ANNUAL BANQUET IS MUCH ENJOYED

The Ralph Boswell Class of the Stevens Memorial Church Has a Merrymaking

The second annual banquet of the Ralph E. Boswell class of the Stevens Memorial Methodist church held on Thursday evening in the social hall of the church, was one of the most enjoyable events in the history of the class.

A festive appearance was given the banquet hall by decorations of red, white and blue, with ferns, and touches suggestive of Washington's Birthday. The tables were arranged in T shape with the speakers seated at the intersection.

An informal program included an address of welcome by the new president, Miss Alice Schwab, "Our Class" a poem read by the retiring president, Miss Lucille Smucker, "A Successful Class" a talk by J. Harris Bell, president of the Men's Bible class of the Stevens church; readings by Mrs. Charles Montgomery, a talk by Warren Van Dyke, the assistant superintendent of the Sunday school on "The Relation of the Class to the School," and a closing address by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Clayton A. Smucker. Mr. Boswell was toastmaster and after an elaborate dinner the exercises closed with singing "America."

In attendance were the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Clayton A. Smucker, Mr. and Mrs. J. Harris Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Van Dyke, Mrs. Charles Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. PRESENT PROGRAM OF FOLK DANCES

Lincoln School Children Dance and Sing in Costumes of Other Lands

In spite of the inclement weather a good sized and most appreciative audience attended the recital of folk songs and folk dances given by the children of Room 10 of the Lincoln building in the Technical High school hall last evening.

From far back in the earliest history of every race of people on the globe come tales handed down from generation to generation, primitive weavings of the imagination intermingling with fact and superstition. Side by side with these stories of folklore are the songs and dances peculiar to each nationality. Through the melodies can be traced characteristics of the peoples of each land, the emphatic bluntness of the Dutch, the sensuous appeal of the French, the humorous sadness of the Irish, the plaintive sadness of the Welsh.

The earliest records of the art of dancing are found in the Old Testament. The dance was used as a religious rite to express, through the grace of the human body, the adoration the tongue could not master. Last evening's program showed appreciation by the children of these ancient customs in their splendid interpretation of the spirit of the different nations.

The voice selections were under the able leadership of Miss Ella Yost, assistant musical instructor of the city schools. The chorus work was especially smooth and well rounded. There were two excellent solos by Master Cecil Holmes.

The character dances were done in appropriate costumes. The Dutch folk dance by eight of the larger girls and boys was so especially pleasing that an encore was demanded. Following it was a very modern dance of the Holland we know to-day with only the wee little folk taking part.

The French "Isle de l'Amour" in waltz movement, danced by Mildred and Miriam Baturin deserves special mention as does also the Russian folk dance by Miriam Baturin and Rose Sherman.

The expressive gestures in two Italian numbers, the "Vineyard" by a group of twelve and "Santa Lucia" by Mildred Baturin and Cecil Holmes were very graceful and descriptive. But it was in the Irish "hit," the gaily old Irish break-down, that all felt most at home.

The credit for the painstaking drilling which resulted in so fine a juvenile performance belongs to Miss Elizabeth Killinger who showed in a solo, "Moonlight Caprice," her ability as a dancer.

In some of the larger cities, folk songs and dances have been introduced into the public schools as a form of historical study and Harrisburg showed last night the response which such a thing would call forth should it ever be started as a regular branch of the work here. ANNA H. WOOD.

COMPLETE REPORT INDUSTRIAL HOME

Mrs. Mercer B. Tate Tells of Interesting Work Among the Children

Mrs. Mercer B. Tate, the corresponding secretary of the Children's Industrial Home, presented the following report at the annual meeting held yesterday in the Y. M. C. A., the report of the treasurer, Miss Agnes Felix, showing a balance of $91.59 after expenditures of $9,349.34 had been paid.

As we look back over the past year's history of the Children's Industrial Home, we find much cause for gratitude and thanksgiving. Mrs. Rettew, the president of the board of managers, has conducted its affairs in a most efficient and successful manner under the direction of the matron, Mrs. Leyton, and her assistants; the work of the home has gone steadily forward. Mrs. Brubaker continues her excellent work, not only in the Sabbath school, but as supervisor of the home, to which she was elected in the nearly part of the year. Miss Segelbaum, our very capable school teacher, is doing splendid work among the boys and girls.

During the year the hand of Providence has been laid heavily upon us. In the early part of the year, Miss Mary C. Burnite, one of our oldest members and for many years its very efficient corresponding secretary, was called to rest. Her place was filled by Edward Boyer, one of the oldest and most interested of the advisory board, entered into rest. During the latter part of the year Mrs. Martin W. Fager, for many years headmaster of the New York City. Of this organization, Richard T. Wyche, the unmitigated interpreter of the "Uncle Remus Stories," is president; James H. Van Sickle, superintendent of schools of Springfield, Mass., is vice-president and Richard Morse Hodge, of Columbia University, is secretary.

Among those on the advisory board are P. P. Claxton, G. Stanley Hall, Lincoln Hulley, Edward P. St. John, Henry Van Dyke, Carolyn Sherwin Bailey and Miss Mabel C. Bragg.

The program for the open meeting in March will be "Inspirational Stories," under the very capable direction of Miss Carrie Reinhold.

A Proposed New York Law

Says in part: "No food or drink, save coffee, tea and cocoa, containing any habit forming drug except alcohol, shall be sold within the State." —From New York Journal of Commerce, Jan. 17, 1916.

This bill, recently introduced in the New York Legislature, amply attests the well-known fact that coffee, tea and cocoa contain the habit-forming drug, caffeine.

But why discriminate in favor of caffeine when it has been proven beyond a question of doubt that this subtle, habit-forming drug, sooner or later spells ill health, and frequently disaster for many coffee drinkers

Caffeine is a powerful irritant. It disturbs the regular functioning of the vital organs, often causing headaches, biliousness, heart flutter, nervousness, insomnia, or some other symptom of caffeine poisoning.

The easy, sure way out of coffee troubles is to quit the coffee and use
