difficult neutrality.

PLANS LOAN OF BULGARS

Berlin, Nov. 22 (by wireless to Sayville).—The Bulgarian finance minister, M. Toncheff, who has been in Berlin for several weeks, has made arrangements for an advance to Bulgaria by a syndicate of German banks headed by the Deutsche Bank.

Greece Will Not Give Declaration Demanded

London, Nov. 22.—A Daily News dispatch from Athens filed Saturday says:

"The newspapers here take the view that the allies' action in imposing a commercial blockade upon Greece is contrary to international law because combatants will suffer from the fact that grain cargoes destined for Greece have been held up. The newspaper Hestia declares Greece will not give the declaration demanded by the allies.

"Bulgarian troops have ceased their attack from Pripet toward Monastir because they fear Serbian troops at Katchanik will advance and encircle them."

20,000 Babies Before The Eye of the Camera Just imagine a procession of Tiny Toddlers twice as long as the large parade of children during carnival week. If grown, they could establish a city of 20,000 population. It is possible to assemble that many babies in one group, just think what an interesting study of smiling, crying bits of humanity there would be. Complexions of all races, blondes and brunettes, to-be. Future staid matrons or vivacious coquettes, and sport-loving athletes or studious philosophers. Twenty thousand babies less than one year old may not be possible to assemble at one time, but that many babies have actually appeared before the eyes of one photographer's camera in this city. One by one during a period of twenty-five years 20,000 babies less than one year of age have been brought to one studio, in addition to the children and grown-up people that run the camera impressions at this one studio up into the hundreds of thousands. Many of these babies are now grown-up men and women who have since brought babies of their own to this same studio. F. E. Musser has had the privilege of photographing these 20,000 babies since he assumed the ownership of the studio at 16 North Third street. These lasting impressions of the camera recording the thousands of bright little faces are now priceless possessions of kinfolk who by this method can cherish a likeness for generations. Among the popular gifts for Christmas, none are more in evidence than photographs, and always popular as a token to an intimate friend or relative. The new nitrogen night-light is used by Mr. Musser for sittings by appointment in the evening and many avail themselves of this convenience who cannot find time to come during the day.—Advertisement.

Kingan Finds City Ideal as Distributing Center

For some time the local Chamber of Commerce has been pointing out the advantages of this city as a distributing center for large manufacturers, and one manufacturer that has proved to itself this claim is the Kingan Provision Company, who a few years ago selected Harrisburg as an ideal center for the distribution of the products of its large plant in Indianapolis.

Under competent management the local branch has developed in a few years' time from a small agency to an extensive business located at 421 to 425 South Second street. Through railroad facilities right at their door they have their own line of refrigerator cars delivering dressed meats and products to an overhead track system by which they are conveyed into automatic refrigeration with enameled white walls and electric illumination, permitting dealers to inspect and purchase under pleasing, sanitary conditions.

PRE-EMPT "FRANKLIN" NAME The "Franklin" party political application was pre-empted to-day for the first and second representative and the fifteenth State senatorial districts of Dauphin county and for the Eighteenth Congressional districts. The pre-emptions are the first to be filed in the State outside of Philadelphia. George K. Hoy, C. E. Rourke, C. Duncan Cameron, George E. Fornwalt, Grant M. Moore, H. H. Barr and Charles J. Householder pre-empted the name for the first assembly district. Howard Morris, Charles Kramer, George Richard, Benjamin Sharosky, D. J. Bechtold, C. E. Newbaker and Tolbert Prowell pre-empted the name for the second assembly, the fifteenth senatorial and the eighteenth congressional districts.

This Little Boy Saved From a Terrible Death

The Town of Enola in a Frenzy of Excitement Over the Seemingly Miraculous Cure of Ralph Gordon Bennett, Age 8 Years.

It Was No Miracle—Quaker Extract Did It

The Health Teacher at Groll Keller's Drug Store, and also the now happy parents of the boy tell all about this wonderful cure.

It is no wonder the Quaker remedies are now in such enormous demand. They should be in every home.

Rheumatism, Catarrh and Stomach Troubles are also disappearing where these great remedies are used.

RALPH GORDON BENNETT The picture herewith shown is a reproduction of a rather poor photograph of little Ralph Gordon Bennett, aged 8 years, son of James R. Bennett, who lives at 49 Columbia road, Enola. This dear little fellow has just passed through a remarkable experience which practically snatched him from the very brink of the grave and brought him back to a life of health and happiness. His cure is so remarkable that it has created an immense sensation at Enola, where he lives, and many people seem to think a miracle has been performed. Such is not the case, however, and all the credit for the cure must be given entirely to that most wonderful of all remedies, Quaker Herb Extract. This fact will be substantiated by Mr. and Mrs. James R. Bennett, the parents of the child, with whose full and cheerful consent the picture is herewith published. The particulars of the cure, also published, will be substantiated by them, and any person in doubt may call at their home at any time and they will receive the assurance that this little boy surely owes his life to Quaker Herb Extract. This result, together with the many others published during the past week or two, will surely convince any person of sound mind that the Quaker remedies must possess marvelous curative powers. The cures of rheumatism, catarrh and stomach troubles reported are genuine; the testimonials are genuine; they are from Harrisburg people, your own friends, neighbors or acquaintances. Can you ask for, suggest or even imagine any stronger or more powerful proof to show the true merits of a remedy?

"We live at No. 49 Columbia road, Enola, and are amongst the oldest residents of this town. Mr. Bennett is an engineer on a freight engine operating between here and Philadelphia. When our little son, Ralph Gordon, was not yet two years old (he was still wearing baby dresses) we discovered to our horror that he was afflicted with a tapeworm. We realized his danger and immediately arranged for treatment. It was unsuccessful and succeeded in getting only a part of the worm. That only seemed to increase our anxiety. Owing to the child's tender years it was not deemed advisable to administer such strong medicines again soon, so the little fellow continued in his misery. After a year or two we tried again and for the second time succeeded in getting a piece. Now what could or should we do? We were willing yet powerless to do anything more. The boy grew up, pale, puny, restless and emaciated, and caused us endless worry. We knew the inevitable consequence if something was not found soon to expel the worm from our dear child, and that consequence would be early death in a terrible form. Last week we read that the Health Teacher was in the city, at Groll Keller's drug store, No. 405 Market street, and we learned that he was anxious to prove that Quaker Extract would remove tapeworms complete with head. We called on him, proved to him that our child really had a tapeworm; he sold us the treatment; gave us all directions; we did not have to starve the child; and to our great surprise and intense joy, in less than three hours after taking the medicine the worm came, this time complete with head. Our little boy was saved, he was cured. We cannot explain what a relief this was to us, after over six years of continuous worry. We are only too happy to allow the publication of this wonderful cure; in fact, we consider it a duty to do so, as thereby other sufferers may be relieved." Statement of the Health Teacher: The cure of this little boy, while indeed remarkable, is but one of many being reported to me nearly every day. It is rarely, however, that a tapeworm develops in a child so young, and it disproves the general belief amongst doctors that tapeworms only develop from eating raw or uncooked meats. This case proves that this child was afflicted before it ever tasted solid foods. I have the worm at Groll Keller's drug store and all who wish can easily learn that Quaker Extract actually produced the worm complete with head, and therefore the child can never be tortured from it again. I hope merely to convince the Harrisburg people that the Quaker remedies may be relied upon. If you suffer from rheumatism, catarrh, indigestion or stomach troubles, send for a treatment at once. $1 per bottle, or 3 for $2.50. Should you desire any further information, call on me at Groll Keller's drug store, 405 Market street. I remain there daily from 8.30 a. m. until 9 p. m. I obtain the remedies regularly every few days direct from the laboratory, thus assuring you that the herbs from which the remedies are made still possess their full curative qualifications. The assistant remedies must also be obtained here, as they are not on sale excepting in one drug store of each city I visit. If you can, please call in the morning or during the day, so that the evening hours may be devoted to the working class of people.

The Health Teacher Can Only Be Seen at Groll Keller's Drug Store, No. 405 Market Street, Daily from 8-30 A. M. to 9 P. M.
