GOOD WORK FOR SICK WOMEN

The Woman's Medicine Has Proved Its Worth.

When Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies were first introduced, their curative powers were doubted and had to be proved. But the proof came, and gradually the use of them spread over the whole country. Now that hundreds of thousands of women have experienced the most beneficial effects from the use of these medicines, their value has become generally recognized, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard medicine for women.
The following letter is only one of the thousands on file in the Pinkham office, at Lynn, Mass., proving that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an article of great merit as shown by the results it produces.
Anamosa, Iowa. — "When I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I suffered with a displacement, and my system was in a general run-down condition. I would have the headache for a week and my back would ache so bad when I would bend down I could hardly straighten up. My sister was sick in bed for two months and doctored, but did not get any relief. She saw an advertisement of your medicine and tried it and got better. She told me what it had done for her, and when I had taken only two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my head began to feel better. I continued its use and now I don't have any of those troubles." — Mrs. L. J. HANNAN, R.F.D. 1, Anamosa, Iowa.

PRISON LABOR IS TO BE LAUNCHED

New System Whereby State Will Buy From Its Own Institutions Is Ready

According to word which comes from Philadelphia the new State Prison Labor Commission is about ready to inaugurate the system of having the prisoners work. A meeting was held in Philadelphia this week and important matters outlined, whereby the inmates of three big State institutions are to be employed in manufacturing.
At the Eastern Penitentiary in Philadelphia, hosiery, shoes and underwear will be manufactured; at the Western Penitentiary at Bellefonte, brooms, brushes and mats, at the Huntingdon Reformatory, implements for the State highway department. The manufactured articles can be sold only to State institutions under bid. For their work the prisoners are to be paid on a scale of wages ranging from 10 to 50 cents a day.
Seventy-five per cent. of this income will go to the family or dependents of the prisoners who do the work. The remainder will be held in trust for the prisoner and turned over to him when he is discharged. The convict who has no family or known dependents will receive all he earns. Formerly only 35 per cent. of the inmates of the State prisons could be employed. A new law, which went into effect January 1, provides that all prisoners who are able to work shall be employed in some manner.
The State Commission, which is provided in the same law, has power to regulate the employment and the work Superintendents of the State hospitals and institutions which will buy the manufactured articles met with the commission here yesterday. The institutions which will furnish a market for the goods have a population of 22,000.

THE BIG BROTHERS

One of the fine evidences of the existence of the spirit of helpfulness is seen in the "Big Brother" movement, through which so many hundreds of boys have been lifted out of untoward environments and set upon a course of high manhood, through the genuine interest and association with some Big Brother, some man who has sacrificed time, thought and money to follow out the Biblical injunction. It is doubtful whether any one has been saved or reformed truly in this world by anything but love, and love is the very spring and substance of this Big Brother campaign.
It is a simple but great work. The boy is assigned to a certain Big Brother, a business man, perhaps, introductions are made and the boy is made to feel that the man is his own friend—not simply a professional almsgiver, or a friend of his parents. The Big Brother helps in securing employment if necessary, arranging for schooling, and most of all by companionship whenever possible. An hour's conversation, a quiet talk at night, a letter, a slight gift, making sure that the boy has right companions—these are the old but the permanent means of showing brotherhood. One of the best known lawyers in New York has taken on six little brothers. He confesses that he is six times happier, and six times bigger and better, than he was before. Is your life cold and bare? Try to be a Big Brother. There is a boy somewhere needing you and you need him.—The Christian Herald.
