STATE LIABILITY IS EXPENSIVE

Commonwealth Must Provide More Offices and Also Insure the Employes

In addition to providing six or eight new offices for officials of the State Workmen's Compensation and State Insurance Fund bureaus the State of Pennsylvania must on Saturday arrange for insuring hundreds of employees against liability damage.

The new offices will be required for the referees in compensation, who are to have offices in the cities designated as their headquarters, although compensation officials are going to considerable pains to let it be known that claimants will not have to travel to headquarters of referees, but that referees will be required to hold hearings at convenient places.

The compensation system becomes effective on Saturday morning and the referees will be ready on Monday to receive appeals.

Cut Down Insurance.—The State has cancelled 20 per cent. of the fire insurance which it carried on the Capitol and other State buildings because of the State fire insurance fund becoming large enough to care for possible losses.

Ten per cent. reduction on all suits and overcoats—a particular saving especially when "Campus Togs" quality is considered.

A. W. HOLMAN 228 Market St.

is calculated that the State can carry its own insurance.

Charters Approved.—The Public Service Commission has approved the charter applications of the Topcon, Alburts and Myers electric companies, which design to operate in Eastern Pennsylvania towns.

More Arrests Likely.—More arrests for the sale of cattle feeds not properly branded are likely within a short time, as reports made to the Department of Agriculture show considerable misbranding.

Notary Public.—Henry N. Puffer, of Geiger's Mills, has been appointed a notary public.

Spoke at State College.—Members of the State farm advisory corps spoke at the State College farmers' week exercises this week, telling what the State is doing in farm educational work and the plans for the future.

Attended Meeting.—Commissioner of Health Dixon attended the meeting of the board of trustees of the University of Pennsylvania, of which he is a member.

Davis at Pittsburgh.—Deputy Attorney General Horace W. Davis is at Pittsburgh looking after the legal end of the State's supervision of affairs of the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings.

Junata County Names Sealer.—Chief Sweeney, of the Bureau of Standards, has received word that Junata county has named a sealer of weights and measures. Practically every county now has such an officer.

Can Furnish Power.—The Public Service Commission has approved a contract for S. H. Musselman to furnish power to Franklin township, Adams county. This is one of the few instances wherein an individual has received approval of such a contract.

Getty Is Receiver.—The Allegheny county courts yesterday named Banking Examiner G. H. Getty as receiver of the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings. This gives the State control and cuts out big fees of a receiver and counsel. It is estimated that it will save $150,000 to the depositors.

Widow of $20,000.—The widow of W. W. Wunder, of Reading, a deputy State fire marshal who died as the result of an automobile accident, has sued the owner of the car for $20,000 damages.

State Armory Board.—The State armory board will meet on December 12 to make plans for the West Chester armory.

Chairman in Philadelphia.—Chairman Alney, of the Public Service Commission is in Philadelphia on inspection work to-day.

Wheelers, schedule clerk in the Department of Public Grounds and Buildings has tendered his resignation, effective January 1 to take a position with a new bank in Detroit, Mich., being established by Henry Ford.

General Good Retires.—Brigadier-General J. Lewis Good, of Philadelphia, for years commander of the First Regiment, was to-day retired at his own request with the rank of major-general in the National Guard. General Good was named several years ago as a brigadier-general and assigned to the staff of the commander-in-chief. His retirement leaves the Guard with three brigadiers-general, General C. M. Clement, of Sunbury, who commanded the Third Brigade, having been promoted to major-general commanding the division and his place not having been filled. General Good never had a field command and it is said to be possible that no one will be named to fill his place on the list.

Want Train Restored.—Patrons of the Bloomsburg and Sullivan railroad to-day petitioned the Public Service Commission to have the morning and evening train between Benton and Jamison City restored.

Representative Here.—Representative Miles A. Milliron, of Kittanning, was at the Capitol to-day on his way home from Scranton.

Big Increase.—The American Manganese Manufacturing Company, of Philadelphia, has filed notice at the Capitol of increase of stock from $5,000 to $8,560,525 and of debt to amount of $1,102,248.56.

Powell Has Grip.—Auditor General A. W. Powell is ill with grip at his home in Glassport.

Trees Damaged.—Over twenty trees in Capitol Park were damaged by the storm of sleet and snow that fell on the city yesterday. Tops of some of the soft wood trees were carried down by the weight of ice.

Oleo Licenses Out.—Over twelve hundred licenses for the sale of oleomargarine have been issued by the State Dairy and Food Division offices for 1916. It is expected that 20 more will be issued by to-morrow night.

Hospitals Paid.—Heavy payments of appropriations to hospitals and various institutions receiving State appropriations in the last few days have caused another suspension in the payment of State school appropriations. It is expected to resume payments of State school money next week. Thanks to State tax payments and bonuses on charters and increases of stock, the State balance will not be as bad as feared a few weeks ago.

Even in Death Chance Favored Old Gambler

By Associated Press

New York, Dec. 30.—Chance favored Richard Canfield, gambler and art connoisseur, even in his death from a fall down the steps of a subway station about a year ago. It was learned to-day that Canfield was on his way at the time of his death to surrender his life insurance policy and to obtain a check for $10,448, representing its surrender value.

The accident which resulted in his death prevented him from signing a release to the insurance company. The executor of his estate sued the insurance company for the value of his policy and obtained a judgment yesterday for $23,833.

To Hold Up Payments For Garbage Collection

The Pennsylvania Reduction plant is facing the situation of having its payments held up until it shall get its garbage collection wagons running on schedule time again. The officials of the company were summoned before Dr. J. M. J. Raunick, city health officer, yesterday afternoon, but their excuse that they could not get the men to do the work for them was not considered to be of enough weight to justify the continuance of the slipshod methods that for the last few weeks is alleged to have characterized the collection of ashes.

The officials of the company promised that if possible they would have their wagons back on schedule by next Monday.

STOLE COAT, CHARGE

Thomas O'Brien, this afternoon appeared before Mayor John K. Royal to answer a charge of larceny. On Tuesday night a coat, the property of Edward Miller, proprietor of the Aldine hotel, was stolen. Yesterday Joseph Ibach, city detective, found O'Brien wearing the coat. It is said O'Brien had been drinking for several days.

HIGHSPIRE

WILL GIVE CANTATA The Highspire Church of God choir will sing the Christmas cantata, "The Excelsis," at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, under the direction of Mrs. Ellen Rush. Singers from Steelton and Middletown including Professor William M. Harclerode, will take part in the program.

TO LECTURE TONIGHT

Ira P. Dean, of Harrisburg, will lecture this evening in the Highspire United Brethren Church, on "The Influence of Bad Companions."

STEELTON TURNING MILLS TO HOME ORDERS

British and French Governments Try to Break Deadlock in Steel Shipments

The Iron Age in its weekly review of the steel industry to-day says:

"The British and French governments and their New York agents are putting forth every effort to get vessels to New York to help break the deadlock in steel and munitions shipments, but the situation is full of uncertainty. Meanwhile the steel companies are turning some mills to home orders on which there has been great pressure for shipments. The inquest was held last night at the parlors of H. Wilt's Sons, undertakers. The jury included Walter Keister, foreman; David Devlin, George Sanders, William Enney, Frank Hintermyer and William Keim. Bakic was found dead last Thursday morning in front of the house at 723 South Third street. A post mortem examination showed that death was caused by several compound fractures of the skull.

Colored Residents to Give Program Tonight

German residents of the borough at the community Christmas tree celebration last night, surprised the hundreds of people around the tree, by giving presents, of boots, shoes, candy, gifts and various articles of clothing to a number of poor children. About 200 German residents marched up Front street, to Pine and then to Fourth street, to the High School lack of coke. In other cases foundries have been forced to buy prompt pig iron at high prices from furnaces on railroads which are still accepting pig iron.

Coroner's Jury Does Not Name Murderer of Bakic After Inquest

The coroner's jury after an inquest last night into the murder of Yoso Bakic last Wednesday night, made no attempt to name the assailant of the foreigner. The verdict said that Bakic "came to his death during the night of December 22, by being struck by a blunt instrument in the hands of some unknown person."

Three men are being held to answer charges of aiding in the murder of Bakic. All of them have been arrested by Constable Haines and will be given a hearing in a few days before Alderman C. E. Murray, of Harrisburg.

The men are Mikolo Kotur, Joven Dragovic and Milo Idenovic.

The inquest was held last night at the parlors of H. Wilt's Sons, undertakers. The jury included Walter Keister, foreman; David Devlin, George Sanders, William Enney, Frank Hintermyer and William Keim. Bakic was found dead last Thursday morning in front of the house at 723 South Third street. A post mortem examination showed that death was caused by several compound fractures of the skull.
