You know I told you Monday what nasty things Cousin Sarah was telling Ma about me. Seems to me she was only jealous cause she can't get her picture in the papers, no matter how she tries.

Well I wuz crying up in my room when some one put their hands over my eyes and said, "Look out, you'll stain the carpet with those tears." I knew it was Dad. But I knew that if I stopped crying right away he wouldn't think I meant it, so I just kept on till he found a bar of chocolate he had in his pocket and gave it to me. I just had to stop crying then, cause I didn't want to get salt water on the chocolate.

I told him all about what Cousin Sarah had said, and he said, "I don't pity you a bit. If you hadn't played spy you wouldn't have heard what was said. You're better off out in the air taking SAVE-A-CENT orders than snooping around listening where you are not asked. We'll see about this after supper," said Dad. He started whistling—but he didn't stop frowning. I wish he had.

Yours sincerely,
SUSIE SMART,
Wednesday

Guess Shorty and Steve forgot my April fool joke on them.

SAVE-A-CENT
Soft Scouring Compound
does everything any scouring powder does, does it more easily and lasts as long as any three 10c cans, because it does not waste. Yet it costs only 4c, at any grocery, while cans of scouring powder cost 5c and 10c.

WHAT THE SHOPS ARE SHOWING

The Easter bride is busy now with preparations for her wedding, and the shops are full of suggestions for her. The dainty lingerie and linens of her trousseau are no doubt ready and waiting in the hope chest, but every bride will want some of the delicate, subtly-scented sachet offered by the Gorgas Drug Store, 16 North Third street, to scatter among her finery and give it a distinctive fragrance which will always remain associated in her mind with her wedding day. Gorgas offers a number of delightful sachets which are quite new and not found elsewhere, and the bride who chooses one of these with perhaps a perfume and toilet water of the same odor, will add a distinctive individuality to her charm.

The Up-to-date Bride
If the bride is thoroughly up-to-date and wants her traveling costume to be correct, her footwear will be most carefully considered, and the Walk-Over Boot Shop, 226 Market street, have just put on display a new laced boot which would be just the thing for the well-dressed bride to wear with her suit. These boots are in two tones of gray, beautifully built on a very smart last. The vamp and Louis heel are of battleship gray, which extends in two narrow bands up the front of the boot, through which the holes of the lacing are pierced. The uppers and foxing of the boot are in one piece, and of a lighter shade of gray, and this combination of tones makes a boot of unique style and beauty, which is, as well, in quiet and excellent taste.

The "Going-away Suit"
The bride's going-away suit should be conservative enough to avoid being at all conspicuous, yet smart enough to be distinctive and out-of-the-ordinary, and a new suit shown by Astrich's Fourth and Market street, beautifully combines these qualities. It is of navy blue serge, with collar and cuffs of white broadcloth which also lines the belt, and is noticed on the button-holes. A tiny pocket in the coat is piped with the white broadcloth and a puff of delicately flowered silk to match the exquisite lining, simulates a kerchief in the pocket. The full wide belt in the back, below which full pleats are introduced.

The Wedding Feast
For this occasion more than for any other, perfection of quality is the first requisite and the offerings of the Studebaker Grocery Store, Second street at the crossing of State, most fully answer this requirement. Whether it be a formal wedding breakfast, dinner or supper, or simply a bit of refreshment for the bride and groom, such delicacies as grapefruit with marachino cherries, fresh mushrooms on toast, Fernendell green peas, or asparagus tips, or the mammoth asparagus with crisp lettuce for salad, delicious marroons, shelled and unshelled nut goodies, special cake flour and preserved fruits for the wedding cake, and coffee of delicious flavor are always welcome for the wedding feast.

After the Wedding
The thoughtful bride is looking farther ahead than the day of her wedding and is planning for the home which will be in her charge. She will see that the kitchen is properly equipped and naturally her first consideration is the kitchen range. She will want a stove which bakes well, one that is economical to use, and that is built and for these purposes the Himes Hardware Store, 10 North Market Square, offers the Penn Esther and Penn Cabinet ranges—two models built by the same manufacturer whose reputation for excellent stoves and ranges is so well established that the inexperienced bride may feel confident that in selecting one of these she has a range that will give perfect satisfaction.

A Simple Way to Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Advertisement.

Clears Complexion

Don't worry about skin troubles. You can have a clear, clean complexion by using a little Zemo, obtained at any drug store for 25c, or extra large bottle at $1.00.
