

Worth Careful Thought

Do you read the label to know whether your baking powder is made from cream of tartar or, on the other hand, from alum or phosphate?

Royal Baking Powder is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes, and adds to the food only wholesome qualities.

Other baking powders contain alum or phosphate, both of mineral origin, and used as substitutes for cream of tartar because of their cheapness.

Never sacrifice quality and healthfulness for low price.

WHAT THE SHOPS ARE SHOWING

The newest fad in New York is big motor or sport hats with automobile pillows to match, and a strikingly attractive design of this kind is shown by Astrich's, Fourth and Market streets. The broad-brimmed hat is faced with a stunning fabric in rose tones on a black ground, and this same fabric covers the rounded crown, while a fluted rosette of picot edged rose ribbon completes the simple but most effective trimming of this picturesque hat. To match this is a long, narrow, flat pillow of the same rose and black fabric, and this stunning and novel set is but one of many smart novelties shown in the French Room at Astrich's.

Persistent Winter
Winter does not seem so long and persistent snowfalls cease to be unpleasant if the home is well heated, and now is the time to prepare for future winters by installing a furnace which will give satisfaction. The Himes Hardware Store, 10 North Market Square, sells the Penn Comfort furnaces, which are both of full cast iron construction and are made by the Mount Penn Stove Works, which has been known for years for the excellence of its products. The Himes Store also offers a higher grade furnace, known as the Penn Perfect, made by the same manufacturer, and this gives such splendid results that it is really perfect in fact as well as in name.

The Well-Groomed Woman
The well-groomed woman has a distinctive charm all her own, and the little things that make for perfect grooming are attractively offered by the Gorgas Drug Store, 16 North Third street. They offer not only the better known kind of lotions and facial creams, but also many special preparations for special purposes—whitening creams, medicinal soaps, powders specially suited for every kind of complexion, perfumes and sachets of novel and exquisite fragrance, are but a few of the many toilet requisites that appeal to the woman of refinement who wants the best that can be obtained, and prices are as low or lower than elsewhere.

A Pretty and Tasty Dainty
For luncheon, supper or afternoon tea, bar-le-deuc with cream cheese is a delectable dainty, for it is both tasty and pretty to serve. Of course, since the war, bar-le-deuc is very scarce, since most of it is imported, and very little is coming over now, with the probability of its becoming scarcer. However, the Studebaker Grocery Store, Second street at the crossing of State, has laid in an adequate supply, and in spite of the present scarcity they are able to offer the same delicious bar-le-deuc which is so well liked by discriminating people. They also keep the especially fine Star cream cheese, which is excellent to serve with it.

WOMAN HAD NERVOUS TROUBLE

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her.
West Danby, N. Y.—"I have had nervous trouble all my life until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nerves and for female troubles and it straightened me out in good shape. I work nearly all the time, as we live on a farm and I have four girls. I do all my sewing and other work with their help, so it shows that I stand it real well. I took the Compound when my ten year old daughter came and it helped me a lot. I have also had my oldest girl take it and it did her lots of good. I keep it in the house all the time and recommend it."
—Mrs. DEWITT SINCEBAUGH, West Danby, N. Y.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

DEFENSE OR TRIBUTE FILM BOOSTS FUND

with a cold for five days and am going out for the first time this evening to the concert of the Witches Post G. A. R. in Brooklyn. They are going to give a part of the proceeds to the battleship fund. Perhaps I can come to Harrisburg some time later.

"MARGERIE STRETT"
The unfortunate weather conditions to-day will undoubtedly be a disappointment to the thousands who expect one-third of the receipts from the performance of "Defense or Tribute" to go to the battleship fund. And the Telegraph has been boosting as hard as it knows how to make the contribution from Harrisburg a big one. A soldier takes his medicine like a man, however, and if the amount received doesn't come up to Marjorie's expectations, she will undoubtedly take it like the "little man" that she is.
One of the features of the film is the scene where Marjorie presents the first dime of the fund, now well over $10,000 to the city editor of the New York Tribune, who happens to be Robert E. MacArney, a well-known newspaperman and formerly a reporter on the Harrisburg Telegraph.
"Defense or Tribute"
Purely as a spectacle and a drama and aside from the strong plea which it makes for national preparedness, no more interesting and thrilling motion picture has ever been submitted to the American public than the five-act production of "Defense or Tribute," the rights of which are controlled by the Public Service Film Company.
Originally produced with remarkable success at the Park Theater, Columbia Circle, New York, and there several weeks and now its presentation to country audiences has the support of the New York Tribune, the Harrisburg Telegraph and many other newspapers. Marjorie Strett, the ten-year old Brooklyn public school girl who started a dime fund to help build a battleship, has the picture "Defense or Tribute" working for her and those who go to see it at the Victoria to-day will also have the satisfaction of knowing that besides being most thrillingly entertaining it will be helping forward the great cause of national preparedness.

CAUSED BY THIN BLOOD

Many people think they have kidney trouble because they have backache but more backache is caused by overstrained and undernourished muscles than by anything else. In such cases the blood needs building up.
Many rheumatic people suffer pains that could be avoided by building up the blood. When rheumatism is associated with thin blood the rheumatism cannot be cured to stay cured until the blood is built up.
Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood and sufferers from backache would do well to try this treatment before giving way to worry over a fancied organic disease. Rest and the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will correct most forms of backache, even rheumatic.

For people who work too hard or dance too much and sleep too little, better habits and a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are all that is needed to drive away the pains and aches that are warnings of a coming breakdown.
Two books, "Building Up the Blood" and "Nervous Disorders" will be sent free, if you are interested, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at the nearest drug store or by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes, $2.50.
