Public Service Will Act Upon a Number in the Course of a Few Months

Approval of the merger of four Berks county electric companies under the name of the Berkshire Electric Company, a $5,000,000 capital is believed to be the forerunner of other electric consolidations. The Berkshire Electric company is controlled by Lancaster interests, which have consolidated companies in Lancaster and other counties. The merger will be before the Public Service Commission this week for the consolidation of electric companies in Erie and for the acquisition of three electric companies in Lebanon county by the new Lebanon Valley Light and Power Company.

It is expected that the commission will act in a short time on some Lawrence county electric corporations and in a short time it is expected that companies newly incorporated for Butler and Beaver counties will be consolidated.

Among hearings this week before the commission will be on petitions for orders restraining electric companies from operating in Allegheny, Allegheny and Westmoreland counties where companies contend they have a prior right.

Cuts Grecian Nose Out of Soup Bone For Girl

Special to The Telegraph

Philadelphia Dec. 6.—A nose, which in lines and symmetry, compares favorably with the natural variety, has been manufactured from a soup bone by surgeons at the Samaritan hospital for a 12-year-old girl.

The girl was born without a nose. Her parents refrained from taking her out in public because of the attention her deformity attracted. Surgeons at the Samaritan hospital decided that the girl could have a nose like any other person. Dr. W. W. Babcock carved a nose along Greek lines from a soup bone.

An incision was made in the frontal bone of the skull, and the soup-bone nose securely fixed in position. Then the flesh of the face was stretched so that it covered the soup bone. Nostils were pierced in the flesh, and the child was able to breathe freely through the new nose. In a few days she will be able to leave the hospital.

Man With the Vision Succeeds Says Rotary Club Luncheon Speaker

Frank J. Conynman, manager for Dourich & Co., presided at to-day's luncheon of the Harrisburg Rotary Club at the Senate Hotel and Flavel S. Wright, his guest, made the principal speech, a delightful talk on "Service," the keynote of Rotary.

Mr. Wright is from the West and the brightness of the prairie flows through his well-rounded sentences. He carries the weight of conviction in all he says and he didn't confine himself to to-day to mere compliments, but told the members that he was stretched in fulfilling the law of service merely by giving thirty-six inches to the yard, two pints to the quart and sixteen ounces to the pound. Service, he said, goes far beyond the giving more than getting, to rendering something for the benefit of one's fellows.

The man with the vision, he said, is best man who succeeds, and success is spelled in the meaning of service.

Others who spoke were John W. Phillips, R. E. Webster, E. J. Hackenberry, R. M. Toomey and H. N. Murray.

P. G. Diener, the jeweler, gave the members as souvenirs tiny gold American flags to wear on the coat lapel.

WEST SHORE PLEASED WITH COUNCIL'S ACTION

the future, with committees appointed to look after the needs of each town, or whether there will be separate organizations in each town with delegates to meet with representatives in other towns is a matter which will have to be threshed out at the public meeting. There are a number of persons who believe each town should have its own organization and that when questions of importance to neighboring towns arise a joint meeting of the organizations in those towns could be called or representatives from each organization could confer. This plan is said to be meeting with some favor, but there are some persons who oppose this and say that the various towns and communities should be joined by one big organization and that the members who live in a certain town should be made members of a committee in that town, with power to confer and make reports at the meeting of the association. Persons who favor this plan say that when the report of a committee is accepted and the report pertains to some needed improvement in that town, then the entire force of the big organization could be used to bring about that improvement. It would tend to lead toward the formation of an improvement league or association. They say, too, that more people are interested now than ever before and that the time is ripe to work together for the future systematic development of the lower end of Cumberland county. "West Harrisburg"

L. M. Bricker, a well-known baker and prominent businessman of Lemoyne, favors a united effort along the West Shore to bring about improvements and the possible annexation of the West Shore territory to Harrisburg. Mr. Bricker declares he is for improvement all the time and sees many possibilities in the formation of a league or association in each town. "We had an association in Lemoyne," he said, "we could endeavor to bring industries here and give employment to the persons residing in the town, besides attracting other people here."

I would like to see an organization here which at some time would have enough money in its treasury to erect a factory building and then endeavor to bring a company here to occupy it. In the course of a short time the company could buy the building and then that money could be used to erect another structure. In that way we could get some industries here which would be of big benefit to Lemoyne." Mr. Bricker believes also that if an organization is effected many public improvements will result. He also talked of the possibility of the West Shore being annexed to Harrisburg and suggested that a proper name for the territory would be West Harrisburg instead of West Shore. Mr. Bricker is opposed to the toll bridges and says that if they could be abolished by some concerted action the West Shore would develop more rapidly. "If we could be annexed to Harrisburg, the toll bridges would be a thing of the past, because we wouldn't have to pay to get from one part of the town to another."

Wants Park and Playgrounds

Herbert R. Boose, a Wormleysburg councilman and a man engaged in business in that borough, is hopeful that an improvement organization for the West Shore will be developed. Mr. Boose has been one of the town's hustlers for some time past and his work has helped greatly in the securing of the new town hall and firehouse, now being constructed. One of the things which Mr. Boose favors is the improvement of the river bank. "I'm sure," he says, "the bank can be graded some time in the near future if every person takes an interest in it and works to beautify it. The entire stretch along the river could be planted with shrubbery and trees at very little expense and the borough's front would be greatly improved. I would like to see the plot of ground along the river at the upper end of the borough, now known as Edgewater Park, developed into a real park where persons could gather on hot summer evenings. This plot could be made very attractive with flowers and shrubs and benches could be put there. Play grounds for the children are also needed in Wormleysburg and if we could get permission to use one of the tracts of ground at the upper end of town I believe playgrounds could be established. At present children have no places to play except in the street, but if playgrounds could be opened they would all be at one place and would have something to occupy their minds. Swings, sand boxes, gymnastic apparatus and other things could be placed on the grounds at very little expense and the youngsters would be made happy. I am in favor of the new organization for the West Shore and I would like to see a separate association in Wormleysburg."
