PRIMARY VOTE IS VERY LIGHT

named. Mr. Plain Citizen did not appear to care a rap about the primary.

That Awful Ballot

The Republican ballot was the largest ever voted at a primary and the Democratic was almost as bad. Voters who received it expressed their opinion in plain words and there were many who apparently gave up in disgust and turned in ballots with a few marks instead of going down the line.

In some places men sat around before voting to study out the problem and the marked ballots which were circulated and advertised in the newspapers were a great assistance. The old trick of holding the watch on the time it took a man to vote lost its force to-day and there was all kinds of joking about the minutes consumed in voting. In some districts it was reported that men who admitted voting straight through took from three to six minutes to make their marks. A few lightning calculators went through in a minute, but the extent of their voting was suspected.

The general impression is that it will be sometime to-morrow before anything like accurate results can be obtained.

Delays in Getting Started

Among the districts where there were delays in getting started were some in the city and a few in the county. One in the city was the Second precinct of the Sixth ward, whose election board was before the courts last year. The new officers were late in getting on the job and did not seem to mind the protests from men who wanted to vote and get away.

In the Riverside precinct of Susquehanna township there was some question over alleged discrepancies between the assessment list and the registration book so the officers called up the county commissioners for a straightening out. The assessor was not on the job at the start off to explain some additional names. But the storm blew over. The same thing occurred in Gratz and Hummelstown townships.

These difficulties were ironed out by the assessors.

Williamstown folks called up early to know why 14 precincts on ballots were not delivered. It was discovered that they were mixed up in packing at the printing plant and the right bale was rushed to the coal mining town by automobile.

Many disputes over party affiliations and age were reported. In the city voters who did not register could not vote on age.

Law vs. Law

Statute law bumped against judge-made law in one of the downtown districts. The deputy constable did not appear at the time the judge of election thought he should be on hand to earn his $3 and the election judge exercised authority and named a deputy for the deputy. The first deputy then appeared and a clash occurred between the county commissioners' office settled by recognizing the deputy named by the courts under statute law.

Cumberland county was having the same trouble as Dauphin and from all accounts Perry county was also suffering from lack of popular interest.

Officers of election boards threw up their hands when asked about what time the suffering public could obtain returns. Every one appeared to think unkindly of the task confronting the boards after the polls closed. Midnight was the general prediction.

This community was not unlike other parts of the State in having a light vote. Counties all over Central Pennsylvania reported the same thing and a Pittsburgh message told of general lack of interest. Claims were made by Penrose partisans that the interior counties were going strong for the Senator and against the Governor, and the Allegheny county was claimed by Penrose men by from 20,000 to 25,000.

In many counties, as in Dauphin and Cumberland, the Governor is getting a complimentary vote. The Penrose organizations, which appear from reports to have the better arranged and more numerous, are not trying to prevent this. W. Harry Baker, of this city, will poll a big vote hereabouts for delegates-at-large. So will John Wanamaker, although there were reports that liquor interests were inclined to strike at the great merchant. Senator Snyder will lead Speaker Ambler in this county, which is his birthplace.

In Lancaster county the Grist organization was voting for the Governor. Reynolds reported the same thing and is being backed by many people here for personal reasons. In Philadelphia, the J. V. Crenshaw, W. S. Crowell, E. R. Delong, J. J. Dickey, E. L. McVay, R. P. Edman, J. L. Farrell, W. M. Frymeyer, M. W. Gilland, J. P. Graff, J. P. Grube, P. R. Heineman, H. G. Harwood, E. P. Best, W. B. Kelley, E. W. Kiefer, E. Kiehl, F. M. McLaury, C. B. McVay, 3d, E. E. Marie, Jr., W. H. Nesbit, C. C. O'Donnell, H. E. Peifer, E. J. Pole, Jr., A. F. Smith, Jr., H. Wilson and G. R. Sanner.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

The Billie Burke serial picture, "Gloria's Romance," in process of filming at the George Klein studios for the past six months, will have its New York opening at the Globe Theater, May 23.

"Gloria's Romance" is a motion picture novel of twenty episodes written by Mr. and Mrs. Rumer Hughes.

The opening episodes were staged at Palm Beach, and are said to contain some striking pictures of Manhattan's fashionable winter colony, the members of which are great night fillers in as "extras" for dance, tea party and yachting scenes.

Elsie Ferguson, who announced on Thursday that she would be married on June 1 at the St. Regis Hotel, will not retire from the stage.

"When the autumn season comes," Miss Ferguson said, "I shall be ready to resume my profession. I want a comedy if that is possible to find. I shall not act for many more years, however. I don't want the public to grow tired of me, if, as my managers say, I am a favorite with them. I want to leave the stage before the public has ceased to have such a regard for me."

Her present portrayal of Portia in Sir Herbert Tree's production, "The Merchant of Venice," is the outcome of a long dream the actress has nourished to appear some time in the plays of Shakespeare.

LOCAL THEATERS

Constance Collier, an English player of ability and charm, who is notably successful in recitals, will appear in the motion picture screen, was seen yesterday at the Regent in "The Code of Marcia Gray," a picture which tells an interesting story of a girl who is a victim of good photography. Same will be shown for the last time to-day.

Thursday, John Barrymore, who has played the role of a crook, of course, Barrymore is not a bonafide crook in the picture. He has been hit on the head by two thugs, who are turning from his bachelor dinner on the eve of his wedding to Dorothy Hardin, and has completely lost his memory as a result of the blow.

DeWolf Hopper, the man that has made people laugh while he was appearing on the speaking stage, bids to make more laugh on the motion picture screen, "Sunshine Dad," the funny comedy drama in which he is appearing, was presented at the Colonial yesterday afternoon. The story of the picture is the kind that will please every one. It features a funny two-reel comedy that features Ford Sterling, completes what has been termed as one of the best programs that has appeared at the popular picture house for quite a while. Wednesday and Thursday, William Fox will present Theda Bara in a new six-reel production called "Gold and the Woman."

To-day is presented the five-part photoplay, "The Little Church Around the Corner," in which Emelie Polini in the role of a young Victoria wife. Her husband falls sick, and morphia is being administered to him as an alleviative. Unfortunately he succumbs to the habit and his wife has to accept a position in the office of a lawyer, who was an unsuccessful suitor for her hand.

The lawyer is a villain. He persecutes the young wife, who is helpless to a large sum of money.

With the help of the police, the villainous path leads clear to the villainous lawyer.

But the husband and wife escape from the sanatorium and the young man abjures the morphia habit, so they give thanks at the Little Church Around the Corner, where they were married. To-day also Frank Daniels in an uproarious comedy.

Simple Harmless Remedy Brings Quick Relief

Many cases of immediate relief and rapid recovery from Bronchial Asthma of long standing and other diseases of throat and lungs are being credited to a discovery made by Dr. Eugene Howard. Dr. Howard's prescription now placed on the market by the American Oxidase Co. of Worcester, Massachusetts, is totally different from all usual methods of treatment for these afflictions, and is called Oxidase and comes in the form of a tablet which the patient allows to dissolve slowly in the mouth. Its curative, healing ingredients thus mingle with the saliva and enter every crevice of the irritated bronchial membranes, release the muscular constriction of the bronchial tubes, open up the air passages and regulate the spasmodic lung action. These harmless tablets, though pleasant to the taste, are so powerful and rapid in their action that many users who for years were obliged to sit up in bed gasping for breath and unable to sleep report that they now put a single Oxidase tablet in their mouth when going to bed and can then lie down and breathe easily and naturally and get a good night's restful sleep. Oxidase tablets are for sale by G. A. Gorgan Drug Co. and all leading druggists.—Advertisement.
