

SENATE AGAIN IN THIS WAR

Wilson Decides He Won't Interfere; Bitter Assault on Policy

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15.—In one of the bitterest debates yet in Congress on the Mexican situation President Wilson's policy was severely assailed.

Senator Works of California offered a resolution for armed intervention. Senator Fall of New Mexico took up the cudgels and played the President's cards since they were on the floor.

Senator Lodge was a sarcastic interrupter in the debates, on the side of the war advocates. Senator Stone pleaded to let the President decide what to do in Mexico.

Democrats forced an adjournment of the Senate till Monday to check the debate over the Mexican situation. Army experts figure that it would take an army of 200,000 men at an enormous cost to pacify Mexico.

A massacre of Americans in the Tampico district of Mexico is declared probably by one of the largest oil producers of that region, who is on a business visit in this city.

Gen. Huerta was interred in a vault at El Paso without funeral services other than a simple prayer. The body will be taken to Mexico later.

Floods Through Broken Dikes Cause Much Distress in Northern Holland

London, Jan. 15, 10.50 a. m.—The damage caused by the flood in Northern Holland is said by Reuters' Amsterdam correspondent to be greater than was believed at first. The great dikes along the Zuider Zee collapsed at several places. Peasants, with their cattle, fled before the rising waters.

Near Muiden the dike broke at several points before the people realized the danger. The waters of the Zuider Zee rushed through the gaps with such force as to wash away large sections of the road which runs along the dike.

From all north Holland come reports of distress caused by the flood. Considerable damage was done at Volendam and Edam, in Texel and Marken islands and the province of Groningen.

Sweden Passing Through Coldest Winter in Century

London, Jan. 15.—The Post's Stockholm correspondent reports Arctic conditions throughout Sweden with a record temperature of 23 below zero registered inland. The Swedish farmers were frozen in at Gefte during the last few days and ice breakers are powerless to release them.

The Aland islands have been isolated since the middle of December and there is much suffering from the lack of food throughout the Gulf of Bothnia region, which is thickly covered with snow for the first time since 1858. Such a severe winter has been unknown for a century.

Mrs. Pankhurst said her present trip, unlike the visit she made in this country in the Fall of 1913, is in no way connected with "votes for women," but that she is here in connection with the Serbian relief work in which she has been interested for some time.

FOREIGNERS' JAIL SENTENCES ARE REVOKED; FINES RAISED

Two foreigners who had been sentenced to pay fines of $5 each and serve two months in jail yesterday on larceny charges, were brought back to court again this morning by Judge McCarrell who revoked the jail sentence. The fines were increased to $10 apiece.

The jury acquired Harry Reese of five charges of false pretense. Reese had forged several checks but it was shown that he gave the checks after fixing a certain date upon which they would be payable.

Von Papen's Papers Show He Paid Dynamiters With German Embassy Funds

Special to the Telegraph. London, Jan. 15.—Copies of correspondence seized from Captain Franz von Papen, recalled German military attaché at Washington, when he reached Falmouth on his way to Germany have been turned over to the American embassy for transmission to the State Department. They show that Captain von Papen made frequent payments to persons charged with the responsibility for blowing up munitions works and bridges in the United States.

One entry shows that Werner Horn, arrested in connection with the blowing up of a Canadian Pacific bridge at St. Croix, Maine, was given $700. The day before the German embassy paid $2,000 into the discredited attaché's hands.

Other payments to various persons who have figured prominently in the activities of German agents in America and to at least one spy are revealed. One payment to Von Papen by Ambassador von Papen was for intelligence office work for $2,300.

Two weeks before an explosion at Seattle $500 was sent to the German consulate in that city. Von Papen's financial operations were on a large scale, for in January, 1915, alone, he received $8,400 and paid out $5,000.

His operations in the former attaché's possession contained bitter censures of Americans and the American policy.

RUSSIANS RENEW GREAT OFFENSIVE

In view of the British declaration to bring the accused officers of the Baralong to trial, Germany, the official note announces, will take matters into her own hands and adopt measures of reprisal corresponding with the provocation.

Kaiser Makes Appearance. Semi-official dispatches from Berlin declare that Emperor William, 82, whose condition many alarmist reports, all lacking confirmation, have been spread recently, made several public appearances in Berlin yesterday, on one occasion driving to the house of the imperial chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, being cheered by the crowds as he passed through the streets.

Berlin May Avenge U-Boat Crew by Killing Prisoners

Berlin, Jan. 15.—The German Government has transmitted to Great Britain through the American Embassy, a note which declared that as a result of Great Britain not fulfilling Germany's demands for the return of the circumstances surrounding the sinking of a German submarine by the British patrolboat Baralong, Germany will adopt suitable measures of reprisal.

Recent dispatches made it clear that British officials themselves expected Germany to make reprisals in the Baralong case. While the intimation conveyed through the American Embassy that Germany will make the form these reprisals will take, it was feared in London that a number of British prisoners of equal rank will be taken and the men of the German submarine will be shot.

Kaiser Wants Birthday Celebrated With Prayers

Berlin, Jan. 15 (by wireless to Sayville).—Emperor William has issued a public pronouncement requesting the German nation to celebrate his coming birthday, January 27, on which day he is 82 years of age, with quiet thoughts and prayers. Whoever wishes to give special expression to his feelings is urged by the emperor to do so in the form of gifts, in that that would be inflicted by the war may be healed and in order that soldiers' families may be better cared for. The emperor further says:

"It is still necessary that the heart thoughts and strength of the German nation, both in the field and at home, be directed to the one great aim of gaining a decisive victory and winning a peace which as far as the human mind can conjecture shall permanently safeguard the country against a repetition of hostile attacks."

Reprisal Is Threatened by Germany as Result of Baralong Incident

Berlin, Jan. 15, by wireless.—In its reply to the British government in the Baralong case, the text of which was made public here yesterday, Germany takes the ground that Great Britain no longer desires to observe the requirements of international law in regard to German submarines, and breaks off negotiations on this subject.

In addition to announcing its decision to take measures of reprisal, as made known yesterday, the German government's reply to Great Britain's proposal for examination by a neutral board of the Baralong incident and also of three cases in which it is charged that British vessels have violated international law in submarine operations. The note was delivered to Great Britain through the American embassy.

Italians Are Accused of Many Atrocities

Berlin, Jan. 15, by wireless to Sayville.—The Overseas News Agency to-day gave out the following: "Italian atrocities in the Austrian territory occupied by the forces of Italy, and in the Hungarian territory, Hungarian press headquarters. Seven inhabitants of one village were shot without trial on suspicion of having murdered an Italian sentry. Afterward the innocence of all seven persons was established. The inconsistency of the accusation is plain, inasmuch as the Italians had confiscated all arms, including knives, when the territory was occupied."

"Further, it is known that an Austro-Hungarian patrol of ten soldiers on duty between Monfalcone and Sagarado was assassinated. The members of the patrol party were taken prisoners by a superior Italian force after a short fight. They were disarmed and killed."

SMALL FINES FOR SEVEN VIOLATORS

The other man who was called to appear, the same plea, but who was too ill to appear, Charles E. Miller. Guyer Only Witness. The only witness placed on the stand by District Attorney M. E. Stroup was John E. Guyer, agent for the Law and Order League.

Senator E. E. Beideman and John R. Gevey and Senator John E. Fox represented the offenders; District Attorney Stroup, E. B. Cunningham, ex-Deputy Attorney General J. E. B. Cunningham and H. B. Saussaman, special counsel for the league.

With the exception of Potter, Moore and Bell, the charges alleged the making of false affidavits relative to inability to mark ballots. Potter and Moore appeared and gave assistance to electors who were physically unable to mark their ticket, but the helpers had neglected to make proper affidavits. Bell, it appeared, had voted for the first time in September and was unfamiliar with the requirements of the law. Newman asked for his assistance because he did not have his glasses at the booth. His vision was very dark, his counsel explained. It was close to the time of closing the polls and if he had gone home for his spectacles, he would have lost his chance to vote. Accordingly he asked for assistance in marking his ticket. C. R. Swartz didn't know he needed an affidavit to secure assistance. Ross Swartz was called to the stand and had sworn to a defective affidavit.

Just to Serve Notice. In calling attention to the Law and Order League's action, District Attorney General J. E. Cunningham pointed out that the changes in the election laws and the probable ignorance of many electors of the provisions of the new law, under the circumstances, he said, would the league insist upon a prison sentence but he thought a fine should be imposed as would serve notice upon the defendants and upon the public in general. Election laws were made to be obeyed and that they must be obeyed. Attorney Saussaman endorsed Mr. Cunningham's statement. District Attorney Stroup made practically the same plea for the county. He added that similar instances of violations may have happened in every precinct but that so far he had not been able to learn there had been no intention of corrupting the ballot or the voter; the violations were largely due to ignorance or carelessness, he said.

In imposing sentence President Judge Kunkel called attention to the fact that a fine of $25 was equivalent to three months in prison. "Ignorance or gross negligence or reckless disregard of the law's requirements" was how Judge Kunkel characterized the violations. He referred to the fact, however, that it is difficult to corrupt the voter or sully the purity of the ballot had been charged. He cited the specific instance of violations. The election law of 1913 was made to be enforced, he said, and it is the duty of the election officers as well as of the other officers of the county to see that the law is enforced. He touched upon the fact that the law is comparatively new and that this might account for the failure of the defendants to thoroughly understand all its provisions. Not that ignorance of the primary law is excuse for a violation that is a defense, he argued; but the fact that it is a new law and that the requirements relative to affidavits were probably not understood by many might alleviate the offense to some extent, he said. He emphasized the fact that these were the first offenses.

"One who would keep himself advised will not have a very thorough understanding of the requirements of the law," the conclusion President Judge Kunkel. "This ignorance is not confined to the illiterate alone; sometimes men of education and intelligence cannot make their ballots as well as those who can't read."

EXPLOSION BLOWS U. S. SUBMARINE APART

[Continued From First Page.] the yard and it was with much difficulty that the report of the explosion by many on the border of the yard officials and all details concerning the accident were refused.

It was reported that the engineers in the navy yard were testing one of the submarines for the safety of the craft at the time of the explosion. These batteries were intended to obviate the danger to the crews of submarines from gas fumes. Recently a number of the E class were reported to have made successful trips with the batteries in use.

Later reports that came from the navy yard indicate that 12 men had been injured and twenty with lighter injuries. They were removed to the naval hospital in the yard. Lieut. Col. Nevarres, a Villa officer, at least nine others were injured in the explosion, according to a navy yard employee who was near the scene of the accident.

The submarine was afire inside, he said, and in order to put out the flames the little craft was flooded. At the time of the explosion the E-2 was on the stocks in drydock No. 2.

SECOND MISHAP TO E2

The submarine E-2 was built in 1910 and displaced 423 tons. It is capable of traveling 14 knots on the surface and 11 knots when submerged. The E-2 in September, 1914, had a narrow escape from a similar mishap to that which befell the F outside the Honoluli harbor. While the submarine was engaged in maneuvers off Brenton Reef lightship Ensign Gilliam was on duty. The E-2 was on the surface and was submerged fifty feet. He ran to the surface by using the pumps instead of blowing up the tanks. When the E-2 was on the surface the conning tower was quickly opened to give the crew fresh air.

Two of the injured were shortly after they reached the naval hospital.

VILLA NEARING THE END

By Associated Press. Chihuahua City, Chihuahua, Mexico, Jan. 14.—General Francisco Villa has only forty men with him in the Guerrero district, according to General Jacinto Trevino, commander of the northeastern corps of the Carranza army. This information was given out by him here to-day.

Lieut. Col. Nevarres, a Villa officer, who was captured at Santa Ysabel to-day and charged with being concerned in the massacre at that point says he was being brought to the capital to-night according to General Trevino.

There was no truth in El Paso reports of further killing of foreigners in western Chihuahua, according to General Trevino. The Carranza commander declared that the Americans slain Monday at Santa Ysabel had refused to surrender, according to Durango.

"I shall leave next week to pursue them," he added. "More than 14,500 Villa soldiers and forty-two generals and their subordinate officers have surrendered and received amnesty at Chihuahua City within the last twenty days and given up their arms, horses and saddles."

"I regret that a number of Americans have decided to go out and I hope they will soon return. I shall provide escort for such movements. It was impossible to foresee the sudden appearance of those bands, but Mr. Watson, heading the mining men on the train, probably thought he would be better off without the military escort which he refused."

"I have done everything possible to help friends set the bodies to the border. From a military point of view, I consider the campaign in Chihuahua State finished and there are only various small bands, aggregating about thirty in all, left. The Villa forces will soon be exterminated."

MAKING EFFORTS TO BRING HOME AMERICANS

[Continued From First Page.] Torreon and Parral, and 500 in the Mormon colony at Casas Grandes. Apprehensions for the safety of these will be lessened somewhat by reports that the Carranza military chiefs are taking measures to protect foreigners in the territory under control of the recognized government of Mexico. Information comes from Chihuahua City to the effect that General Villa, who is held responsible by many for the massacre at that point, has been brought to the capital to-night according to General Trevino.

There was no truth in El Paso reports of further killing of foreigners in western Chihuahua, according to General Trevino. The Carranza commander declared that the Americans slain Monday at Santa Ysabel had refused to surrender, according to Durango.

Gen. Huerta Is Buried Without Any Services

Special to the Telegraph. El Paso, Texas, Jan. 15.—Requiem cat in Peace" reads a plain silver plate on the black metallic casket containing the body of the late Gen. Victoriano Huerta. The American forces at Vera Cruz were forced to withdraw at the demand of Gen. Carranza, and at the point of a gun. He predicted that when the President sent to the Senate the correspondence and data called for in his resolution they would show "carrying with them their death warrants," because of the orders that were issued to them by the navy authorities.

Sensational Debate Over Intervention Resolution

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15.—Another demand was voiced in the Senate yesterday for intervention in Mexico. Senator Works of California, who usually is an advocate of peace, presented a resolution directing the President to intervene and set up a stable Government.

The debate which followed was sensational. Senator Stone, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, impatient with Senators who talked for intervention, suggested there were "a few people whose blood becomes heated and whose brains have become diseased by the fever of war."

Senator Fall, of New Mexico, Republican, intimated broadly that Gen. Huerta was shot Thursday, was in hell, whereas several Senators appeared shocked.

Senator Fall made the charges that the American forces at Vera Cruz were forced to withdraw at the demand of Gen. Carranza, and at the point of a gun. He predicted that when the President sent to the Senate the correspondence and data called for in his resolution they would show "carrying with them their death warrants," because of the orders that were issued to them by the navy authorities.

U. S. Needs an Army of 200,000 to Pacify Mexico

Special to the Telegraph. Washington, D. C., Jan. 15.—In view of the many disastrous changes Mexico has undergone since the overthrow of the Diaz regime, military experts of the United States, who are studying the problem insist that the task of pacifying the country could not be accomplished satisfactorily with less than 200,000 men, at a cost of many millions.

Although warfare has impoverished the southern states in contrast with the people certain military advantages which can be obtained only through experience. The men who have been engaged in revolutionary activity are veterans in their peculiar kind of warfare. They know the country in which the fighting would be done. They have adapted themselves to the rigors of the field. Their losses in resources are probably more than offset by what they have gained in military experience.

For this reason American army officers who have been in contact with them on the border are of the opinion that the Mexican soldier of to-day is much more formidable as a fighting unit than he was five years ago, or before the revolution began.
