

LOCAL CASES ARE HELD OVER AGAIN

March and Pennington Refused Recommendation For a Further Hearing

The State Board of Pardons last night announced that it had held over for the present the application for pardon of John Eckert, sentenced to two and a half to ten years in prison in the eastern penitentiary at Philadelphia on charges of robbery committed in this city.

The board refused a rehearing to George H. March and Roland S. Pennington, Delaware county, and they will be electrocuted in the new penitentiary in Center county on Monday for the murder of S. Lewis Pinkerton two and a half years ago.

Argument on the applications for rehearing lasted two and a half hours concluding at 6 o'clock last night. It was the most attended argument ever heard on such applications and was marked by continued questioning of the attorneys by members of the board and discussion of their points.

For March it was contended that he had gone insane since conviction and Pennington that he was a youth with undeveloped mentality, that he was influenced by March and that he was without a motive for the crime.

The board struck from its list the application of George Lee, Philadelphia, commuted in 1911 and asking pardon, and continued the case of James Reilly, Philadelphia, for one month.

Refused - Martin Notch, manslaughter, Schuylkill; Vincent Loxterman, robbery, Allegheny; George Hinks, second degree murder, Schuylkill; James Hogan, assault and battery, Philadelphia; attempted burglary, Lehigh; Charles Bell, statutory rape, Chester; Elmer C. Foote, felonious assault, Bradford; Anthony Discus, larceny, Luzerne; William M. Lloyd and Mark L. Stutz, embezzlement, Northumberland; Frank Hall, robbery, Luzerne.

Recommended - Nathan L. O. U. breaking and entering, Philadelphia; John Williams, John Wolfe, robbery, Luzerne; Bernard O'Donnell and Dennis Herriety, attempted burglary, Lehigh; Charles Bell, statutory rape, Chester; Elmer C. Foote, felonious assault, Bradford; Anthony Discus, larceny, Luzerne; William M. Lloyd and Mark L. Stutz, embezzlement, Northumberland; Frank Hall, robbery, Luzerne.

Rehearings granted - Ellis Lightcap, assault and battery, Chester.

SUNFISH AFFORD EXCELLENT SPORT

Commissioner Buller Says the Family Is the Fishermen's Delight

Pennsylvania fishermen can obtain no end of enjoyment during the period when results of "planting" of trout and development of black bass are being awaited by fishing for sunfish, according to Commissioner of Fisheries N. R. Buller.

The commissioner, who has been traveling about the State making observations of conditions of fish and opportunities for this year, to-day issued this statement:

"There are few fishes which afford so much entertainment and sport as do the family of sunfishes, this being specially true as to women and children, to whom the taking of sunfish is an ever-continuous joy and delight.

There are quite a number of species of these fish, varying in size, but all of them are gamey and ever ready to take the hook, thus giving the amateur a chance which he gets from few or no other fish.

The aristocrat of the sunfish family is the blue gill sunfish, which abounds in Lake Erie. This fish grows from three-quarters of a pound to a pound in weight and as an edible fish has no superior, while it is so gamey within certain limits that the daintiest of fly fishers does not disdain to fish for it for sport.

It is very productive and will thrive in any pure water. Appreciating the value of this fish for food and sport, the department is making great efforts to raise the blue gill in quantities so that they may be disseminated in all the waters of the State.

There are many small bodies of water in the State which would render large returns in the way of food if restocked with the blue gills instead of the black bass, which the average person seems to think would be the fish that he wants in the water. The yield of blue gills would be thousands of pounds in a year where it would not be hundreds of pounds if black bass were planted. In the case of the blue gills it not only means food, but more sport for more people."

Steam Laundries in This City Worth Quarter Million

The capitalization of steam laundries in this city is more than a quarter of a million dollars, according to figures compiled by the Bureau of Census of the Department of Commerce for the year 1914.

This is an increase of almost $100,000 over the total capitalization for 1909 when one more establishment was being operated. The amount received for work done in the laundries in this city totaled $281,558, an increase of almost $100,000 in five years.

Eight establishments were in existence at the time these figures were obtained, and were under the control of 11 proprietors. Thirty-six salaried employees and 316 wage-earners were employed in the work receiving in payment for services $148,232.

Philadelphia leads the State in the number employed in this industry with Pittsburgh second and Harrisburg third. Harrisburg also stands fourth in the amount received for work done, ranking close to Scranton. The report for the State shows a substantial gain in the industry in the five-year period from 1909 to 1914.

MEN

TWO important moves affecting your tailoring welfare have just been made by the firm of Hetrick & Geistwhite.

First: Lawrence A. Hetrick has returned to his executive post with a wealth of new ideas in superior custom tailoring.

Second: Their shop at 22 South Fourth Street, destroyed by fire, is replaced by new quarters at 19 South Fourth Street.

Ten years ago Mr. Hetrick and George W. Geistwhite started the first young men's custom tailor shop in Harrisburg.

To-day the spirit of youth still clings to garments fashioned by Hetrick & Geistwhite. Neither tailor has grown old.

Men clad by Hetrick & Geistwhite, who are old in years, still have youth conveyed in their clothes.

Eight years Mr. Hetrick tailored. Then for two years he mingled among men who dress well and want to dress better.

Now, Mr. Hetrick knows what customers want when they are unable to express themselves. He has been one of them.

And the youth rejuvenated by Mr. Hetrick's vacation is reflected in his garments. He makes better clothes.

The new lease on tailoring youthfulness with which Hetrick & Geistwhite start their second business decade is well housed.

The new home of the partners at 19 South Fourth Street lacks no detail of tailoring facility nor convenience.

Mr. Hetrick and Mr. Geistwhite, again the tailoring team of Hetrick & Geistwhite, each welcome you to their new headquarters.
