PLAYERS IN RIOT AT WASHINGTON

Catcher Agnew Taken in Charge by Police; Mays Hit Captain McBride

Washington, D. C., July 1.—A row between Captain McBride, of the Washington team, and Mays, the Boston pitcher, precipitated a clash in the third inning of yesterday's game here that threatened for a time to develop into a general fight among the players of the two clubs.

WELLY'S CORNER

Every fan who witnessed yesterday's battle between Harrisburg and Scranton is a booster for the local aggregation. No more interesting game was played last season than that of yesterday, according to the general belief. There is no excuse for not patronizing games at Island Park.

Another ideal baseball day for amateurs was anticipated to-day. The schedule includes a number of local games but many of the contests will be out of the city. New Cumberland will entertain the Hick-A-Thrifts. "Shorty" Miller is developing a strong team at New Cumberland and when the series starts with Highspire and other for-

NEW FACES FOR LOCAL BALL TEAM

Local Players Go and Come; Bargain Days; Locals Shut-out Scranton

Baseball fans had a bargain day to-day. The Motive Power team of Harrisburg met the New York representatives of the Pennsylvania Railroad league, starting the contest at 2 o'clock. Then came the regular game with Scranton, Monday and Tuesday will be other big days for local patrons. New faces will be in Harrisburg's line-up on Monday. Manager George Cockill and Walter Blair are making every effort to put the team on a winning basis.

Holiday Attraction For the holiday attraction the Albany club will be here and it will be a meeting of the rival Senators of New York State and Pennsylvania. The Albany club plays on the Island grounds on Monday and both morning and afternoon games on Tuesday, the Fourth of July.

The Albany club is led by Wiltse, the former star southpaw of the New York Giants, who will be remembered for his sensational playing of first base in the world's series games against the Athletics some years ago. Wiltse is now playing first base for the Albany club and his team is composed of players turned over by Muesey McGraw, the manager of the Giants. Some are former Giants and others are future Giants.

The outfield is composed of Palsey, of the Giants; Breckenridge, of the Toronto Internationals, and Oakes, of the Western League. The infield consists of Wiltse, at first; Meyer, at second base; Scheppner, of the Giants, at third base, and Babbington, of the Giants, at shortstop. Babbington is looked upon as a coming star for the New York club and is farmed to Albany for experience.

The catchers are Wanamaker, who was with the Rochester club last season and Sandlen, of the Giants. The pitchers include Walker, of the New-York Central League teams, old-time battles will be looked for.

In the Enola Shop League game yesterday No. 3 team defeated No. 4 team, score 20 to 3. It was some batting. Putt was hit for 16 safeties. He was given poor support, eight costly errors being chalked up against No. 4 team. The next game will be played Monday between No. 1 and No. 2 teams.

The Globe Right Posture League games are attracting much attention. The Blues won yesterday's game over the Reds, score 5 to 4; and the Grays trimmed the Cardinals, score 6 to 5. Both victors won on time hits and fast fielding. Zimmerman was a big fielding star for the Grays.

The Dauphin-Schuylkill League had a great game yesterday. Lykens and Tremont went 10 innings to a score of 6 to 6, and darkness prevented a finish. Lykens hit the ball but were unable to make their bingles count.

The two games at Island Park to-day promise to be a record attraction. The railroad shops shut down at noon and many rooters for the Motive Power team promised to line up for Harrisburg.

ark Feds; Gerner, tried by the Phillies; Devlinney, of the Baltimore Internationals, and Brown, of the Buffalo Internationals.

The games on the Fourth of July will be played at 10.30 o'clock in the morning and 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Locals Full of "Pep" Harrisburg played a peppy game yesterday, winning from Bill Hughlin's Miners, score, 4 to 0. Helfrick was in full control at every stage.

With the exception of the third and fourth innings, when bingles came in succession, Scranton was retired in one, two, three order. His support was brilliant. He was hit in four of the nine innings.

Duchessell was wild, walking four men in succession in the third. A double, single and sacrifice brought three runs, one being forced home. Two singles and a sacrifice brought the other run. The score:

Hershey, Pa., July 1.—The Fourth of July will be a great baseball day for Hershey. The park diamond will be in use morning and afternoon. Jack Dillon Enroute West; Fights Jim Flynn Tuesday

Earleville, Okla., July 1.—Oklahoma is light crazy on the eve of the coming fifteen-round battle between Jim Flynn (the Pueblo fireman) and Jack Dillon, the "giant killer," who met at Dewey, Okla., next Tuesday morning.

Enthusiasm is running high since Dillon's defeat of Frank Moran in Brooklyn last night. This battle is being staged by Joe A. Battles, a Cherokee Indian millionaire oil man and farmer, in connection with the annual round-up, in which the best ropers of the world will contest.

The fight is to be staged at 11 o'clock on the morning of the Fourth. Flynn is training here and Dillon is on his way from New York.

An arena has been built to accommodate a crowd of 10,000. Half the tickets have already been sold. This will be the biggest ring battle ever staged in this section.

Chick Evans Wins Title in Western Golf Contest

Minneapolis, Minn., July 1.—An amateur, Charles (Chick) Evans, Jr., of the Edgewater Club, Chicago, four times Western amateur golf champion and once winner of the Western open title, added the capstone to his laurels yesterday by winning the national open golf championship over the Minnikanda links, with a total score of 286 for the 72 holes.

Thus, for the third time in four years, premier honors in the open classic have been captured by an amateur, and this time by the lowest score since the inception of the championship in 1894.

The best previous score was 290, made by George Sargent at Englewood, N. J., in 1909, and by Walter Hagan at the Midlothian Club, Chicago, in 1914, when Evans was runner-up with 291.

Evans won the title by a margin of two strokes, for Jack Hutchinson, a Pittsburgh professional, by clipping one stroke from the course record of 69, set by Evans yesterday, turned in a card of 68 for the afternoon round to-day, which gave him a total of 288. J. M. Barnes, the Philadelphia professional, was third with 290. Par for the course is 72, and the course record was 70 until lowered a stroke yesterday by Evans. The distance of the course is 6150 yards.

WARNING TO GOLF CLUBS New York, July 1.—Howard F. Whitney, secretary of the United States Golf Association, made public yesterday a statement by the executive committee of the association declaring that all players whose amateur status has been forfeited under the rules are ineligible to compete in amateur golf tournaments.

"Should any such player be permitted to enter an amateur tournament, a protest filed with the executive committee on this ground would naturally be sustained; therefore, no such player could rightfully be awarded any prize in such a tournament," the statement reads.

Officials of golf clubs were advised to be careful to reject the entry of any player whose amateur status is questioned.
