HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"My trouble started with pimples making their appearance all about my face, neck and body. The pimples were large and hard and were red and swollen, festering, also appearing with yellow heads. They were scattered and the skin was very sore and oftentimes my face was very disfigured.

"This lasted for about two months and I found my face getting worse, and I was treated and when this failed I gave up hope of being cured. I saw an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment so I tried them and now I have not even a mark left on my face. I am healed." (Signed) Charles C. Davis, 1342 S. ## END OF TIME, IN 1916, IN RAISED SCRIPT ON EGG

Whole Town Is Arguing Over Genuineness of Mysterious Symbol

Pittsburgh, March 17.—An egg—a white Leghorn egg—may be the means of making McKees Rocks, Pennsylvania, U. S. A., the most famous historical spot in the universe for centuries to come. There are those who believe so. There are those who do not. Both sides have plausible arguments in support of their contentions.

If those who argue in support of the veracity of the egg are correct, McKees Rocks will become known as the place where the dawn of the millennium was foretold to the world in 1916 and as such will quite supplant the Garden of Eden as the most famous of places in the world's history.

On the egg in raised script runs this legend: The End of Time, 1916 This remarkable egg was found by Miss Harriet Francis in a nest in the henry owned by Mr. and Mrs. James Francis, 627 Frederick street, McKees Rocks. At first the inscription was not noticed but the egg was laid aside because its surface was rough and only smooth surfaced eggs are offered their patrons by Mr. and Mrs. Francis. It was on Tuesday that the inscription was deciphered by Mrs. Francis. She told her husband the secret of the egg when he came home from work that night.

Egg Taken to Museum On Friday, Mr. Francis took the egg to the Carnegie museum and displayed it to Rouglas Stewart. Meanwhile the story of the egg and its wondrous inscription spread like wildfire to the other McKees Rocks. Yesterday the authenticity of the inscription was debated, pro and con, in the nickelodeons, in the stores, in the shops and on the street corners, in fact everywhere where people gathered.

Minister Takes Issue There were those who insisted that the egg actually bore to the world the news of the millennium. There were those who argued that the inscription was the work of some wag employed in the chemical department of the Cressed Steel Car Company. The Rev. F. A. Wight, pastor of the McKees Rocks Christian Church, who went to Carnegie museum to see the egg yesterday at the earnest solicitation of the advocates of the former theory, said last night that he was "not prepared to question the veracity of the inscription by any means." He showed from Scripture that the year 1916 might well mark "the end of an age, a dispensation," as he put it, "which might be mistaken for the end of the world."

"Of course," said Mr. Wight, "the end of the world is a much-misused expression. What the Bible actually means by the end of the world is the end of this present dispensation. It will come back to the world, I believe, and He will come within a short time now. He will come in spirit after this terrible war, which will be the last of all wars, but not until after four years of socialism have followed immediately upon the close of the war. With the fall of that system, which cannot last long, Christianity will rule completely. Meantime Christ will have lifted His church from the world, as the Bible tells, and will appear with His church supreme at the conclusion of the utter end to govern themselves without God."

Takes Scientific Stand

Mr. Wight took a scientific as well as a religious stand in defense of that attitude. "At the museum to-day someone was inclined to make light of the said egg. I at once stated that the true scientific attitude was not one of ridicule and that it forbade a stand against the accuracy of the inscription on the egg until a thorough investigation had been made. Furthermore, as the egg is the source of life, what better means could the Lord employ to convey the news of the second coming?"

"This inscription was not engraved on the egg shell. It was embossed thereon. The letters were raised. That is what has puzzled folks so. Now, Mr. Stewart said that he could duplicate the inscription. If he does so, and shows that the hand of man has accomplished this, then I shall tell all inquirers so and I shall be inclined to the theory that the inscription was done artificially."

Stewart Embosses Inscription

Mr. Stewart was asked last night about his assertion that he could accomplish the thing with an egg. "I did it to-day," he replied. "It is nothing wonderful about it. I took an egg, wrote with paraffine on the shell, gave the egg a muriatic acid bath and then put it in a hammer. I took off the paraffine and there I had the inscription embossed."

"The End of Fakes, 1916"

"What was the inscription that you wrote on the egg shell?" Mr. Stewart was asked. "The end of fakes, 1916," he replied smilingly.

"Where is that egg?" he was asked. "On its way by parcel post to the Rev. Mr. Wight," he replied. "He will get it to-morrow."

Mr. Wight announced that the egg would be responsible for a sermon that he would preach this Sunday night in his church on "The End of the World."

The egg rested unostentatiously in a niche on a shelf in the Carnegie museum yesterday. And so, whereas, an apple gave the Garden of Eden its undying fame, it may be that the egg will bring renown to McKees Rocks.

TIRED ALL THE TIME

It has occurred sometimes, when you have exercised sufficiently to cause a healthful feeling of fatigue. But, you should be refreshed by rest. A tired feeling that does not disappear even after a night's sleep is abnormal. It means that you are anemic or debilitated, that you need a tonic to build up and fortify your system against such a condition. If you do not you are inviting disease because thin blood means that the body's defense against the intruders of disease is lowered.

Thin blood is largely the sufferer's own fault. It results from neglect, because the blood can be built up. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills supply the elements that the blood needs to make it rich and red and to enable it to carry more oxygen. Building up the red portion of the blood is simple but because thin blood does not call attention to itself is often neglected. Have you seriously considered taking a course of treatment with these blood-making pills? If you are in doubt write for information.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price 50 cents per box; six boxes $2.50 by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Write now for the free booklet "Building Up the Blood."
