

Why "Anurie" is an Insurance Against Sudden Death.

Before an Insurance Company will take a risk on your life the examining physician will test the urine and report whether you are a good risk. When our kidneys get sluggish and clog, our suffer from backache, sick-headache, dizzy spells, or the twinges and aches of lumbago, rheumatism and gout. The urine is often cloudy, full of sediment; channels often get sore and sleep is disturbed two or three times a night. This is the time you should consult some physician of wide experience—such as Dr. Pierce of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. Send him 10 cents for a simple package of his new discovery, "Anurie." Write him your symptoms and send a sample of urine for test. Experience has taught Dr. Pierce that "Anurie" is the most powerful agent in dissolving uric acid, as hot water salts sugar; besides being absolutely harmless it is endowed with other properties, for it preserves the kidneys in a healthy condition by thoroughly cleansing them. Being so many times more active than lithia, it clears the heart valves of any sandy substances which may clog them and checks the regeneration of the blood-vessels, as well as regulating blood pressure. "Anurie" is a regular insurance and life-saver for all big men eaters and those who deposit lime-salts in their joints. Ask the druggist for "Anurie" put up by Dr. Pierce, in 50-cent packages.

STRENGTH AND BEAUTY come with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This is a blood cleanser and liver and stomach tonic which restores the body to manufacture rich red blood which feeds the heart, nerves, brain and organs of the body. The organs work smoothly like machinery running in oil. You feel clean, vigorous and in good luck.

ONVICT-MADE GOODS AFTER CHILD LABOR LAW

Washington, Jan. 27.—The bill to regulate the sale of convict-made goods will be the next measure taken in the House after the child labor bill is disposed of. The House Labor Committee in February reporting the bill, says that it is designed to "remove the impediment to the effective operation of the local laws in the States on the sale within their borders of convict-made goods, imposed by the construction of the in-state commerce clause, in the inaction of Congress on the subject." An identical measure passed the House in the Sixty-third Congress, but failed in the Senate.

WILSON OPENS FIGHT IN N. Y.

Astoria Hotel which he made his headquarters. Efforts by Mrs. Mary Beard, wife of a Columbia University professor to cross-examine the President on his position met with failure. He refused courteously to reply to her questions. The President apologized to the women for not seeing them earlier but told them he had been at work since arriving in New York. He added that "it may be that my mind works slowly, but I have always thought that there were things which should be built slowly and therefore made more lasting. I may be a little old in fashion in my view that the suffrage question should be handled by the State."

Addresses Clergymen The President delivered the first of his three addresses at noon before the Clerical Conference of the New York Federation of Churches, representing all denominations. Amid hearty applause he was introduced by the Rev. Dr. E. Edward Young, of Brooklyn, who remarked that "no other President had ever such universal prayers in his behalf."

"Only Lincoln bore such heavy responsibility," said the clergyman, "and the America of Lincoln's time held but one-third as many people to pray and nearly half were arrayed against him." The Rev. William B. Martin, in delivering an invocation said that the representative of Cardinal Farley, he could say that the Catholic church was supporting every possible movement for peace. He praised the President for keeping the United States out of war as did the Rev. Nehemiah Boynton.

The President said he appreciated the words of the speaker "from the heart." He declared that in his efforts for peace he had represented the "spirit" of the United States of America. He said he knew that in their hearts the people of the United States wanted to "keep the balance even."

Justice Peace Basis "I can find no basis for peace but justice," said the President, "and the force in this world is character, and I believe that character can be expressed by the act of a nation. This is expressed by the attitude of the people." "America has always stood for the doctrine that every nation has the right to decide its own future. That is America's only desire."

"We will only rest having our liberty interfered with. People in America do not respond to any sentiment of aggression. Our passion is for liberty." "A further foundation of peace is our internal attitude toward each other. We have been hospitable to all creeds and people. The peace of America depends upon the attitude of the different races and creeds which make up the nation. I have been much perturbed over evidences of religious feelings in this country. Live and let live is the motto of the world, but it expresses what our attitude should be."

"These are very responsible days and in this tense atmosphere only truth should be uttered. We should not look at a question from a partisan viewpoint."

Given Vote of Thanks The President declared that the neutrality of the United States had not been a merely formal matter but that it has been a matter of conviction and of the heart. He said that in his efforts for peace he had been conscious of representing the spirit of America and no private convictions merely of his own.

"America," he added, "has always stood resolutely and absolutely for the right of every people to determine its own destiny and its own affairs." The President illustrated the attitude of the United States toward the weaker nations by his Mexican policy. He was given a formal vote of thanks by the clergymen for his efforts in behalf of peace. Crowds filled the streets so densely when the President left the hall that his automobile was forced to stop while he leaned out and shook hands with the people.

Cured His RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. I refused. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no diet, no pills, no medicine, nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure with my operation. If you write to me, Eugene M. Hullen, Canton, N. J., I will send you a complete and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.—Advertisement.

QUIT MEAT WHEN BACK HURTS OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Says Uric Acid in meat clogs Kidneys and irritates Bladder.

A glass of Salts is harmless way to flush Kidneys, says authority.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or kidneys, headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for four days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink.—Advertisement.

The great trade union congress at Bristol, England, to-day passed by an overwhelming vote a resolution declaring against the adoption of conscription in any form, "against the spirit of British democracy" and as endangering the people's liberties. According to a statement made by M. Longuet, a French Socialist deputy, at the British trade union conference in Bristol to-day, the French losses 1,400,000 wounded, and 300,000 captives in the war have been 800,000 killed, (Lure).

Absolute Blockade of Germany by Great Britain May Not Be Declared

London, Jan. 27.—The opening phrase of the speeches of Sir Edward Grey, Foreign Secretary, in the House of Commons, and of the Marquis of Lansdowne, Minister without portfolio, in the House of Lords, yesterday gave the impressions that the British government is not likely to resort to an absolute blockade of Germany.

Germans Announce They Killed 39 in Air Raid

Berlin, Jan. 27.—The Hamburger Fremdenblatt reports that one of the bombs dropped by the German air squadron when it raided Dover on Monday fell on a deposit of mines which exploded and caused enormous devastation in the neighborhood. Thirty-nine persons, including one officer and 24 soldiers, the newspaper says, were killed.

According to the Fremdenblatt account, the explosion did not take place until 15 minutes after the bomb had landed, so that the soldiers at first believed the missile was harmless. Railroad cars filled with provisions and several cottages are reported to have been destroyed.

One transport anchored in the harbor was damaged by the explosion and sank immediately. Twenty severely wounded persons were transported to a London hospital.

The British aeroplanes, the newspaper says, were not ready in time for defense.

The two German air squadrons which shelled the French city of Nancy on Monday, as reported by the German Headquarters Staff, says the Overseas News Agency, dropped more than 150 bombs on the town and the fortresses.

60 Killed, 300 Shot in Berlin Peace Riot, Report

Paris, Jan. 27.—Scores were shot down during a peace demonstration in Berlin on January 12, according to the story of a "neutral" printed here yesterday. More than sixty persons were killed and at least 300 wounded, this individual, who claims to have been in the German capital until January 15, declares.

He pictures a reign of terror in which troops mutinied, refusing to fire on the rioters. Machine guns were then turned against the crowds.

DARING ROBBERS GET $15,000 IN RAID

Their sole attention to the money in the teller's cage. After grabbing the money the four backed to the door and escaped in an automobile. Policemen and detectives were quickly summoned and search for the bandits was begun.

Carefully Planned Every detail of the robbery seemed to be carefully planned, according to Mr. Stahl, who was forced to remain at his desk facing a revolver while one of the robbers entered the teller's cage and took the money from a drawer.

"I was sitting at my desk," said Mr. Stahl, "shortly before 9 o'clock when four men entered. Their faces were masked in black and each carried two revolvers. There were about ten persons in line at the cashier's wicket. Ten clerks, the bank's officers and two stenographers were in the room. Three of the men threatened us with their weapons while the fourth entered the cage and took the money."

"As soon as they got the cash they backed to the door and ran to their automobile. The engine had not been stopped and they went down the street at about 40 miles an hour. "They got more than $12,000." All those in the bank were ordered to hold up their hands and not a hand was dropped until the last robber backed out of the door. Then there was a rush for the telephones to notify the police.

An assistant cashier ran to the street and jumped into an automobile. He attempted to follow the robbers but they outdistanced him. None of the robbers appeared to be more than 20 years old. The bank is in one of the busiest sections of Chicago.

THE INEVITABLE COMPARISON

By Dorothy Dix

Did you ever stop to think how you size up when your husband, or your wife, institutes the inevitable comparison between yourself and other people? We delude ourselves with the belief that our husbands and wives think us so perfect that they never contrast us with other men and women, and that they never draw any deadly parallel between the way we treat them and the way in which other people treat them, but this is not true. Every day of our lives, every act of our lives, is weighed in the balance, and we unto us if we are found wanting. Not long ago a very beautiful and brilliant woman, and one who is universally admired and loved by her friends, said to me bitterly: "Never Could Understand" "Do you know what is the strangest thing in the world to me? It is that of all the people that I know my husband seems to take the least interest in me, and to show me the least appreciation. "In society I am flattered, I am admired, I am sought after, and I often wonder that he doesn't think how he must appear to me when I institute the inevitable comparison between him and the men who take me down to dinner, for instance, and who laugh at my stories, and tell me how becoming my gown is. "And I know plenty of other women in the same box. The only knocks they ever get are from their husbands. The only people who ever tell them that they are getting old and fat, or that their voices are cracked, or that they don't know what they are talking about, are their husbands. So often, so cruelly often, the only unkind words we ever hear are from our husbands. "And it's when we institute the inevitable comparison between them and the world that never tells us to our faces, at any event, that it doesn't
