

HUSBAND SAVED HIS WIFE

Stopped Most Terrible Suffering by Getting Her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Denison, Texas. — "After my little girl was born two years ago I began suffering with female trouble and could hardly do my work. I was very nervous but just kept dragging on until last summer when I got where I could not do my work. I would have a chill every day and hot flashes and dizzy spells and my head would almost burst. I got where I was almost a walking skeleton and life was a burden to me until one day my husband's step-sister told my husband if he did not do something for me I would not last long and told him to get your medicine. So he got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and after taking the first three doses I began to improve. I continued to take it and have never had any female trouble since. I feel that I owe my life to you and your remedies. They did for me what doctors could not do and I will always praise it wherever I go."—Mrs. G. O. LOWERY, 419 W. Monterey Street, Denison, Texas.

If you are suffering from any form of female ill, get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and commence the treatment without delay.

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion.

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion is nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflame the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, waterbrash, or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescing, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is necessary to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

A Good Cough Remedy

Prevent Grippe-Pneumonia

A simple cough is really one of our best friends. It serves as a warning of inflammation or irritation in a dangerous place. Let a cough get without attention and "wear itself out" and you are likely to be sorry. Most cases of Grippe, Pneumonia, Bronchitis and other serious throat and lung trouble come from a neglected cough. But even the worst cough can usually be stopped in a few days, while simple coughs, taken in time, can often be ended in twenty-four hours by allowing a little Oxidize (in tablet form) to dissolve slowly in the mouth every two or three hours. Relief from the tickling throat irritation comes almost immediately, as the healing, antiseptic juices of Oxidize reach the inflamed membranes. Dry, hoarse, tight coughs respond readily to this pleasant treatment by stopping the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes the persistent loose cough is soon overcome. As a treatment for coughs, colds, throat, lung and bronchial ailments Oxidize in tablet form is surely a wonder. You can easily carry the tablets about with you, use them whenever needed. They are pleasant to take, inexpensive, contain no harmful drugs, are a physician's prescription, and G. A. Gorgas Drug Co., and many other druggists in this city and vicinity who sell them agree to refund the full purchase price in any case where a package of Oxidize tablets fails to stop a cough and end a cold. If you are subject to colds, get the package from your druggist on this liberal guarantee and see for yourself how it keeps the cold away altogether, be sure to insist on Oxidize and take nothing in its place.

STOMACH UPSET?

CHAPTER XXII—In South America Alan gets fever and his foreman prepares to send him to the coast.

When the cavalcade came within easy view Gerry stood up and watched. He could not hide his curiosity like Lieber and Kemp. In front of the horses came four men bearing a sagging hammock on a pole. They were running in quick, springy steps that made the hammock sway gently from side to side. The pace they kept up under the burden was marvelous. They were followed closely by eight horsemen. At the first signs of faltering among the bearers, four of the riders would throw themselves off their ponies and run under the pole. The change of relay was made without a stop, without a pause. The freed ponies stood with hanging heads and straddled legs. Even from a distance one could see that the burdened men had run the wiry little beasts off their feet. They were all in, but the men were still erect—keen. With a final spurt the cortege drew up before the veranda. Lieber stood up. "Dead or dying?" he asked.

"Master, we do not know," answered the oldest of the men, their leader.

"Fever or smallpox?" asked Lieber. "Fever."

With a look of relief Lieber went down the steps to the hammock. A sheet had been thrown over the pole to keep off the worst of the sun. He pulled it off. A ghastly sight met his eyes, but he did not shrink. "Bring him up here," he said, springing up the steps and sweeping a saddle harness and some old magazines off a great ravidie settle on the veranda.

They laid the sick man on the settle and Lieber started to strip him with gentle, deft hands. Kemp strode forward and helped but Gerry stood by, powerless to move. He had recognized Alan, the man he had sworn to break if ever he met him. Somebody else had broken Alan, terribly, pitilessly. Gerry's eyes shrank from the sight. A lump came into his throat. Alan was dead. Alan with whom he had wandered barefoot through those quiet lanes of home, with whom he had fished and swum, and once had fought. What a little fury Alan had been in that boys' battle! It had not been fought to a finish. On one impulse they had stopped and looked at each other and turned away, ashamed to shake hands.

Lieber, once heavy, florid and clumsy, was transformed. He worked quickly, with sure hands. The body lay stripped on the settle. Under it still lay the hammock and dusty blankets. The pillows and a board had been tossed on the floor. Lieber examined his patient minutely, without haste. The spleen was frightfully distended and pushed out across the abdomen. He could feel its hard, unyielding margins. The feet were swollen. The face was yellow with the sickly gray-yellow of molded straw. Coma had set in.

Lieber dragged a great medicine chest out from his room. With alcohol he rapidly washed out the dust-laden nostrils of the stricken man and bathed his face and then the limbs and body. Then he took out a hypodermic syringe and a graduated glass. In the lungs and vitals. That man's been a fighter, and unless I'm a bigger fool than I was yesterday he's a fighter yet."

"Cover him up, for God's sake," said Gerry.

Lieber dropped the sheet and went off to the kitchen. Gerry and Kemp covered the stripped body and tucked many blankets over it. Lieber came back and took off half the blankets. "Mustn't tire him with weight," he explained. "If he's going to sweat, he'll sweat all right. Malaria—malignant fever—is the tired disease in the world. When they get too tired to breathe, that's the end." He took hold of Alan's wrist. "To feel his pulse, you'd say he was dead now."

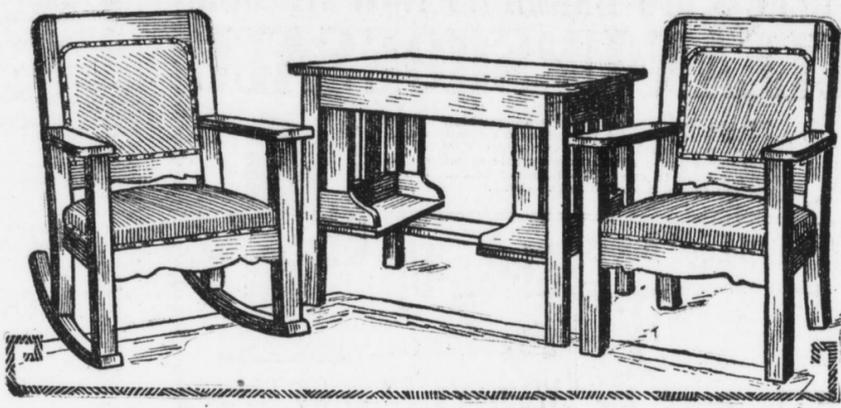

"Bout time we was startin'," remarked Kemp with his eyes toward the declining sun.

TRADE REVIVAL SHOWN IN REPORT

U. S. Steel Has Gross Business of $486,352,054; Surplus Dividends of $44,260,374

New York, March 17. — Telling the remarkable recovery of the steel and iron industry from its low state of the preceding year and the first quarter of 1915 to the highest level of activity and prosperity ever known, the United States Steel Corporation last night issued its fourteenth annual report showing total business of $486,352,054 compared with $380,228,143 in 1914. This increase of $106,123,911 represented a gain of 27.9 per cent. Earnings amounted to $140,250,068, an increase of $58,503,548 over 1914, while balance of earnings after payment of interest on outstanding bonds and mortgages of subsidiary companies increased $58,732,296. Net income totaled $97,967,962, a gain of $51,447,555. Perhaps the most striking feature of the report is the surplus net income of $44,260,374 which replaces

To Quickly Remove Ugly Hairs From Face

(Beauty Notes)
Beauty-destroying hairs are soon banished from the skin with the aid of a delatone paste, made by mixing some water with a little plain powdered delatone. This is spread upon the hairy surface for 2 or 3 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed to remove the remaining delatone. This simple treatment banishes every trace of hair and leaves the skin without a blemish. Caution should be used to be certain that it is delatone you buy.—Advertisement.

a deficit in the previous twelve months of $16,971,984, therefore making the actual gain in surplus $61,232,308.

While the earnings of the Steel Corporation were made public a short time ago the financial district was anxious to receive the full statement. The final statement shows some slight changes from the preliminary document. United States Steel common was irregular in the stock market today, but firm, closing at 86 1/2.

In his general remarks Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board, reviews the year's earnings, but makes no predictions for the future. Neither does he touch upon the European war and its relation to the spirited recovery in the steel industry. Judge Gary declares that the improvement in the demand for iron and steel products, which became evident before the middle of 1915, continued in increasing volume throughout the remainder of the year, both for domestic and export trade.

DECAY OF THE CASTE SYSTEM
The Bible, which has been touching the life of students through many different agencies, is doing much to destroy the system of caste which for centuries has blocked the progress of India.

A professor in one of the cities which I visited invited a number of Bible students to his home for a social evening. There were present both Hindu and Mohammedan university men. When refreshments were served, the professor prepared two tables, in accordance with the usual custom, since the Hindu students were not expected to touch food which had been offered to those not of their own faith. It chanced that the Hindu students ate all of their cakes, and, being still hungry, inadvertently remarked to their host that they would not object to a second helping. After investigation, the professor found that all the cakes had been served; whereupon the Hindu students, perceiving that there were still refreshments remaining upon the tables where the Mohammedan young men had been eating, suggested that the Mohammedans' cakes would be quite satisfactory. The professor, astonished, said, "But you are Hindus." The answer came from a bright-faced Brahman of high social position: "We have changed our view somewhat in relation to this matter as we have studied together the principles of the Founder of Christianity concerning his social order."—Correspondence of The Christian Herald.

Three More People Testify What Quaker Herb Extract Has Done For Them

Katherine Sweeney, who lives in Cumberland street, reported she had been confined with rheumatism for nearly eight months, her knees were becoming stiff, that she had to be carried up and down stairs, her pains at times were severe; a treatment of the Quaker Remedies were sent for. It was used according to directions and so marvelous were the results that she called at the drug store and stated she is now well.

Julius Brinker reported that he had been relieved of a severe and chronic case of catarrh by the Quaker Remedies. The catarrh had affected his head, ears, throat and stomach, every trace of which has vanished and he is now in fine health.

Henry T. Plucker, of Twenty-ninth street, was an old sufferer from stomach trouble, indigestion and constipation, was indeed in a pitiable condition, would always say, Oh, if I could get rid of this gas on my stomach, how much better I would feel. But it seemed everything he ate would form gas, sour stomach, heart palpitation and dizzy spells, was obliged to use strongest kind of purgatives. When he heard people reporting such grand results from Quaker Herb Remedies at the drug store he concluded to try once more. The consequences is to-day Mr. Plucker is well. He eats well, sleeps well, enjoys his meals, has no more indigestion and what pleases him most of all is he was able to again go back to his old work. His cure has created a sensation in the neighborhood of his home. Call to-day at Keller's drug store, 405 Market street, and obtain this wonderful Quaker Herb Extract, $1.00 per bottle, three for $2.50. Oil of Balm, 25 and 50 cents a bottle.
