upper end and also in other sections of the township. The town of Enola claim that it has been several years that the streets in the town have been given any improvement. It is said by some that really the last improvement was the paving of a half dozen mountain stone crossings. However, for the past year or two the supervisors have spent comparatively little money on road improvement.

The State road which runs through Enola through the town and the railroad yards also needs a good improvement and Enola residents will petition the State Highway Department to make the repairs.

Repeal of the lower end of East Pennsboro township, who reside in Washington Heights, are also said to favor the expending of the money now in bank for road purposes. Public works in this territory are in exceptionally bad condition and last year residents paid money out of their own pockets to make improvements when the township supervisors failed to make repairs.

BEGIN WORK ON WATERING PLANT

since the present directorate took office. The plan as now being installed calls for the extension of a series of pipe lines from the almshouse pumps out over the town to the water tower. The farm and the pipes will be perforated in such a way as to permit a generous sprinkling of water through the territory in which the pipe line extends.

Within ten days or two weeks, according to Director Snavely to-day, the new irrigation system should be perfected and ready for business.

those many years of suffering a 30-foot tapeworm, head and all complete. Mrs. Long states that she used to suffer from such awful sick headaches, also had pains in different parts of the body; had a ravenous appetite; was very restless at night and was in a weak, nervous condition. She also stated when her husband got the medicine for her she was very skeptical for many treatments had been given her before with no results, that she had almost given up all hopes of getting rid of the internal enemy, and that she had been told that it meant certain death if it were not removed, and just to think, the Quaker Remedies had removed it without sickness, dieting or starvation, and I shall always praise these remedies for what they have done for me and do highly recommend them to others. The Health Teacher said yes the expelling of worms after all other remedies failed is a great merit, but we call it one of the best of Quaker Herb Extract's qualities, for it gives just a wonderful result in Stomach, Liver, Kidney or Bladder troubles or Catarrh in its many forms and as a Blood and System Purifier it has no equal and is a pure herb remedy which contains no poisons is perfectly safe to give to a baby or a delicate person. Now, that you are getting reports from your next door neighbors, obtain this wonderful Quaker Herb Extract $1.00 per bottle or three bottles for $2.50. Oil of Balm, 25 and 50 cents a bottle, Kidney Pills, 50 cents a box. You can obtain at all times from Keller's Drug Store, 405 Market Street.—Advertisement.

A MONSTER TAPEWORM EXPELLED AFTER Taking Wonderful Quaker Herb Extract.

John Long of 631 North Twelfth street, called at Martin's Drug Store, and told of how his wife suffered from the ravages of a tapeworm for six years and how she had taken a number of treatments for same, but with no results. He was then asked to give Quaker Herb Extract a trial. He did so, he purchased one bottle, took it home and on Sunday morning his wife began taking the medicine according to directions. Little did she think that in such a short time the cause of her six years suffering would be removed but on Thursday morning just four days from the time she started on this most wonderful of all remedies Quaker Herb Extract she became a little nauseated and in a few minutes time had expelled the cause of

for engaging in such "political out-rages" as the suspension of laws and the Constitution in West Virginia, and he asserted that the State organizations can never be prepared as a real national defense reserve. Returning from the "preparedness luncheon" with Colonel Roosevelt and Elihu Root at the home of Robert Bacon, in New York, Senator Lodge declared his ideas on national defense in a strong speech on the floor of the Senate, which excited particular interest on the part of other Senators because they regarded his speech as expressing the views upon which Colonel Roosevelt will make his campaign. Hay Bill Under Hot Fire The Hay military bill was flayed by Senator Lodge as a "do-nothing" and useless measure. While the Chamberlain bill was described as all right so far as it goes, with the inference that it does not go far enough. Senator Lodge asserted that 250,000 regulars was the minimum force this country should maintain, in addition to a large mobile reserve. The present navy was declared to be inadequate and Senator Lodge asserted that there is no need for us longer to live in a fool's paradise. Pacifists who oppose extending the nation's defenses at present were identical in principle, he said, with citizens who object to sufficient police forces in municipalities. He continued: "I believe thoroughly that not only order, but civilization, depends upon the power of the nation to put adequate force behind its laws. At this moment our defenses are just enough to insure a sacrifice of many brave and noble lives if we were attacked by any first-class power. "If we had a competent navy, the land defense would be less important. But we have no such navy, and it is silly to dwell in a fool's paradise and tell ourselves that we have. "Force to Withstand Rush "It is now contended that we need a force sufficient to hold back the first rush of any important enemy while our second line of defense is given time to mobilize. The lowest possible number of men to insure such delay is 500,000, and the one object, I think, should be pursued now should be to have that force or a greater one." Senator Lodge objected to amendments that would prevent the use of the National Guard or a volunteer army. "I cannot comprehend," Senator Lodge continued, "why those who are so friendly to the National Guard wish to discourage our getting supplies of men from other sources. We cannot afford to rest our defense in the militia alone and must utilize other sources of supply." The Massachusetts Senator declared for universal military service and training for a limited time in the life of every citizen. The Lodge speech voiced the views of Colonel Roosevelt not merely with respect to the size that the regular army should be, but with reference to universal military service. Following the speech of Senator Lodge it was learned that Colonel Roosevelt favors the latter for chairman of the Republican national convention. The Senators who are friendly to Roosevelt have taken the Lodge address as a keynote speech, and it is believed to foreshadow a line-up of Republicans for such a military program.
