

An Old, Family Cough Remedy, Home-Made

Easily Prepared—Costs Very Little, but is Prompt, Sure and Effective

By making this pint of old-time cough syrup at home you not only save about 52¢ as compared with the ready-made kind, but you will also have a much more prompt and positive remedy in every way. It overcomes the usual coughs, throat and chest colds in 24 hours—relieves even whooping cough quickly—and is excellent, too, for bronchitis, bronchial asthma, hoarseness and spasmodic croup.

Get from any drug store 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Full directions with Pinex. Keeps perfectly and tastes good.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. It quickly loosens the dry, hoarse or painful cough and breaks the inflamed membranes. It also has a remarkable effect in overcoming the persistent loose cough by stopping the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes.

The effect of Pinex on the membranes is known by almost every one. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract combined with guaiacal and other natural healing elements.

There are many worthless imitations of this famous mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and do not accept anything else.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

If Troubled With Bad Cough Try Parmit Syrup and Mustard Foot Bath

Says These Old Fashioned Remedies Will Stop Worst Cough

We are told the old time remedies are best and invariably contain less harmful yet better medicine than those that are commonly used to-day. This being so, undoubtedly this old-fashioned recipe will be welcomed by many as there seems to be a regular epidemic of coughs at the present time.

Secure from your druggist one ounce of Parmit (Double Strength) take this home and add to it a quart of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar, stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful 4 times a day. In addition take for three nights in succession a hot foot bath to which has been added two tablespoonfuls of mustard.

Parmit is soothing to the throat, has a slight tonic action and should stop even the worst cough when used in conjunction with medicine. Mustard, it is also pleasant to take, costs little and makes an ideal remedy for the home. This should be made up and kept in every household during the winter months. There is nothing better.

STATE FARMERS MAKING MONEY

Got Better Crops Than the National Average For the Four Big Cereals

According to the figures compiled by the statisticians of the State Department of Agriculture, the Keystone State, which is not noted as an agricultural commonwealth, raised more than the national average per acre of wheat, corn, oats and buckwheat this year. Pennsylvania's crops, this department shows, have shown larger increases than for years, but the cereals have taken such a jump that it has attracted attention.

It is reckoned at the Capitol that Pennsylvania produced 2.3 per cent. of all the wheat, corn, rye, oats and barley in the United States and they were worth 2.9 per cent. of the value of the national crops, which were put at $2,423,000, but the State's crops were worth 12.5 per cent. more per bushel than the average price of Uncle Sam's best paying crops. The Pennsylvania farmer has gotten more for his cereals, except buckwheat, than the average. For wheat the average was 14.1 per cent. more per bushel than the national average; corn, 32 per cent.; oats, 27.4 per cent., and rye, 1.8 per cent. more than the average for the nation. The state price of buckwheat ran only a little behind the national price. This is probably due to the fact that this state stands first as a raiser of buckwheat, 35.1 per cent. of the United States produce of the grain that makes such excellent cakes coming from Keystone State farms.

Pennsylvania's wheat production, worth over $26,000,000, was 2.4 per cent. of the national output; the corn, 1.8 per cent.; rye, 9.5 per cent., and oats, 2.8 per cent. The value of the buckwheat crop was $4,321,200, or 54.8 per cent. of the total value of the crop in the land. The corn was worth $41,000,000 or 2.37 per cent. of the value of the whole country's yield.

Furthermore, the state yield per acre was 19 bushels, or 12.4 per cent. higher than the average for the country. Corn ran 27.6 higher per acre than the country's average yield, but while oats and buckwheat ran ahead, rye was only the national average.

IF BACK HURTS TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Says Backache is sure sign you have been eating too much meat.

Uric Acid in meat clogs Kidneys and irritates the bladder.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Advertisement.

Printing Dollar Bills

The engraving of currency is one of the most delicate and interesting mechanical operations in the world. The plate used is the product of months of careful engraving by several different workmen. No one engraver cuts an entire plate, nor is the public permitted to see these men at work.

The actual printing is not done from the plate itself, when that is finished, but from a cast made by a mechanical process. If you examine a government bill carefully you will notice a network of fine lines upon its surface. These lines were cut into the original plate by a special machine, which can be set into a multitude of different combinations, like the lock of a safe. Each new combination produces an arrangement of the lines slightly but unmistakably different from any other arrangement, and thus affords the expert a useful test in determining the genuineness of a bill.

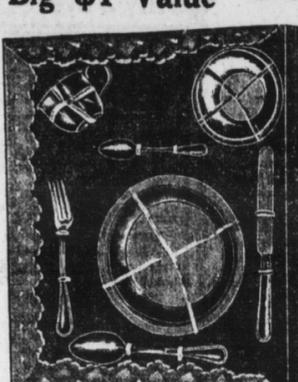

The paper which goes into paper money is another highly specialized product, the result of a careful and intricate process of expert manufacture. It is made of the best flax, tough and long-wearing, with little threads of colored silk rolled into the body of its texture after a certain definite system. The duplication of this paper is as great an obstacle in the way of counterfeiters as is the cutting of false plates itself.

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing turns out a million dollars in paper money every day of the year. To keep track of this product one of the most efficient systems of accounting on earth has been installed. As it goes from one operation to the next, from first to last each bill is counted fifty times. In fifteen years only one bill has gone astray.

The need of a careful process of manufacture such as our government maintains so rigidly is shown by the confusion that disturbs all business in a country like Mexico, where a hastily issued currency is easily and successfully counterfeited.

If you would like to know all the interesting things about the government you should read the two great patriotic books, "The American Government" and "The Panama Canal," both by Frederic J. Haskin.
